Israelis Claiming Major Successes

War Tide Reported Turning

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Israeli Air Force struck deep into Syria and Egypt today in what the Arab nations described as the heaviest air raids of the four-day-old Middle East War. Israel also reported another change in the tide of battle with successes along the Suez Canal and in the Golan Heights.

An Israeli military spokesman in Tel Aviv said "a substantial part of the Egyptian army has already been destroyed" on the Suez front. The northern commander announced, "We have broken the spine of the Syrian army...We will carry the battle into the territory of the enemy in a storm."

The optimistic statements were in sharp contrast with more pessimistic appraisals earlier in the day. Spokesmen began backtracking this morning on their yesterday predictions of an early victory while Syria and Egypt were claiming sweeping successes.

The Israeli planes struck at the Syrian army military headquarters in Damascus in the first raid on an Arab capital in this war. Sirens sounded twice in Cairo but there were no air raids and Cairo residents said the Israeli planes bombed airfields near the Suez Canal. The brief alerts sounded at 7:20 a.m. and again at 7:35 p.m.

Israel also hit Syrian oil refineries and power plants, two Egyptian air fields and a Lebanese radar station, military communiques reported. The strike was the first against Lebanon, which has not entered the war. Beirut reported heavy damages and Damascus reported civilian casualties there and in Homs, 100 miles north of Damascus.

Most reports of the fighting came from official spokesmen in Tel Aviv and in the various Arab capitals. So far Western newsmen have not been allowed to visit the actual battlefields for first hand reporting.

Egyptian military communiques said Egyptian forces driving from the Gulf of Suez advanced nine miles into the Israeli-occupied Sinai Peninsula today and fought a sea battle with Israeli warships off the northern coast. Both sides claimed victories in the naval battle.

A communique broadcast by Cairo radio said the Egyptian thrust in the Sinai, advancing all along the 102-mile front, destroyed "all" Israeli positions, sent Israeli forces in retreat and captured hundreds of prisoners, including an Israeli armored brigade commander.

A later military communique reported a fierce battle between Egyptian and Israeli vessels in the Mediterranean. It said the Egyptians sank nine Israeli launches and shot down five

Stinson Beach To Get A Grace Period On Ban

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Stinson Beach property owners racing to beat a ban on new construction will have two extra weeks before the ban can be effective.

The Regional Water Quality Control Board unanimously imposed the ban at its Sept. 25 meeting, declaring it would be effective as of Oct. 31.

State officials, however, today confirmed the assertion by Deputy Marin County Counsel George J. Silvestri Jr. that the ban would be effective only if endorsed by the State Water Resources Control Board. It has 60 days to act, and expects to hear and rule on the issue in Sacramento on Nov. 15. The ban would be effective on that day if approved.

The staff of the regional board conceded it was in error when the Oct. 31 date was set in the order. Most bans imposed by the regional board do not require state board approval, but the Stinson Beach ban does because it is an amendment to the region's water quality control plan.

The kind of ban that regional boards impose themselves apply to sewage systems discharging into state waters. Septic tanks, of course, are not supposed to discharge into adjacent waters — when they work.

Silvestri had said after the regional board vote that the

Engineers Drop Channel Plans For Creek Through Mill Valley

By REBECCA LARSEN

The Army Corps of Engineers has buried the idea of converting Arroyo Corte Madera Del Presidio in Mill Valley from a stream into a concrete water trough.

A report issued to the city earlier this fall and received with almost no comment by city councilmen ended a series of studies and hearings on the creek which the corps had conducted over about 13 years.

During the middle 1960s the prospect of changing the creek was a hot issue in the city.

The report concludes that "under present conditions, no type of structural measures can be economically justified at this time" and advises the city to study more use of flood plain zoning, flood proofing and flood insurance to deal with the creek's overflow in winter rains.

Among structural changes which were studied for the creek — which winds from Richardson Bay to Phoenix Lake — were the building of levees and flood walls, diversion of the stream channel and construction of reservoirs on the arroyo and its tributaries.

The corps estimated the various projects considered would have ranged in cost from $6.4 million to $14.85 million. Any one of them, according to the corps, would have saved Mill Valley residents an average annual total of $140,000 in flood damages.

But, according to a report, a cost-benefit analysis showed that the annual savings would never come close to equaling the annual cost of the project. (The annual cost was computed by dividing the total cost by 50, the number of years in the project's lifetime.)

So the corps concluded that the project was not economically feasible.

One fact the corps left out of the report was that for the first five years in which it studied the Mill Valley Creek, it estimated that the area had much greater flood damage and that the project was economically feasible.

According to Charles E. Murphy, county flood control engineer, the corps started out in 1960 by computing its stream flow figures based on stream gauge measurements on Corte Madera Creek in Ross Valley, which it thought had a similar flow to Arroyo Corte Madera Del Presidio in Mill Valley.

But in 1965, in the middle of

Sunny Skies Forecast Tomorrow

Sunny skies and warmer temperatures were forecast for tomorrow following a three-day storm that brought rain to Marin and Southern Sonoma and some snow to the mountains of Northern California.

During the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today as much as .51 of an inch of rain fell in Marin, with the greatest amount reported in Bolinas. San Rafael in the 24 hours to noon today received .15 of an inch.

Other rainfall figures for the same 24-hour period were Sausalito, .20 of an inch, Mill Valley, .16; Tiburon, 16; Tamalpais Valley, .20; Belvedere, .19; Larkspur, .18, Ross, .17 San Anselmo, .13; Woodacre, .15; Novato, .12, and Petaluma, .12.

The only weather damage reported in Marin yesterday was at the San Rafael Public Library, where rain soaked through the ceiling, damaging plaster. The soaking took place after workmen doing repairs to the building partially removed the roof. (See photo, page 19.)

The weather service said 10 inches of snow fell yesterday on Highway 50 at Echo Summit and eight inches of snow briefly closed Tioga Pass in Yosemite National Park.

As the storm front moved eastward and "sunny skies become more prominent," the weatherman predicted a warming trend with temperatures in the 60s and low 70s.

Nixon Steps Up Efforts To End Mideast Fighting

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon stepped up diplomatic efforts today to halt the Mideast fighting —"now going on at such terrible costs"—and to lay the groundwork to prevent the Arab-Israeli conflict from "breaking out over and over again."

The problem, Nixon said, is not just to stop the fighting but to lay the groundwork for preventing conflict in the Middle East "from breaking out over and over again" as it has over the past 25 years.

Ending the present fighting is the first order but "building a permanent structure of peace" is the ultimate aim, the President said.

The President was briefed on the Mideast by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

A "special action group" of U. S. experts on the Mideast also met to assess the situation.

Nixon's remarks followed disclosure that he was seeking broad international support — including the Soviet Union and mainland China — for a Middle East cease-fire.

The White House said Nixon soon after the outbreak of fighting had initiated an exchange of messages with Soviet Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev through diplomatic channels, and that Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, conferred during the weekend with

The United Jewish Appeal, the major national group raising funds in the U.S. and Canada, said that more than $25 million has been donated in New York alone.

"It's pouring in like crazy," UJA spokesman Gene Jennings said. "We're so swamped, we can't count it. The telephones are jumping."

Kissinger Ties Detente To Mideast Peace Role

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger urged the Soviet Union to play a responsible role in helping to halt the Arab-Israeli fighting in the Middle East.

At the same time, Kissinger emphasized that the relaxation of U.S.-Moscow relations is of paramount importance, and should not be sacrificed by disagreement with Soviet policy on immigration of Russian Jews to Israel.

SECRETARY OF STATE KISSINGER
As he addressed 'Pacem In Terris' meeting

Failure to grant Moscow most-favored-nation trade concessions because of its immigration policy might cause the Soviet Union to end the existing detente and revert to Cold War policies, Kissinger said.

The secretary made these points yesterday in an address to the "Pacem In Terris" conference sponsored by the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions.

"Our policy with respect to detente is clear: We shall resist aggressive foreign policy. Detente cannot survive irresponsibility in any area, including the Middle East," Kissinger said.

Kissinger, who was heckled by several youths objecting to his role in U.S. Vietnam policy, did not mention directly the current fighting in the Middle East. He said only "We meet at a time when renewed conflict in the Middle East reminds us that international stability is always precarious and never to be taken for granted."

He criticized Congress for introducing legislation that would deny most-favored-nation status to any nation that restricts emigration, clearly aimed at the Soviet Union. It has passed the House Ways and Means Committee and is likely to be approved by Congress.

"The demand that Moscow modify its domestic policy as a precondition for most-favored-nation treatment or detente was never made while we were negotiating," Kissinger said. "Now it is inserted after both sides have carefully shaped an overall mosaic. Thus it raises questions about our entire bilateral relationship."

Maneuvers Behind Mideast Resolution

WASHINGTON (UPI) –By voice vote and with little on-the-record debate, a half dozen senators have voted out a resolution on the Middle East which purports to speak for the entire Senate.

Yesterday morning Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., circulated to colleagues a strongly pro-Israel draft resolution. It described the Arab states as aggressors and urged that the United States "give its full diplomatic support to Israel." Sens. Jacob Javitz, R-N.Y., and Henry Jackson, D-Wash., supported it.

Ribicoff showed the draft resolution to Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott. Sources said Scott objected to its language. According to one account, Scott called Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and got from him language of a milder, more neutral draft resolution.

Scott, however, said he and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield drafted an alternate resolution themselves.

Scott and Mansfield brought their resolution to the floor shortly after noon yesterday without telling Ribicoff, sources said.

Under the rules it preempted other resolutions, and a half-dozen senators present in the nearly empty chamber, adopted it by voice vote with little floor discussion.

The resolution said the Senate would "support the use of the good offices of the United States by the President and the secretary of state to urge the participants to bring about a cease-fire and return of the parties involved to lines and positions occupied by them prior to the outbreak of the current hostilities..."

Scott later said Kissinger had told him he found "no fault" with the formula. The administration, later that day, stated much the same position in the United Nations.

Ribicoff said later, "I don't think it's a very good resolution." Jackson and Javits were unavailable to newsmen on the subject, but sources said they were annoyed over the method by which the resolution was passed.

Cycle Daredevil Is Satisfactory

KAUKAUNA, Wis. (UPI) - Evel Knievel, the motorcycle daredevil, was reported in satisfactory condition today after suffering multiple injuries in a 'cycle crash this weekend.

Knievel and his motorcycle crashed on the down ramp after completing a jump over 10 cars and three trucks lined up side by side. Doctors said he suffered possible injuries to the kidney as well as numerous cuts and bruises.

Despite his injuries, Knievel managed to get to a trackside microphone before being taken to the hospital. He told the 6,000 onlookers, "I am too tough to die."

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Controls Rapped

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) have jointly urged President Nixon to immediately end wage-price controls.

In a joint letter, NAM president E. Douglas Kenna and the chamber's chief executive officer, Arch N. Booth, yesterday urged Nixon to "end the entire wage-price control program promptly, without prior notice, and without sector-by-sector phase-out."

They argued that the controls, imposed by the administration in an attempt to curb inflation, had created "shortages and distortions which add to inflationary pressures and prevent business from effectively providing the goods and services needed by our society."

Stennis Gunman

Marshall entered his plea after learning that one of his alleged accomplices planned to testify against him. He said there was "too much evidence" against him.

Acting under a 1971 Supreme Court ruling over objections from government attorneys, U.S. District Judge Joseph C. Waddy let Marshall plead guilty to an eight-county indictment without actually admitting that he committed the crimes.

Typhoon Victims

MANILA (UPI) — More than 800,000 Filipinos on the main island of Luzon were left homeless today by typhoon Nora, relief officials said. A new typhoon, Patsy, was reported in the Pacific heading towards Taiwan.

Two ships in the South China Sea, where Nora was reported at a point 156 miles northwest of Luzon with winds of 115 miles an hour, sent distress signals, maritime officials in Hong Kong reported.

Typhoon Nora was reported by the Manila Weather Bureau to be moving toward China at three miles an hour.

Nol Appeal

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — President Lon Nol today issued an ethnic appeal to all Cambodians to join his forces in expelling Vietnamese Communists from Cambodia.

He said the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were trying to make Cambodians "their slaves and dominate our country and our race."

Lon Nol's appeal was issued on the third anniversary of the Khmer Republic and clearly was directed at both thh Khmer Rouge Cambodian Communists insurgents and opposition elements within the progovernment population.

Slayings Denied

HOUSTON (UPI) — Two youths pleaded innocent yesterday to charges of 10 counts of murder in the sex and sadism slayings of 27 teen-age boys. A preliminary hearing will be held Oct. 23.

Hatten ordered the two to face separate trials, Henley, on Jan. 14, 1974, and Brooks on March 4, 1974.

Strange Copters

SAIGON (UPI) — South Vietnamese Air Force spotter pilots sighted two "mystery helicopters" Friday within 60 miles of Saigon and two truce team helicopters where shot at but not hit, the high command announced today.

"It's too bad only spotter planes did the sighting instead of heavier planes with guns on them," a spokesman remarked.

The Saigon command said what it called "mystery helicopters" were spotted Friday morning near Don Luan, 60 miles north of Saigon, and near Phu Giao, 35 miles north of the capital.

Oil Prices

VIENNA (UPI) — Six of the biggest oil producing countries in the world opened the second stage today of a campaign to force an immediate 66 per cent increase in prices paid by Western oil companies.

Oil sources said the demand could result in the biggest leap in crude oil prices in two years, a move almost certain to affect the American consumer.

The sources said the price hike demand was presented yesterday to 13 Western companies by six states on the Persian Gulf, members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC).

The second stage of the negotiations was scheduled to begin today.

X-Ray Protection Rules Are Proposed For Public

WASHINGTON (UPI) –The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has proposed rules to protect the public from radiation emitted by commercial X-ray machines, including anti-hijacking devices in use at more than 30 major U.S. airports.

The rules would limit how much radiation can be given off in the vicinity of such machines and provide safeguards to prevent accidental exposure.

The X-ray machines involved are those enclosed in cabinets and used for such purposes as authenticating works of art or detecting flaws in solid matter. In recent months they have come into widespread use to screen airline carry-on luggage to detect weapons.

Last month Ralph Nader asked the Federal Aviation Administration to ban the airport use of such devices, saying passengers should not be exposed to them until the government sets safety standards.

Passengers are generally screened by metal detectors which do not employ X-rays. The FDA said the cabinet devices are also being used to uncover contraband at air, rail and bus terminals as well as in civilian and military post offices.

Under the proposal filed yesterday for 60 days of public comment, X-ray emissions could be no higher than 0.5 millliroentgen per hour at a distance of five centimeters, about two inches.

Kissinger Ties Detente To Mideast Peace Role

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger urged the Soviet Union to play a responsible role in helping to halt the Arab-Israeli fighting in the Middle East.

At the same time, Kissinger emphasized that the relaxation of U.S.-Moscow relations is of paramount importance, and should not be sacrificed by disagreement with Soviet policy on immigration of Russian Jews to Israel.

SECRETARY OF STATE KISSINGER
As he addressed 'Pacem In Terris' meeting

Failure to grant Moscow most-favored-nation trade concessions because of its immigration policy might cause the Soviet Union to end the existing detente and revert to Cold War policies, Kissinger said.

The secretary made these points yesterday in an address to the "Pacem In Terris" conference sponsored by the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions.

"Our policy with respect to detente is clear: We shall resist aggressive foreign policy. Detente cannot survive irresponsibility in any area, including the Middle East," Kissinger said.

Kissinger, who was heckled by several youths objecting to his role in U.S. Vietnam policy, did not mention directly the current fighting in the Middle East. He said only "We meet at a time when renewed conflict in the Middle East reminds us that international stability is always precarious and never to be taken for granted."

He criticized Congress for introducing legislation that would deny most-favored-nation status to any nation that restricts emigration, clearly aimed at the Soviet Union. It has passed the House Ways and Means Committee and is likely to be approved by Congress.

"The demand that Moscow modify its domestic policy as a precondition for most-favored-nation treatment or detente was never made while we were negotiating," Kissinger said. "Now it is inserted after both sides have carefully shaped an overall mosaic. Thus it raises questions about our entire bilateral relationship."

Maneuvers Behind Mideast Resolution

WASHINGTON (UPI) –By voice vote and with little on-the-record debate, a half dozen senators have voted out a resolution on the Middle East which purports to speak for the entire Senate.

Yesterday morning Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., circulated to colleagues a strongly pro-Israel draft resolution. It described the Arab states as aggressors and urged that the United States "give its full diplomatic support to Israel." Sens. Jacob Javitz, R-N.Y., and Henry Jackson, D-Wash., supported it.

Ribicoff showed the draft resolution to Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott. Sources said Scott objected to its language. According to one account, Scott called Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and got from him language of a milder, more neutral draft resolution.

Scott, however, said he and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield drafted an alternate resolution themselves.

Scott and Mansfield brought their resolution to the floor shortly after noon yesterday without telling Ribicoff, sources said.

Under the rules it preempted other resolutions, and a half-dozen senators present in the nearly empty chamber, adopted it by voice vote with little floor discussion.

The resolution said the Senate would "support the use of the good offices of the United States by the President and the secretary of state to urge the participants to bring about a cease-fire and return of the parties involved to lines and positions occupied by them prior to the outbreak of the current hostilities..."

Scott later said Kissinger had told him he found "no fault" with the formula. The administration, later that day, stated much the same position in the United Nations.

Ribicoff said later, "I don't think it's a very good resolution." Jackson and Javits were unavailable to newsmen on the subject, but sources said they were annoyed over the method by which the resolution was passed.

Cycle Daredevil Is Satisfactory

KAUKAUNA, Wis. (UPI) - Evel Knievel, the motorcycle daredevil, was reported in satisfactory condition today after suffering multiple injuries in a 'cycle crash this weekend.

Knievel and his motorcycle crashed on the down ramp after completing a jump over 10 cars and three trucks lined up side by side. Doctors said he suffered possible injuries to the kidney as well as numerous cuts and bruises.

Despite his injuries, Knievel managed to get to a trackside microphone before being taken to the hospital. He told the 6,000 onlookers, "I am too tough to die."

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Controls Rapped

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) have jointly urged President Nixon to immediately end wage-price controls.

In a joint letter, NAM president E. Douglas Kenna and the chamber's chief executive officer, Arch N. Booth, yesterday urged Nixon to "end the entire wage-price control program promptly, without prior notice, and without sector-by-sector phase-out."

They argued that the controls, imposed by the administration in an attempt to curb inflation, had created "shortages and distortions which add to inflationary pressures and prevent business from effectively providing the goods and services needed by our society."

Stennis Gunman

Marshall entered his plea after learning that one of his alleged accomplices planned to testify against him. He said there was "too much evidence" against him.

Acting under a 1971 Supreme Court ruling over objections from government attorneys, U.S. District Judge Joseph C. Waddy let Marshall plead guilty to an eight-county indictment without actually admitting that he committed the crimes.

Typhoon Victims

MANILA (UPI) — More than 800,000 Filipinos on the main island of Luzon were left homeless today by typhoon Nora, relief officials said. A new typhoon, Patsy, was reported in the Pacific heading towards Taiwan.

Two ships in the South China Sea, where Nora was reported at a point 156 miles northwest of Luzon with winds of 115 miles an hour, sent distress signals, maritime officials in Hong Kong reported.

Typhoon Nora was reported by the Manila Weather Bureau to be moving toward China at three miles an hour.

Nol Appeal

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — President Lon Nol today issued an ethnic appeal to all Cambodians to join his forces in expelling Vietnamese Communists from Cambodia.

He said the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were trying to make Cambodians "their slaves and dominate our country and our race."

Lon Nol's appeal was issued on the third anniversary of the Khmer Republic and clearly was directed at both thh Khmer Rouge Cambodian Communists insurgents and opposition elements within the progovernment population.

Slayings Denied

HOUSTON (UPI) — Two youths pleaded innocent yesterday to charges of 10 counts of murder in the sex and sadism slayings of 27 teen-age boys. A preliminary hearing will be held Oct. 23.

Hatten ordered the two to face separate trials, Henley, on Jan. 14, 1974, and Brooks on March 4, 1974.

Strange Copters

SAIGON (UPI) — South Vietnamese Air Force spotter pilots sighted two "mystery helicopters" Friday within 60 miles of Saigon and two truce team helicopters where shot at but not hit, the high command announced today.

"It's too bad only spotter planes did the sighting instead of heavier planes with guns on them," a spokesman remarked.

The Saigon command said what it called "mystery helicopters" were spotted Friday morning near Don Luan, 60 miles north of Saigon, and near Phu Giao, 35 miles north of the capital.

Tide Of Middle East War Is Said Turning

Israel reported its naval vessels sank three Egyptian missile boats in the Mediterranean off the Nile Delta and escaped after the attack. Israel also reported damaging Egyptian gunboats in the Gulf of Suez.

An Israeli military command announcement said that while ground fighting swirled on two fronts, Israeli pilots reported "good hits" from their noon (6 a.m. EDT) strikes against the Syrian military headquarters. The command said the raid also hit oil refineries and power stations near homes in northern Syria.

Witnesses in Damascus said the Israeli strike destroyed at least 10 buildings but the Syrian command said Syrian planes drove off the six attacking Phantom jets and shot down four of them. Syria also reported three more Israeli planes downed in other strikes. So far Syria has claimed more than 100 Israeli planes destroyed.

Israel said the strikes at the "strategic targets" were ordered after Syrian gunners targeted Israeli settlements in the occupied Golan Heights with long-range rockets, each capable of traveling 44 miles with 1,100-pound warheads.

Israel said the Lebanese radar station on a mountain peak was being used by the Syrian air force. The Lebanese Ministry of Defense reported heavy damage and said nine Lebanese soldiers were wounded.

Israeli spokesmen said warplanes and ground troops spent the night and early morning hours trying to hold back Syrian thrusts in the heights and Egyptian attempts to reinforce troops across the Suez Canal in the Sinai.

Military spokesmen in Tel Aviv said Israeli warplanes streaked over Egypt today in raids that heavily damaged a string of major Egyptian airfields.

The spokesmen also said Palestinian guerrillas opened a new front on the fourth day of the war launching two ground probes and three shelling attacks out of Lebanon.

The Egyptian military command said its soldiers advanced nine miles into Israeli-occupied Sinai from the Suez Canal and were driving ahead along the whole front with Israeli troops pulling back in disarray.

"A large number of enemy troops ran away, leaving weapons and ammunition behind in their posts," a communique said. "A large number of enemy troops were captured and the number of prisoners is estimated in the hundreds."

Syrian forces reported driving back Israeli attempts to oust them from the Golan Heights and said they hold "numerous positions" in the region.

ARROYO

citizen opposition to the project, the corps had the U.S. Geological Survey install a stream gauge on the arroyo in Mill Valley as well. After a few years of measurements, the corps discovered that the creek's peak discharge at Camino Alto in Mill Valley was 2,350 cubic feet per second, much lower than an estimate of 3,700 cubic feet per second based on measurements at Corte Madera Creek.

In August, 1972, a letter to Mill Valley officials from Col. J. L. Lammie of the corps noted: "Recently completed studies resulted in a marked reduction in our estimate of the average annual flood damages in Mill Valley." In the report issued this year, the corps did not note that it had ever had higher estimates.

Some city officials conclude that if the corps had not put the stream gauge on the creek, the city might have ended up with a concrete creekbed when it didn't need one.

"I was disgusted but not surprised to learn that they went ahead and worked up an elaborate scheme for structural modification of our little creek without even having checked the stream flow data," said Mill Valley Mayor Jean S. Barnard. "It should be an absolute must to know the stream flow."

According to county engineer Murphy, the corps is not required to use stream gauges. "Some perfectly valid assumptions can be made without them," he said. "It's nice to have them, but it's expensive, and they take a long time."

He noted that Coyote Creek in Tamalpais Valley was rechanneled without any measurement of creek flow with a gauge. However, before Corte Madera Creek in Ross was modified, the corps had gauge figures.

Replying to Mayor Barnard, Col. Lammie said "It's highly speculative and erroneous to assume that we would have forced structural modification on Mill Valley against its will. Nothing is done until the local people decide what they want to do."

He said the corps gives many chances for citizens to express opposition at public hearings.

"Even after we get public support and decide a project is feasible, Congress would have to approve funds for construction. While we're waiting for the funds we would re-evaluate the project to see if we have further evidence of support. We have checks and balances all along the way."

county would appeal to the state board, but review of such a ban at the state level is automatic even without an appeal. The ban would become effective after Nov. 25 if the state board failed to act, but this has not happened in the past.

The staff of the regional board had urged the state board to act quickly on the ban. A spokesman for the state board said it was not put on the Oct. 18 or Nov. 1 agenda because the state staff needed time to review the matter.

The spokesman noted the state board traditionally upholds bans imposed by regional boards. He also pointed out that the regional board's action in this case was triggered by a report from the state board's own staff.

The report said more septic tanks would further overload the soil's ability to filter pollution before wastes reach adjacent waters. It was "highly probable" sewage will percolate to the water table and then into adjacent lagoons and the ocean, the report said.

The regional board's action exempted any construction for which a building permit has been issued before the ban is effective. The order also prohibits use of any septic tanks after Oct. 15, 1977.

The Stinson Beach County Water District has objected the community cannot afford to build a sewage system meeting state pollution standards.

Council To Name Open Space Unit

Sausalito city councilmen at 8 p.m. today in city hall are to appoint a citizens' committee to promote a bond election to acquire open space lands.

Committee members will be selected from lists of nominees prepared by each councilman and will represent all geographic areas of the city.

Councilmen also will study a draft of a proposed lease for city hall and consider a suggestion by City Mgr. Thomas P. McKenzie that the council oppose further funding to study a transbay commuter tube between San Francisco and Sausalito.

OBITUARIES

MAURICE DHAENE

Mass of the Resurrection for Maurice J. Dhaene of Marin City, a 33-year resident of Marin County, will be at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at Star of the Sea Catholic Church in Sausalito.

Dhaene of 69 Cole Drive died Sunday in a local convalescent hospital after a long illness. He was 71.

A native of Belgium, Dhaene came to the U.S. in 1916, settling in Minnesota. In 1940, he moved to Sausalito and worked in the Marinship Yards. He later was employed at Nunes Boatshop in Sausalito and after that worked as a machinist for the Northwestern Pacific Railroad in Tiburon until he retired.

Surviving are his wife, Eleanore Dhaene of Marin City; a brother, Harry Dhaene of Monroe, Mich.; two sisters, Matilda Verhaeghe of Monroe and Irma Verhaeghe of Bearst, Belgium. He also leaves five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Friends may call after 9 a.m. tomorrow at Russell and Gooch Funeral Chapel, 270 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley. Burial will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery in San Rafael.

MACK CROSSLIN

Mack A. Crosslin of Carson City, Nev., father of Mack S. Crosslin of Novato, died yesterday in a Novato hospital after a short illness.

Crosslin, 74, was visiting his son at 182 San Carlos Way when he became ill.

He was born in Washington state but had lived most of his life in San Francisco. He worked as a teamster until he retired and moved to Carson City.

He is also survived by another son, Charles Crosslin of Bellingham, Wash.; a daughter, Bernice Monroe of Fontana, San Bernardino County; two stepsons, Robert Hinshaw of Sacramento, and John Hinshaw of Hawaii and many grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 1 p.m., Thursday at N. Gray and Sons in San Francisco. Burial will be in Cypress Lawn Cemetery, Colma.

The general lines of U.S. policy urging return of Israeli, Egyptian and Syrian forces to positions they held before the fighting began Saturday emerged yesterday as a half-dozen senators, on a nearly empty Senate floor, adopted by voice vote a Middle East peace resolution purporting to speak for the entire Senate.

The resolution was introduced by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Republican Leader Hugh Scott. It took on significance beyond the handful of senators who pushed it through when Scott indicated to newsmen that the administration supported it.

The resolution expressed the "sense of the Senate" that the United States urge a cease-fire and "a return of the parties involved to lines and positions occupied by them prior to the outbreak of current hostilities..."

Butcher Admits Stealing Meat

A butcher who pleaded guilty to stealing $500 worth of meat from an Ignacio supermarket has been sentenced to 90 days in jail and placed on probation for two years.

Charles Edward Metrano, 29, of Sonoma, drew the sentence from Judge Gary W. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court, who declared the offense a misdemeanor.

Novato police said they linked Metrano to the disappearance of meat between May 5 and 15 from the Safeway market in Ignacio.

IRENE HART

Mrs. Hart, 50, was born and reared in Kentucky. She lived in Cincinnati, Ohio, before moving to Petaluma in 1962.

Mrs. Hart had worked as a practical nurse at the Crestview Convalescent Hospital, Petaluma, for five years. She was the wife of Charles Hart, a carpenter, and lived at 155 Webster Street.

She is also survived by two sons, Gary L. Hart of Petaluma and William E. Hart of Santa Rosa; a sister, Betty Hensen of Monterey; two brothers, Nathan Irvin of Harlan, Ky., and Junior Irvin of Cincinnati, and a grandson.

Funeral will be Thursday at 11 a.m. at Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma. Burial will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

JOHN MURRAY

John Francis Murray, 30-year-old Fairfax school custodian, died last night after collapsing at a friend's home.

The Marin County coroner's office said Murray spent last evening celebrating his birthday, which had been Sunday, at the home of a friend on Bolinas Road in Fairfax, and became unconscious. Police were called and took him to Marin General Hospital, where he was dead on arrival at 10:55 p.m.

Coroner's Investigator Keith C. Craig said the cause of death was not known and an autopsy was to be performed. He said Murray had a history of bronchitis and asthma.

Murray was born in New Jersey. Among other schools, he attended Pasadena College.

He had been a custodian at Deer Park School for three years.

Among his survivors are his wife Linda, of the family home at 140 Willow Street, Apt. 2, and one child. A second child is due soon.

CELIA RONCONI

Funeral for Celia Ronconi, a lithographer who lived in Larkspur for the past 15 years, will be held tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. at the Green Street Mortuary in San Francisco.

She died Sunday in a Kentfield convalescent home after a lingering illness. She was 64.

Born and reared in San Francisco, she worked there for many years helping to create engravings in preparation for printing. Her husband Albert P. Ronconi, of the family home at 72 Harvard Drive, is also a lithographer. They were married 39 years ago.

Survivors also include two sisters, Norma Del Tradici and Elanor Quilici both of Larkspur, five nieces and one nephew.

Requiem High Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Sts. Peter's and Paul's Church, San Francisco. Rosary will be recited tonight at 8 p.m.

Burial will be in Italian Cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM

GARGIULO, JOE F. — In loving memory of JOE F. GARGIULO.

It has been four years since you left us to be with mother in Heaven.

Your generous nature and ability to see the humorous side of life made many hearts lighter and days brighter. You gave much pleasure to all.

You left us a priceless legacy of love, compassion and concern for people. These qualities are alive in our hearts and active in our lives.

SADLY MISSED BY YOUR FAMILY

BEEDLE, MARY — In loving memory of MARY BEEDLE, who passed away OCTOBER 9, 1964.

Dear Mary, you are not forgotten,
Though on earth you are no more;
Still in memory you are with us,
As you always were before.

Tide Of Middle East War Is Said Turning

Israel reported its naval vessels sank three Egyptian missile boats in the Mediterranean off the Nile Delta and escaped after the attack. Israel also reported damaging Egyptian gunboats in the Gulf of Suez.

An Israeli military command announcement said that while ground fighting swirled on two fronts, Israeli pilots reported "good hits" from their noon (6 a.m. EDT) strikes against the Syrian military headquarters. The command said the raid also hit oil refineries and power stations near homes in northern Syria.

Witnesses in Damascus said the Israeli strike destroyed at least 10 buildings but the Syrian command said Syrian planes drove off the six attacking Phantom jets and shot down four of them. Syria also reported three more Israeli planes downed in other strikes. So far Syria has claimed more than 100 Israeli planes destroyed.

Israel said the strikes at the "strategic targets" were ordered after Syrian gunners targeted Israeli settlements in the occupied Golan Heights with long-range rockets, each capable of traveling 44 miles with 1,100-pound warheads.

Israel said the Lebanese radar station on a mountain peak was being used by the Syrian air force. The Lebanese Ministry of Defense reported heavy damage and said nine Lebanese soldiers were wounded.

Israeli spokesmen said warplanes and ground troops spent the night and early morning hours trying to hold back Syrian thrusts in the heights and Egyptian attempts to reinforce troops across the Suez Canal in the Sinai.

Military spokesmen in Tel Aviv said Israeli warplanes streaked over Egypt today in raids that heavily damaged a string of major Egyptian airfields.

The spokesmen also said Palestinian guerrillas opened a new front on the fourth day of the war launching two ground probes and three shelling attacks out of Lebanon.

The Egyptian military command said its soldiers advanced nine miles into Israeli-occupied Sinai from the Suez Canal and were driving ahead along the whole front with Israeli troops pulling back in disarray.

"A large number of enemy troops ran away, leaving weapons and ammunition behind in their posts," a communique said. "A large number of enemy troops were captured and the number of prisoners is estimated in the hundreds."

Syrian forces reported driving back Israeli attempts to oust them from the Golan Heights and said they hold "numerous positions" in the region.

ARROYO

citizen opposition to the project, the corps had the U.S. Geological Survey install a stream gauge on the arroyo in Mill Valley as well. After a few years of measurements, the corps discovered that the creek's peak discharge at Camino Alto in Mill Valley was 2,350 cubic feet per second, much lower than an estimate of 3,700 cubic feet per second based on measurements at Corte Madera Creek.

In August, 1972, a letter to Mill Valley officials from Col. J. L. Lammie of the corps noted: "Recently completed studies resulted in a marked reduction in our estimate of the average annual flood damages in Mill Valley." In the report issued this year, the corps did not note that it had ever had higher estimates.

Some city officials conclude that if the corps had not put the stream gauge on the creek, the city might have ended up with a concrete creekbed when it didn't need one.

"I was disgusted but not surprised to learn that they went ahead and worked up an elaborate scheme for structural modification of our little creek without even having checked the stream flow data," said Mill Valley Mayor Jean S. Barnard. "It should be an absolute must to know the stream flow."

According to county engineer Murphy, the corps is not required to use stream gauges. "Some perfectly valid assumptions can be made without them," he said. "It's nice to have them, but it's expensive, and they take a long time."

He noted that Coyote Creek in Tamalpais Valley was rechanneled without any measurement of creek flow with a gauge. However, before Corte Madera Creek in Ross was modified, the corps had gauge figures.

Replying to Mayor Barnard, Col. Lammie said "It's highly speculative and erroneous to assume that we would have forced structural modification on Mill Valley against its will. Nothing is done until the local people decide what they want to do."

He said the corps gives many chances for citizens to express opposition at public hearings.

"Even after we get public support and decide a project is feasible, Congress would have to approve funds for construction. While we're waiting for the funds we would re-evaluate the project to see if we have further evidence of support. We have checks and balances all along the way."

county would appeal to the state board, but review of such a ban at the state level is automatic even without an appeal. The ban would become effective after Nov. 25 if the state board failed to act, but this has not happened in the past.

The staff of the regional board had urged the state board to act quickly on the ban. A spokesman for the state board said it was not put on the Oct. 18 or Nov. 1 agenda because the state staff needed time to review the matter.

The spokesman noted the state board traditionally upholds bans imposed by regional boards. He also pointed out that the regional board's action in this case was triggered by a report from the state board's own staff.

The report said more septic tanks would further overload the soil's ability to filter pollution before wastes reach adjacent waters. It was "highly probable" sewage will percolate to the water table and then into adjacent lagoons and the ocean, the report said.

The regional board's action exempted any construction for which a building permit has been issued before the ban is effective. The order also prohibits use of any septic tanks after Oct. 15, 1977.

The Stinson Beach County Water District has objected the community cannot afford to build a sewage system meeting state pollution standards.

Council To Name Open Space Unit

Sausalito city councilmen at 8 p.m. today in city hall are to appoint a citizens' committee to promote a bond election to acquire open space lands.

Committee members will be selected from lists of nominees prepared by each councilman and will represent all geographic areas of the city.

Councilmen also will study a draft of a proposed lease for city hall and consider a suggestion by City Mgr. Thomas P. McKenzie that the council oppose further funding to study a transbay commuter tube between San Francisco and Sausalito.

OBITUARIES

MAURICE DHAENE

Mass of the Resurrection for Maurice J. Dhaene of Marin City, a 33-year resident of Marin County, will be at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at Star of the Sea Catholic Church in Sausalito.

Dhaene of 69 Cole Drive died Sunday in a local convalescent hospital after a long illness. He was 71.

A native of Belgium, Dhaene came to the U.S. in 1916, settling in Minnesota. In 1940, he moved to Sausalito and worked in the Marinship Yards. He later was employed at Nunes Boatshop in Sausalito and after that worked as a machinist for the Northwestern Pacific Railroad in Tiburon until he retired.

Surviving are his wife, Eleanore Dhaene of Marin City; a brother, Harry Dhaene of Monroe, Mich.; two sisters, Matilda Verhaeghe of Monroe and Irma Verhaeghe of Bearst, Belgium. He also leaves five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Friends may call after 9 a.m. tomorrow at Russell and Gooch Funeral Chapel, 270 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley. Burial will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery in San Rafael.

MACK CROSSLIN

Mack A. Crosslin of Carson City, Nev., father of Mack S. Crosslin of Novato, died yesterday in a Novato hospital after a short illness.

Crosslin, 74, was visiting his son at 182 San Carlos Way when he became ill.

He was born in Washington state but had lived most of his life in San Francisco. He worked as a teamster until he retired and moved to Carson City.

He is also survived by another son, Charles Crosslin of Bellingham, Wash.; a daughter, Bernice Monroe of Fontana, San Bernardino County; two stepsons, Robert Hinshaw of Sacramento, and John Hinshaw of Hawaii and many grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 1 p.m., Thursday at N. Gray and Sons in San Francisco. Burial will be in Cypress Lawn Cemetery, Colma.

Butcher Admits Stealing Meat

A butcher who pleaded guilty to stealing $500 worth of meat from an Ignacio supermarket has been sentenced to 90 days in jail and placed on probation for two years.

Charles Edward Metrano, 29, of Sonoma, drew the sentence from Judge Gary W. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court, who declared the offense a misdemeanor.

Novato police said they linked Metrano to the disappearance of meat between May 5 and 15 from the Safeway market in Ignacio.

IRENE HART

Mrs. Hart, 50, was born and reared in Kentucky. She lived in Cincinnati, Ohio, before moving to Petaluma in 1962.

Mrs. Hart had worked as a practical nurse at the Crestview Convalescent Hospital, Petaluma, for five years. She was the wife of Charles Hart, a carpenter, and lived at 155 Webster Street.

She is also survived by two sons, Gary L. Hart of Petaluma and William E. Hart of Santa Rosa; a sister, Betty Hensen of Monterey; two brothers, Nathan Irvin of Harlan, Ky., and Junior Irvin of Cincinnati, and a grandson.

Funeral will be Thursday at 11 a.m. at Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma. Burial will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

JOHN MURRAY

John Francis Murray, 30-year-old Fairfax school custodian, died last night after collapsing at a friend's home.

The Marin County coroner's office said Murray spent last evening celebrating his birthday, which had been Sunday, at the home of a friend on Bolinas Road in Fairfax, and became unconscious. Police were called and took him to Marin General Hospital, where he was dead on arrival at 10:55 p.m.

Coroner's Investigator Keith C. Craig said the cause of death was not known and an autopsy was to be performed. He said Murray had a history of bronchitis and asthma.

Murray was born in New Jersey. Among other schools, he attended Pasadena College.

He had been a custodian at Deer Park School for three years.

Among his survivors are his wife Linda, of the family home at 140 Willow Street, Apt. 2, and one child. A second child is due soon.

CELIA RONCONI

Funeral for Celia Ronconi, a lithographer who lived in Larkspur for the past 15 years, will be held tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. at the Green Street Mortuary in San Francisco.

She died Sunday in a Kentfield convalescent home after a lingering illness. She was 64.

Born and reared in San Francisco, she worked there for many years helping to create engravings in preparation for printing. Her husband Albert P. Ronconi, of the family home at 72 Harvard Drive, is also a lithographer. They were married 39 years ago.

Survivors also include two sisters, Norma Del Tradici and Elanor Quilici both of Larkspur, five nieces and one nephew.

Requiem High Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Sts. Peter's and Paul's Church, San Francisco. Rosary will be recited tonight at 8 p.m.

Burial will be in Italian Cemetery.

Van Camp Floats A Trial Balloon

Brian Van Camp, 33, California's commissioner of corporations, has launched a trial balloon as candidate for secretary of state next year.

The incumbent secretary, Edmund G. Brown Jr., is seeking the Democrqtic nomination for governor in next year's race.

Van Camp, appointed to his $31,500-a-year post by Gov. Ronald Reagan in 1971, previously was assistant and then acting secretary of the state Business and Transportation Agency.

A Republican, he was considered in May by the White House for appointment as chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

BRIAN VAN CAMP
Considers state race

Van Camp, in a visit to the Independent-Journal, estimated he will need $500,000 for both the primary and general elections — if he wins his party's nomination in June. He stressed he will decline contributions from anyone holding a license from his office or applying for one. He added that he already has returned $2,000 in contributions from corporations.

He noted that while corporations are prohibited from contributing to candidates in federal elections, they are not barred in state elections.

He said other possible candidates for the GOP nomination for secretary of state are: James L. Flournoy of Los Angeles, the party's nominee for the post in 1970; Wendell T. Handy of Inglewood, Los Angeles County; Lake County Clerk-Recorder James L. Shinn and South Pasadena City Councilman Michael B. Montgomery. Also mentioned for the race has been former congressman John G. Schmitz of Tustin, Orange County. Van Camp lives in Sacramento.

Van Camp said the Democratic nomination may be sought by Sen. Alan Short, D-Stockton. Also reportedly interested in the nomination is Catherine O'Neill of Los Angeles, who last November almost defeated Sen. Robert S. Stevens, R-Los Angeles.

A press statement by Van Camp, noting he is the youngest corporations commissioner in state history, pointed out he already had experience in the secretary of state's office as a deputy attorney general assigned to the office in the late 1960s.

It said that under Brown the time needed to record and file incoming documents has gone from one or two days to three weeks. Van Camp contrasted this with his claim that permits processed by his office are handled "as much as 25 per cent faster than before, though we have a smaller staff and budget than we had when I started."

Van Camp said he has a staff of 300 persons.

Australian To Launch Paper In New York

LONDON (UPI) -Australian publishing tycoon Rupert Murdoch, owner of The Sun and The Sunday News of The World in Britain, will launch a new weekly newspaper in the United States, the trade journal United Kingdom Press Gazette said yesterday.

His target date for publishing is the beginning of February, the Press Gazette said in its "Dateline America" column.

It said Murdoch and a team of top executives were in the United States, had begun recruiting staff and had taken office space on Third Avenue in New York City.

It said Murdoch had earmarked $200 million to launch the newspaper and had an initial target circulation of at least one million copies.

Murdoch aides in London declined comment.

Senator Will Not Seek Second Term

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. William E. Saxbe, R-Ohio, a one-term senator, announced today he will not seek reelection in 1974 for "mostly personal" reasons which he did not define.

Saxbe, 57, a critic of the effectiveness of Congress, told a news conference his decision was based more on the concern he and his wife Dollie, "have with the rest of our life, as opposed to any personal frustrations."

PG&E Continues Plant Search

BAKERSFIELD (UPI) — Pacific Gas & Electric Co. is intensifying its search for suitable nuclear power plant sites in Northern California, according to the firm's vice president for planning and research.

Barton Shackelford said yesterday that geological studies over 13,000 square miles have to take environmental factors and sources of water for cooling in consideration.

PG&E recently abandoned plans for a nuclear plant near Cape Mendocino in Humboldt County following environmentalists arguments that the area was prone to earthquakes and thus unsafe because of possible radiation leakage.

The Good Neighbor Policy Pays

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)— Mrs. Nancy Cooley is glad she has neighbors who do not mind becoming involved.

Mrs. Cooley and her husband were at work yesterday when three men pulled into her driveway and started carrying out television sets, a vacuum cleaner and other appliances.

Mrs. Dot King, a next-door neighbor, saw what was happening and called Carl Tinsley, who runs a nearby service station.

Tinsley, armed with a pistol, came roaring up in his wrecker and blocked the men on the dead-end street. In the meantime, a number of other neighbors, some of them also armed, flocked to the scene.

"When the guys started back up the street all my neighbors held their guns on them until the police arrived," Mrs. Cooley said.

Arrested on second-degree burglary charges were Vernon Hendon, 22, Harold Lunsford, 22, and Robert E. Lunsford, 42, all of Nashville.

"A lot of neighbors just won't get involved in something like this, but mine were right in there," said Mrs. Cooley.

Dump Campaign

BIRMINGHAM, England (UPI) — The Birmingham Pharmaceutical Society has mounted a campaign to persuade people to dump or turn in surplus drugs and medicines. It already has collected more than 7 million tablets and capsules, including a collection from one house that filled three wheelbarrows.

Cape Canaveral Name Supported

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A committee of the government board responsible for geographic names recommended unanimously today that Cape Kennedy be changed back to the historic name of Cape Canaveral.

The recommendation would apply only to the geographic cape in Florida and would not change the name of the John F. Kennedy Space Center located on the cape and on a nearby island.

Chairman William D. Overstreet, chairman of the Domestic Names Committee of the Board of Geographic Names, said the action would be rushed to Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton, who would have authority to make official the renaming of the historic geographic site.

Historians believe the cape was originally called Canaveral by the Spanish explorer Ponce de Leon 400 years ago when he was searching for the Fountain of Youth. The name was changed shortly after President Kennedy was assassinated in 1963.

The Florida legislature already has changed the name to Canaveral so far as the state is concerned.

Another Labor Leader Is Slain

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Another labor leader was shot to death yesterday in the resort city of Mar del Plata. It was the fourth assassination since the return to power of Juan D. Peron.

Police said that Julian Julio, secretary of a local union of bus drivers, was shot down by two gunmen in a bus terminal. His assailants escaped. Two other union men were wounded.

Australian To Launch Paper In New York

LONDON (UPI) -Australian publishing tycoon Rupert Murdoch, owner of The Sun and The Sunday News of The World in Britain, will launch a new weekly newspaper in the United States, the trade journal United Kingdom Press Gazette said yesterday.

His target date for publishing is the beginning of February, the Press Gazette said in its "Dateline America" column.

It said Murdoch and a team of top executives were in the United States, had begun recruiting staff and had taken office space on Third Avenue in New York City.

It said Murdoch had earmarked $200 million to launch the newspaper and had an initial target circulation of at least one million copies.

Murdoch aides in London declined comment.

Senator Will Not Seek Second Term

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. William E. Saxbe, R-Ohio, a one-term senator, announced today he will not seek reelection in 1974 for "mostly personal" reasons which he did not define.

Saxbe, 57, a critic of the effectiveness of Congress, told a news conference his decision was based more on the concern he and his wife Dollie, "have with the rest of our life, as opposed to any personal frustrations."

PG&E Continues Plant Search

BAKERSFIELD (UPI) — Pacific Gas & Electric Co. is intensifying its search for suitable nuclear power plant sites in Northern California, according to the firm's vice president for planning and research.

Barton Shackelford said yesterday that geological studies over 13,000 square miles have to take environmental factors and sources of water for cooling in consideration.

PG&E recently abandoned plans for a nuclear plant near Cape Mendocino in Humboldt County following environmentalists arguments that the area was prone to earthquakes and thus unsafe because of possible radiation leakage.

The Good Neighbor Policy Pays

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Mrs. Nancy Cooley is glad she has neighbors who do not mind becoming involved.

Mrs. Cooley and her husband were at work yesterday when three men pulled into her driveway and started carrying out television sets, a vacuum cleaner and other appliances.

Mrs. Dot King, a next-door neighbor, saw what was happening and called Carl Tinsley, who runs a nearby service station.

Tinsley, armed with a pistol, came roaring up in his wrecker and blocked the men on the dead-end street. In the meantime, a number of other neighbors, some of them also armed, flocked to the scene.

"When the guys started back up the street all my neighbors held their guns on them until the police arrived," Mrs. Cooley said.

Arrested on second-degree burglary charges were Vernon Hendon, 22, Harold Lunsford, 22, and Robert E. Lunsford, 42, all of Nashville.

"A lot of neighbors just won't get involved in something like this, but mine were right in there," said Mrs. Cooley.

Dump Campaign

BIRMINGHAM, England (UPI) — The Birmingham Pharmaceutical Society has mounted a campaign to persuade people to dump or turn in surplus drugs and medicines. It already has collected more than 7 million tablets and capsules, including a collection from one house that filled three wheelbarrows.

Cape Canaveral Name Supported

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A committee of the government board responsible for geographic names recommended unanimously today that Cape Kennedy be changed back to the historic name of Cape Canaveral.

The recommendation would apply only to the geographic cape in Florida and would not change the name of the John F. Kennedy Space Center located on the cape and on a nearby island.

Chairman William D. Overstreet, chairman of the Domestic Names Committee of the Board of Geographic Names, said the action would be rushed to Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton, who would have authority to make official the renaming of the historic geographic site.

Historians believe the cape was originally called Canaveral by the Spanish explorer Ponce de Leon 400 years ago when he was searching for the Fountain of Youth. The name was changed shortly after President Kennedy was assassinated in 1963.

The Florida legislature already has changed the name to Canaveral so far as the state is concerned.

Another Labor Leader Is Slain

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Another labor leader was shot to death yesterday in the resort city of Mar del Plata. It was the fourth assassination since the return to power of Juan D. Peron.

Police said that Julian Julio, secretary of a local union of bus drivers, was shot down by two gunmen in a bus terminal. His assailants escaped. Two other union men were wounded.

Judge Pushes On In Agnew Probe

BALTIMORE (UPI) —Judge Walter E. Hoffman, determined to resist further delays in a federal investigation of Spiro T. Agnew, rejected a request yesterday by newsmen for postponement of their replies to newsleak subpoenas, federal court sources said today.

Hoffman wasted no time turning down a petition by a group of reporters who asked that they be allowed an extra week, until Oct. 18, to respond to subpoenas to tell the vice president's lawyers sources of news leaks about the investigation.

Lawyers for the reporters under subpoena are expected to file a motion tomorrow to quash the subpoenas on grounds of violation of their First Amendment freedom-of-the-press rights.

Court sources said Hoffman was insistent on the grand jury pressing ahead with its inquiry of charges involving kickbacks, with only 17 days remaining before the statutory limit expires on some of the allegations.

There was no word on who the grand jury would be hearing when it resumes its investigation. Security continued tight at the federal court house where it meets. The Justice Department argued Friday that Agnew was subject to indictment while in office, contrary to his contention of immunity.

Besides the constitutional immunity claim, Agnew's lawyers sought to halt the investigation on grounds of prejudicial publicity due to leaks about progress of the inquiry which Agnew charged came primarily from the Justice Department.

In addition to the reporters' request for a one-week delay from Thursday in replying formally to subpoenas, the Justice Department yesterday called the Agnew publicity claims frivolous, and asked Hoffman to reverse his decision allowing subpoenas to be issued to newsmen.

The department said it was willing to allow top officials to answer questions under oath from Agnew lawyers about news leaks, but described the subpoenas for newsmen as "fishing expeditions."

The reporters' brief was filed with the federal court clerk who went to his office to accept it although the courthouse was closed for the Columbus Day holiday.

Hoffman, reported staying in a motel in Alexandria, Va., was said to have notified the clerk he was turning down the petition and was quoted: "I am not going to grant an extension on anything. There will be no hearing."

Hoffman normally sits in the U. S. district court for eastern Virginia at Norfolk. He was assigned as supervising judge for the grand jury inquiry into an alleged kickback scheme of Maryland politics after all federal judges in Maryland disqualified themselves.

UN Divided On Action In Mideast

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The U.N. Security Council sought ways yesterday of ending the renewed Middle East fighting but, as expected, was sharply divided on how to do so and heard no concrete proposals for stopping it.

The session, called at U.S. urging, lasted 90 minutes before breaking off without taking any action. No time was set for another meeting.

U.S. Ambassador John Scali said conditions must be restored in the area that could lead to a settlement of hostilities that have broken into open warfare four times in 25 years.

"A beginning must be made toward converting the sharp confrontation of violently opposing claims and counterclaims, which for over a quarter of a century has made true stability impossible, to a more reasonable discourse aimed at genuine reconciliation," Scali said.

"The least damaging way to bring this about is to have the parties concerned return to the positions before hostilities broke out," he said, but did not suggest such a withdrawal as a formal proposal.

"Definitive judgments as to constructive action are difficult in view of the fluidity of the situation," he said. "My government has itself made no such judgments."

However, Chinese Ambassador Huang Hua seized upon Scali's informal suggestion and derided it.

Watergate Panel Hears Ex-FBI Agent Admit To Muskie Spying

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A former FBI agent told the Senate Watergate committee today how he arranged last year, while on the federal government payroll, to spy on Sen. Edmund S. Muskie's presidential campaign headquarters.

John R. Buckley, 53, testified that he was director of the inspection division of the Office of Economic Opportunity when he hired a cab driver to volunteer as a courier for Muskie and then arranged to photograph documents the cabbie carried from Muskie's downtown Washington headquarters to his Senate office.

Buckley said his superiors at the OEO knew nothing of his clandestine activities. He said he was recruited for the job by Ken Rietz, who headed the Young Voters For Nixon division of the Committee to Reelect the President (CRP).

Buckley said he personally developed the film and turned it over every nine or 10 days at street corner meetings first with Rietz and later with a man known to him as "Ed Warren." Buckley said he subsequently learned "Ed Warren" was E. Howard Hunt, an organizer of the CRP campaign of political espionage, and convicted Watergate conspirator.

Buckley said he spent $8,000 on the Muskie spy operation, most of it paid to the cabbie, Elmer Wyatt. Buckley asked that he not be required to mention Wyatt's name because "he is of advanced age and has been ill," but the request was refused.

At a closed meeting prior to this morning's public session, the committee voted to hear testimony from Frank Mankiewicz, a top official of George S. McGovern's campaign, and the manager of Muskie's campaign, Berl I. Bernhard, on Thursday.

Republican staff members of the committee have previously questioned Mankiewicz and other figures in the McGovern and Muskie organizations as part of an effort to turn the hearings away from the investigation of GOP sabotage activities of Democrats to focus on possible questionable tactics by Democrats toward Republicans.

Buckley, whose code name was "Fat Jack" and was described as a liaison for a plant in the Muskie headquarters, was summoned as leadoff witness today.

He told committee investigators in advance of his appearance that he gave political documents, provided by a taxi driver planted in Muskie headquarters, to Hunt.

The committee had intended to hear first today Michael McMinoway, who under the code name of "Sedan Chair II' was said to have spied on McGovern, Muskie and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey. McMinoway's appearance was postponed until tomorrow because his lawyer's plane was grounded by bad weather at Louisville, Ky.

The committee also plans to take testimony this week from Fred Taugher, identified as McGovern campaign coordinator in California. Chief Counsel Samuel Dash said Taugher's testimony would substantiate a testimony made by H. R. Haldeman, President Nixon's former chief of staff, that McGovern telephones in Los Angeles were used to recruit anti-Nixon demonstrators during a presidential campaign visit to California.

Dash said that after a recess, the committee would hear testimony from Gary Hart, Denver lawyer who ran McGovern's campaign, and from Clark MacGregor, who became Nixon's campaign manager after John N. Mitchell resigned from that post.

Preserves Food

MANILA (UPI) — The storage life of vegetables can be extended by exposing them to controlled amounts of Gamma Rays of Cobalt 60, according to the Philippine Bureau of Plant Industry which has conducted research in the field.

Sacramento Shows Drop In Building

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The capital's construction boom is slowing down after two years of unparalleled growth with builders laying the blame on high interest rates.

"It appears that those who don't need a house right this minute are postponing their decision," said Steve Brock, marketing director for M.J. Brock and Sons, one of the region's largest home builders.

Richard Franza, sales director for McKeon Construction, said October business was "down considerably" from August. He said plans for at least one new housing subdivision have been put on the shelf until the market picks up.

"All the publicity of the interest rate, the prime rate and the overall money mwrket has made the buyer hesitant," he said.

A recent report from McGraw Hill research said new home construction in the counties of Sacramento, Yolo and Placer is down 20 per cent this year.

"This is also a time when sales drop off in general," said Bill Mazza of Taylor-Mazza Inc., a building firm. "When school starts we expect a drop. Of course this is much bigger than normal. Our traffic is down 20 per cent from Sept. 1.

"We're tightening the belt and reducing our work force. There still is a strong demand, but many people are waiting on the sidelines."

Judge Pushes On In Agnew Probe

BALTIMORE (UPI) —Judge Walter E. Hoffman, determined to resist further delays in a federal investigation of Spiro T. Agnew, rejected a request yesterday by newsmen for postponement of their replies to newsleak subpoenas, federal court sources said today.

Hoffman wasted no time turning down a petition by a group of reporters who asked that they be allowed an extra week, until Oct. 18, to respond to subpoenas to tell the vice president's lawyers sources of news leaks about the investigation.

Lawyers for the reporters under subpoena are expected to file a motion tomorrow to quash the subpoenas on grounds of violation of their First Amendment freedom-of-the-press rights.

Court sources said Hoffman was insistent on the grand jury pressing ahead with its inquiry of charges involving kickbacks, with only 17 days remaining before the statutory limit expires on some of the allegations.

There was no word on who the grand jury would be hearing when it resumes its investigation. Security continued tight at the federal court house where it meets. The Justice Department argued Friday that Agnew was subject to indictment while in office, contrary to his contention of immunity.

Besides the constitutional immunity claim, Agnew's lawyers sought to halt the investigation on grounds of prejudicial publicity due to leaks about progress of the inquiry which Agnew charged came primarily from the Justice Department.

In addition to the reporters' request for a one-week delay from Thursday in replying formally to subpoenas, the Justice Department yesterday called the Agnew publicity claims frivolous, and asked Hoffman to reverse his decision allowing subpoenas to be issued to newsmen.

The department said it was willing to allow top officials to answer questions under oath from Agnew lawyers about news leaks, but described the subpoenas for newsmen as "fishing expeditions."

The reporters' brief was filed with the federal court clerk who went to his office to accept it although the courthouse was closed for the Columbus Day holiday.

Hoffman, reported staying in a motel in Alexandria, Va., was said to have notified the clerk he was turning down the petition and was quoted: "I am not going to grant an extension on anything. There will be no hearing."

Hoffman normally sits in the U. S. district court for eastern Virginia at Norfolk. He was assigned as supervising judge for the grand jury inquiry into an alleged kickback scheme of Maryland politics after all federal judges in Maryland disqualified themselves.

UN Divided On Action In Mideast

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The U.N. Security Council sought ways yesterday of ending the renewed Middle East fighting but, as expected, was sharply divided on how to do so and heard no concrete proposals for stopping it.

The session, called at U.S. urging, lasted 90 minutes before breaking off without taking any action. No time was set for another meeting.

U.S. Ambassador John Scali said conditions must be restored in the area that could lead to a settlement of hostilities that have broken into open warfare four times in 25 years.

"A beginning must be made toward converting the sharp confrontation of violently opposing claims and counterclaims, which for over a quarter of a century has made true stability impossible, to a more reasonable discourse aimed at genuine reconciliation," Scali said.

"The least damaging way to bring this about is to have the parties concerned return to the positions before hostilities broke out," he said, but did not suggest such a withdrawal as a formal proposal.

"Definitive judgments as to constructive action are difficult in view of the fluidity of the situation," he said. "My government has itself made no such judgments."

However, Chinese Ambassador Huang Hua seized upon Scali's informal suggestion and derided it.

Watergate Panel Hears Ex-FBI Agent Admit To Muskie Spying

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A former FBI agent told the Senate Watergate committee today how he arranged last year, while on the federal government payroll, to spy on Sen. Edmund S. Muskie's presidential campaign headquarters.

John R. Buckley, 53, testified that he was director of the inspection division of the Office of Economic Opportunity when he hired a cab driver to volunteer as a courier for Muskie and then arranged to photograph documents the cabbie carried from Muskie's downtown Washington headquarters to his Senate office.

Buckley said his superiors at the OEO knew nothing of his clandestine activities. He said he was recruited for the job by Ken Rietz, who headed the Young Voters For Nixon division of the Committee to Reelect the President (CRP).

Buckley said he personally developed the film and turned it over every nine or 10 days at street corner meetings first with Rietz and later with a man known to him as "Ed Warren." Buckley said he subsequently learned "Ed Warren" was E. Howard Hunt, an organizer of the CRP campaign of political espionage, and convicted Watergate conspirator.

Buckley said he spent $8,000 on the Muskie spy operation, most of it paid to the cabbie, Elmer Wyatt. Buckley asked that he not be required to mention Wyatt's name because "he is of advanced age and has been ill," but the request was refused.

At a closed meeting prior to this morning's public session, the committee voted to hear testimony from Frank Mankiewicz, a top official of George S. McGovern's campaign, and the manager of Muskie's campaign, Berl I. Bernhard, on Thursday.

Republican staff members of the committee have previously questioned Mankiewicz and other figures in the McGovern and Muskie organizations as part of an effort to turn the hearings away from the investigation of GOP sabotage activities of Democrats to focus on possible questionable tactics by Democrats toward Republicans.

Buckley, whose code name was "Fat Jack" and was described as a liaison for a plant in the Muskie headquarters, was summoned as leadoff witness today.

He told committee investigators in advance of his appearance that he gave political documents, provided by a taxi driver planted in Muskie headquarters, to Hunt.

The committee had intended to hear first today Michael McMinoway, who under the code name of "Sedan Chair II' was said to have spied on McGovern, Muskie and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey. McMinoway's appearance was postponed until tomorrow because his lawyer's plane was grounded by bad weather at Louisville, Ky.

The committee also plans to take testimony this week from Fred Taugher, identified as McGovern campaign coordinator in California. Chief Counsel Samuel Dash said Taugher's testimony would substantiate a testimony made by H. R. Haldeman, President Nixon's former chief of staff, that McGovern telephones in Los Angeles were used to recruit anti-Nixon demonstrators during a presidential campaign visit to California.

Dash said that after a recess, the committee would hear testimony from Gary Hart, Denver lawyer who ran McGovern's campaign, and from Clark MacGregor, who became Nixon's campaign manager after John N. Mitchell resigned from that post.

Sacramento Shows Drop In Building

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The capital's construction boom is slowing down after two years of unparalleled growth with builders laying the blame on high interest rates.

"It appears that those who don't need a house right this minute are postponing their decision," said Steve Brock, marketing director for M.J. Brock and Sons, one of the region's largest home builders.

Richard Franza, sales director for McKeon Construction, said October business was "down considerably" from August. He said plans for at least one new housing subdivision have been put on the shelf until the market picks up.

"All the publicity of the interest rate, the prime rate and the overall money mwrket has made the buyer hesitant," he said.

A recent report from McGraw Hill research said new home construction in the counties of Sacramento, Yolo and Placer is down 20 per cent this year.

"This is also a time when sales drop off in general," said Bill Mazza of Taylor-Mazza Inc., a building firm. "When school starts we expect a drop. Of course this is much bigger than normal. Our traffic is down 20 per cent from Sept. 1.

"We're tightening the belt and reducing our work force. There still is a strong demand, but many people are waiting on the sidelines."

GOP Pitch To Giacomini Is Denied

If anyone on the Marin County Republican Central Committee asked Supervisor Gary T. Giacomini about running for the Assembly, its chairman said today, the feeler was strictly unofficial.

Bert D. Inman of Greenbrae acknowledged it was possible that some members of the committee made approaches to persons they considered a potential candidate, but he stressed it would have been done without the committee's knowledge or endorsement.

Inman's statement was aimed at Erik M. Ingram's "Reporter's Notebook" in yesterday's Independnet-Journal, which said the committee "sent out a feeler" to Giacomini about running for the seat being vacated by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

(Inman announced last March he had appointed 11 committee members to pick, groom and promote candidates for both nonpartisan and partisan elections. He conceded then that such a committee could violate the state law that prohibits central committees from making endorsements of candidates before primary elections.

(It is common knowledge that central committees informally push favored candidates before primary elections, but steer clear of the law by avoiding official action. One prominent Republican told the I-J today that if the central committee were not out finding candidates, it ought to be.)

Inman said the committee "has not authorized any approach to Giacomini or anybody else. We have not made any move to find a candidate if Mr. Bagley decides to run for higher office, as we understand he will."

Bagley is running for state controller.

Ingram's column said Giacomini was approached after Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. showed a lack of interest in seeking Bagley's seat. It said Giacomini turned down the offer.

No Leads In Bank Robbery

HAMILTON, Ala. (UPI) — FBI agents said yesterday they had "no firm leads" to three men who held a banker and his family hostage for a day until the bank opened, then escaped with several thousand dollars.

Jack Woods, executive vice president of the Marion County Banking Co., and his family returned home from church Sunday to find two gunmen at their home. A third gunman joined them later in the night, police said.

Police said that, early Monday, two of the men took Woods to his bank while the third man drove north with Mrs. Woods and her teen-aged son.

After Woods turned over the money, police said the bandits joined up north of town, freed their hostages unharmed and fled north along U.S. 43.

Supervisors To Aid Novato On Hamilton

Marin County supervisors agreed today to work with the City of Novato on a joint plan for use of surplus properties at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The joint plan, required by the Air Force as a condition for direct release of the properties, must show generally how the city and county will use the lands and facilities.

If the city and county fail to act, the land will be turned over to the federal General Services Administration for disposition to other federal and state agencies and finally public auction.

At stake are 477 acres including 152 housing units, the noncommissioned officers club, hangers, shops, swimming pool, tennis courts and other facilities.

Supervisors unanimously appointed four persons — William Long of the county planning commission, Martin Mackey of the Ecumenical Association for Housing, Theodore C. Wellman of Kentfield and Edward B. MacGuire, president of the county chamber of commerce — to a committee to work on the plan.

The committee was created several months ago by the City of Novato to study land uses at Hamilton and the new county additions, requested by Novato, will enlarge the body from eight members to 12.

Local groups and various county departments, meanwhile, have been asked to submit their ideas on various uses of the surplus property.

Marinwood Open Space Sheet Due

How open space in the Marinwood hills shall be used will be put to residents in the form of a questionnaire, Marinwood park and recreation commissioners decided last night.

The land will comprise some 350 acres to be purchased from funds allocated from a $600,000 bond issue approved by voters.

To be determined is whether overnight camping should be allowed and whether horses should continue to graze there.

Robert Flynn, president of the Redwood Home Owners Association told commissioners the association's board would aid in preparation of a questionnaire and submit plans Nov. 12.

Some 85 acres of property has already been purchased from owners for the open space project.

The Marinwood Parks and Recreation Commission also:

CLASSES — Received a financial report stating summer swim classes had netted $1,000 more than expected and that the summer day camp brought in $6,200, which was $2,500 more than anticipated.

POOL — Was informed that a chlorine check will be made of the Marinwood community pool, daily now that the chlorinator has been repaired.

STORAGE — Asked architect David Paoli, a commission member, to prepare a design for a new 5-by-10-foot storage shed to house swim team lanes.

LANDSCAPE — Authorized funds to provide greenery for a small area of Las Gallinas Park near Miller Creek Road and areas hit by frost damage with the cost estimated to be less than $100.

LUAU — Canceled a luau in the park scheduled for next weekend but set no new date.

FENCE — Declined to authorize the building of a fence between Las Gallinas Park and the Raymond Brau property, 25 Las Gallinas Avenue, to discourage vandalism on the grounds that it would set a precedent. The move was suggested by residents protesting a recent outbreak of juvenile vandalism.

PARK — Rejected a suggestion by residents near Las Gallinas Park that the ground be closed from dusk to dawn.

OVERTIME — Recommended that park and recreation department heads receive overtime pay only for extraordinary duties.

BRIDGE — Instructed Genevieve Bolding, secretary and business manager of the Marinwood Community Services District, to contact the reserve unit of the Army Corps of Engineers to urge it to complete a pedestrian bridge from Las Gallinas Park to Miller Creek Junior High School, which had been started two years ago.

Arias, Duets To Be Given Friday

A program of operatic arias and duets with soprano Thelma Dickson, tenor Carl Meggers and pianist Fae McNally will be presented Friday at 8:00 p.m. at the San Rafael Improvement Club, Fifth and H streets, San Rafael.

Thelma Dickson has been heard frequently in recital and as soloist in opera and oratorio.

Carl Meggers performed in recital and on television in his homeland, Panama, and has appeared with the Manhattan Opera Theater in New York City. He was tenor soloist in "Madame Butterfly" at the Inverness Music Festival.

Fae McNally founded the Inverness Music Festival and was director of the festival for several years after.

$2,000 Worth Of Equipment Stolen

Construction equipment valued at $2,000 was stolen in San Rafael sometime during the past year, according to its owner, police reported today.

Lenard E. Weisenburg Jr. told police the equipment had been in storage at 2031 Francisco Boulevard for about a year but was found to be missing yesterday.

Suede Is Facing Fake Competition

NEW YORK (UPI) — Suede, a classic among leathers, has new competition from a material that's frankly fake.

It's Ultrasuede, which you can toss into a washing machine, tumble dry it, or have it dry-cleaned like the real thing. It has all the attributes of the real product, say its creators, the Skinner Division, Springs Mills. There is one catch—so far the material is available in a relatively small number of stores and only a few top designers have the fabric. And, there's the cost— about $17 a yard. But the mills hope to have the material available soon to meet all demands including those of the home seamstress.

$2,000 Worth Of Equipment Stolen

Construction equipment valued at $2,000 was stolen in San Rafael sometime during the past year, according to its owner, police reported today.

Lenard E. Weisenburg Jr. told police the equipment had been in storage at 2031 Francisco Boulevard for about a year but was found to be missing yesterday.

Suede Is Facing Fake Competition

NEW YORK (UPI) — Suede, a classic among leathers, has new competition from a material that's frankly fake.

It's Ultrasuede, which you can toss into a washing machine, tumble dry it, or have it dry-cleaned like the real thing. It has all the attributes of the real product, say its creators, the Skinner Division, Springs Mills. There is one catch—so far the material is available in a relatively small number of stores and only a few top designers have the fabric. And, there's the cost— about $17 a yard. But the mills hope to have the material available soon to meet all demands including those of the home seamstress.

GOLDEN HINDE AT LONDON TOWER BRIDGE

Plymouth-bound where she will spend the winter before departing for America, this replica of the Golden Hinde will anchor in waters of Sir Francis Drake's home port. Built as a floating museum for the San Francisco waterfront, the ship has just completed a two-week stay in London where some 35,000 visitors inspected it. The vessel Drake sailed around the world in 1577-80 stopping, according to many historians, at Drake's Bay in Marin for repairs.

Hughes Link To Rebozo Is Reported

A News dispatch quoted the sources as saying $100,000 of the Hughes money went to the Nixon campaign via Rebozo in two equal installments, one in 1969 and the other in 1970.

The newspaper said it has learned the committee subpoenaed the records of four Florida hotels in its investigation, and that it is believed to be investigating the records of Air West, a Hughes-owned airline operating in Western states.

The story did not identify either its sources or the hotels.

It said "information linking Hughes money not only to the Nixon campaign but also to the campaigns of several prominent Democrats" is expected to appear during the third phase of the committee's investigation of the 1972 campaign.

Elderly Cautioned To Get Flu Shots

SACRAMENTO (UPI) -State Health Director J.M. Stubblebine has warned elderly and chronically ill Californians to obtain flu shots to protect themselves against an expected influenza outbreak by December.

Stubblebine yesterday also said limited national production of vaccines to combat English and Hong Kong "B-type" viruses "may create temporary shortages in some localities."

Masters Remap Proposal Rapped As Unfair To Four Congressmen

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Rep. Paul N. McCloskey, R-Calif., charged yesterday that a special masters' reapportionment proposal would harm three fellow Republican congressmen and one Democrat.

McCloskey said in a brief filed with the state Supreme Court that the plan would remove 139,051 constituents from Rep. Phillip Burton, D-Calif.

In turn, according to the brief, 135,476 would be shifted from Burton's district to William S. Mailliard's, the brief said.

McCloskey said the political effect would be to make Mailliard's San Francisco-Marin district so heavily Democratic that he could have great difficulty in winning a 12th term.

However, the lawmaker said, Burton's district was so overwhelmingly Democratic that even the infusion of thousands of GOP voters would not seriously affect his chances of winning re-election.

McCloskey said there would be "great benefit in preserving constituent-representative relationships where possible." He added that only 2,897 persons need to be transferred to equalize the two San Francisco districts.

"Wholly without regard to protecting incumbent members," the congressman told the court, "the experience gained through the years by a congressman is of tremendous benefit to both the nation and his constituents.

"I doubt that Congressman Mailliard's 10 years of experience with the Maritime and Foreign Affairs committees could be duplicated by anyone with less than a minimum of 10 years service in Congress."

Mailliard is the ranking Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

The brief said the masters recommended the change in Mailliard's district to have congressional lines follow boundaries of Assembly districts. This, it added, would mean "removing a third of his historic constituency...merely to satisfy an artificial principle."

McCloskey advanced similar arguments on behalf of Republican Reps. Bob Wilson, Victor Veysey and Democrat Lionel van Deerlin.

The masters submitted their plan to the Supreme Court on Aug. 31. The final order will follow on the filing of protests.

The court appointed the masters after the legislature and Gov. Ronald Reagan failed to reach agreement on how to remap congressional and legislative districts to reflect population changes.

Add Almonds To Shortage List

The failure of the Italian crop, a limited Spanish crop and a weather-caused production drop in California—which grows nearly half the world's supply—have created an international insatiable almond demand and a higher price, estimated at twice last year's.

The total worldwide demand for 1973 will be about 360 million pounds, but production will be only 325 million pounds, Roger Baccigaluppi, California Almond Growers' Exchange marketing executive, said in an interview.

"Obviously you're going to have a shortage. Some people aren't going to stockpile and some are going to stop using them," Baccigaluppi said. "This will be particularly true of major industry users considering almonds for confectionery products or cake mixes.

"As far as the American consumer going to the store to buy them, she's not going to have trouble finding them, but she's going to pay for them," he added.

But Baccigaluppi also called the low production for 1973 "a single year situation" and predicted the price would level off in the future.

The California almond crop was cut from an expected 200 million shelled pounds to about 155 million because of bad weather during the critical pollen months of February and March.

The Sacramento-based exchange, which represents 4,600 growers and about 70 per cent of all production in California, paid its members an average 65.5 cents per pound last year. That figure is expected to double this year—and be passed onto the consumer at the same rate

Baccigaluppi said the retail price would equate on a worldwide basis with the American consumer having to pay more for the local product and overseas customers will be paying less in terms of real dollars.

Of the 155 million pound product expected this year in California, one half will go to domestic U.S. use, which broken down is 35 per cent for candy, 25 per cent for cooking and snacks, 12 per cent for ice cream and the rest for a variety of items.

The other half, Baccigaluppi said, will bz exported to such countries as Japan, West Germany, Sweden, France and Russia.

"Almonds are at a new plateau. Demand for almonds themselves has risen at the same time almonds have been caught up in the wave of worldwide demand for virtually everything we produce agriculturally," he said.

Next year, if the weather holds, California could produce up to 225 million pounds.

GOLDEN HINDE AT LONDON TOWER BRIDGE

Plymouth-bound where she will spend the winter before departing for America, this replica of the Golden Hinde will anchor in waters of Sir Francis Drake's home port. Built as a floating museum for the San Francisco waterfront, the ship has just completed a two-week stay in London where some 35,000 visitors inspected it. The vessel Drake sailed around the world in 1577-80 stopping, according to many historians, at Drake's Bay in Marin for repairs.

Add Almonds To Shortage List

The failure of the Italian crop, a limited Spanish crop and a weather-caused production drop in California—which grows nearly half the world's supply—have created an international insatiable almond demand and a higher price, estimated at twice last year's.

The total worldwide demand for 1973 will be about 360 million pounds, but production will be only 325 million pounds, Roger Baccigaluppi, California Almond Growers' Exchange marketing executive, said in an interview.

"Obviously you're going to have a shortage. Some people aren't going to stockpile and some are going to stop using them," Baccigaluppi said. "This will be particularly true of major industry users considering almonds for confectionery products or cake mixes.

"As far as the American consumer going to the store to buy them, she's not going to have trouble finding them, but she's going to pay for them," he added.

But Baccigaluppi also called the low production for 1973 "a single year situation" and predicted the price would level off in the future.

The California almond crop was cut from an expected 200 million shelled pounds to about 155 million because of bad weather during the critical pollen months of February and March.

The Sacramento-based exchange, which represents 4,600 growers and about 70 per cent of all production in California, paid its members an average 65.5 cents per pound last year. That figure is expected to double this year—and be passed onto the consumer at the same rate

Baccigaluppi said the retail price would equate on a worldwide basis with the American consumer having to pay more for the local product and overseas customers will be paying less in terms of real dollars.

Of the 155 million pound product expected this year in California, one half will go to domestic U.S. use, which broken down is 35 per cent for candy, 25 per cent for cooking and snacks, 12 per cent for ice cream and the rest for a variety of items.

The other half, Baccigaluppi said, will bz exported to such countries as Japan, West Germany, Sweden, France and Russia.

"Almonds are at a new plateau. Demand for almonds themselves has risen at the same time almonds have been caught up in the wave of worldwide demand for virtually everything we produce agriculturally," he said.

Next year, if the weather holds, California could produce up to 225 million pounds.

Hughes Link To Rebozo Is Reported

A News dispatch quoted the sources as saying $100,000 of the Hughes money went to the Nixon campaign via Rebozo in two equal installments, one in 1969 and the other in 1970.

The newspaper said it has learned the committee subpoenaed the records of four Florida hotels in its investigation, and that it is believed to be investigating the records of Air West, a Hughes-owned airline operating in Western states.

The story did not identify either its sources or the hotels.

It said "information linking Hughes money not only to the Nixon campaign but also to the campaigns of several prominent Democrats" is expected to appear during the third phase of the committee's investigation of the 1972 campaign.

Masters Remap Proposal Rapped As Unfair To Four Congressmen

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Rep. Paul N. McCloskey, R-Calif., charged yesterday that a special masters' reapportionment proposal would harm three fellow Republican congressmen and one Democrat.

McCloskey said in a brief filed with the state Supreme Court that the plan would remove 139,051 constituents from Rep. Phillip Burton, D-Calif.

In turn, according to the brief, 135,476 would be shifted from Burton's district to William S. Mailliard's, the brief said.

McCloskey said the political effect would be to make Mailliard's San Francisco-Marin district so heavily Democratic that he could have great difficulty in winning a 12th term.

However, the lawmaker said, Burton's district was so overwhelmingly Democratic that even the infusion of thousands of GOP voters would not seriously affect his chances of winning re-election.

McCloskey said there would be "great benefit in preserving constituent-representative relationships where possible." He added that only 2,897 persons need to be transferred to equalize the two San Francisco districts.

"Wholly without regard to protecting incumbent members," the congressman told the court, "the experience gained through the years by a congressman is of tremendous benefit to both the nation and his constituents.

"I doubt that Congressman Mailliard's 10 years of experience with the Maritime and Foreign Affairs committees could be duplicated by anyone with less than a minimum of 10 years service in Congress."

Mailliard is the ranking Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

The brief said the masters recommended the change in Mailliard's district to have congressional lines follow boundaries of Assembly districts. This, it added, would mean "removing a third of his historic constituency...merely to satisfy an artificial principle."

McCloskey advanced similar arguments on behalf of Republican Reps. Bob Wilson, Victor Veysey and Democrat Lionel van Deerlin.

The masters submitted their plan to the Supreme Court on Aug. 31. The final order will follow on the filing of protests.

The court appointed the masters after the legislature and Gov. Ronald Reagan failed to reach agreement on how to remap congressional and legislative districts to reflect population changes.

Elderly Cautioned To Get Flu Shots

SACRAMENTO (UPI) -State Health Director J.M. Stubblebine has warned elderly and chronically ill Californians to obtain flu shots to protect themselves against an expected influenza outbreak by December.

Stubblebine yesterday also said limited national production of vaccines to combat English and Hong Kong "B-type" viruses "may create temporary shortages in some localities."

Newlyweds Take A Trip To Africa

Mr. and Mrs. Oleg Kaluzhny (Vicki Lee Hawthorne) are on a wedding trip to Africa following their marriage Sept. 29 at Christ Episcopal Church in Sausalito.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Robert Leyton of San Ramon and Roy Hawthorne of Walnut Creek, and the bridegroom's parents are Alex Kaluzhny of Beverly Hills and Frances Kaluzhny of San Francisco.

Maid of honor at the wedding was Sue Engelken of Berkeley, and the bridegroom's brother, Ernest Kaluzhny of Larkspur, was best man. Guests were ushered to their seats by Bob Clark of Sausalito and Doug Glen of Mill Valley.

A reception at the home of the bride's mother and step father, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leyton, in San Ramon followed the ceremony.

Vicki was graduated from Ignacio Valley High School and California State University, San Diego. Mrs. Alma Karlberg of Galena, Ill., is her grandmother. The bride is a stewardess.

Oleg is a graduate of George Washington High School in San Francisco and California State University, San Francisco. He owns Oleg's Restaurant in Berkeley. His sisters are Marie Ann Bastien and Sandie Beavon.

The newlyweds will live in Larkspur.

THE INWARD HOUSE

Taliesin Called Wright's Best

(EDITOR'S NOTE — To architect Frank Lloyd Wright housing had to do more than shelter. This second of five articles on "The Inward House" tells of a Wright-designed house embodying this ideal that was recently built at Scottsdale, Ariz.)

By MARILYN HOFFMAN
The Christian Science Monitor News Service

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. — Frank Lloyd Wright believed that residential space should provide privacy and refuge as well s stimulation and excitement. The "inward house," the late architect contended, should always be uplifting, interesting and poetic.

The house was designed by Wright in 1938, but it was finally built at Taliesin West last fall. Bruce Brooks Pfeiffer, director of archives for the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation, acted as project architect. He shares ownership with his father, Arthur E. Pfeiffer.

Here is a structure that embodies the basic values which Wright strived to express. They are values for which more and more people hunger in an increasingly crowded world.

Wright, who based all his architecture on the principle of the sovereignty of the individual, said his aim was to bring both delight and dignity to every-day life. And, for that, he proved one does not begin with a look but a feel. How does — or should — a house feel? The "feel" became that extra dimension put there by spiritual values that enrich and ennoble. He believed that wood and stone, steel and glass could be assembled in a way that would "invite the soul, elevate the heart, and restore the spirit."

BECAUSE HE insisted that a housework well for its inhabitants and that it function with comfort and convenience, his next question would inevitably be, "How does it live?"

He demonstrated that a shelter could enclose without confining, that one culd have a sense of being protected, yet not feel shut in.

The Pfeiffer site and the house's location on it were selected to give complete privacy as well as to exploit the vista — mountains 20 miles to the south-southeast beyond thousands of acres of untouched desert and the foothill against which the house is built.

"The house was first designed for a bachelor in California who wished to make provision for house guests, separated from his own living space, as well as for himself," says Pfeiffer. That property was bordered closely by neighbors on either side, but extended in one long direction, with an ocean view. The same conditions of close neighbors do not apply to us. But the same need for privacy does."

To the north, where the road approaches the house, privacy is provided by a six-foot garden wall. To the east, against the rising foothill the lounge windows are clear glass. To the west where the drive curves and enters the car court, a gate between two large columns offers visual protection from this angle. And that leaves the magnificent view to the south.

The gently curved roadway to the house was laid out so that cars enter from behind the house and then turn into the side. They neither obstruct the view nor intrude on privacy.

"AS LONG as I have known Mr. Wright," says Pfeiffer, "this has been my favorite house plan. It is a space concept so far ahead of its time that it was new 35 years ago and it will be new 100 years from now.

"This advanced concept of living space composed entirely of circles, connected by a covered patio, was an idea and a form that conservative clients and contractors could not understand. They backed away."

Mrs. Wright, widow of the architect who died in 1959, took a great personal interest in the construction of this dwelling. She terms it her own personal "dream house" and designated the desert site which it now occupies. She says, "This is a house of the future, set upon the Arizona desert as though it were spun out of materials from another planet."

It was, in fact, Olgivanna Lloyd Wright who first suggested to her husband that he design a house based entirely on circles.

She reminded him that everything in nature is always circular — the trees, vines, flowers, winds, waves, she said, come in circles, arcs, and curves. He countered that he thought the square, the triangle, the hexagon, and the rectangle, the shapes of pure geometry, were the truer elements of architecture. He added that he observed that snowflakes and other crystals were not round, but angular.

"But crystals," Mrs. Wright replied, "are dead, not living things." She must have made her point, for within weeks he presented to her the plan for this very house-of-circles now built by the Pfeiffers. During his 74-year career, Wright designed some 1,000 buildings and 600 were built, including the Marin Civic Center and Hall of Justice.

FURNISHINGS IN the Arizona dream house are sparse and the atmosphere uncluttered in line with the Wrightian premise: "Let the ornament and pattern of our houses be an integral part of the architecture, rather than an applied afterthought. Let us eliminate from our homes all that is neither personally useful nor personally beautiful."

Given this credo, almost all the furnishings and equipment are built in. The custom cabinetwork throughout — including kitchen cabinets, drawers, closets, wardrobes, desks, shelves, and seats — is luan mahogany in a light tan finish, all built on the curve. Pfeiffer calls the $11,000 cost reasonable in view of retail furniture prices today. (Total cost of the house including furnishings and landscaping, but not the land, was $130,000.)

As to how his circular house lives, Pfeiffer says, "I wake up every morning and pinch myself to see if it's all real. It is so beautiful and gives me such joy! I don't see now how people can live in square rooms. Mr. Wright, as you know, was trying to avoid right-angle corners, both horizontally and vertically, and he manages it completely in these circular rooms."

Speaking generally of Wright's views on privacy, Pfeiffer said, "In his later houses he opened them to private gardens if in the city and to dramatic views otherwise. The entrance was always the screened side of the house, inviting but protecting occupants from view of those approaching. Often narrow, slot windows relieved the long blank walls facing the public side of the house. Sometimes clerestory windows above the eye of the passerby admitted light without sacrificing the privacy of the owner.

"CONVENTIONAL AMERICAN houses of the time when he was building put windows on all sides regardless of the lack of privacy afforded the inhabitants. Later came the large picture windows, facing the street, which further exposed the occupants. In Mr. Wright's houses there was always a sense of shelter provided by the broad roofs and by the very shape of the buildings themselves. He designed no glass boxes for his clients. Glass was used but it was protected."

To the north, where the road approaches the house, privacy is provided by a six-foot garden wall. To the east, against the rising foothill the lounge windows are clear glass. To the west where the drive curves and enters the car court, a gate between two large columns offers visual protection from this angle. And that leaves the magnificent view to the south.

The gently curved roadway to the house was laid out so that cars enter from behind the house and then turn into the side. They neither obstruct the view nor intrude on privacy.

"AS LONG as I have known Mr. Wright," says Pfeiffer, "this has been my favorite house plan. It is a space concept so far ahead of its time that it was new 35 years ago and it will be new 100 years from now.

"This advanced concept of living space composed entirely of circles, connected by a covered patio, was an idea and a form that conservative clients and contractors could not understand. They backed away."

Mrs. Wright, widow of the architect who died in 1959, took a great personal interest in the construction of this dwelling. She terms it her own personal "dream house" and designated the desert site which it now occupies. She says, "This is a house of the future, set upon the Arizona desert as though it were spun out of materials from another planet."

It was, in fact, Olgivanna Lloyd Wright who first suggested to her husband that he design a house based entirely on circles.

She reminded him that everything in nature is always circular — the trees, vines, flowers, winds, waves, she said, come in circles, arcs, and curves. He countered that he thought the square, the triangle, the hexagon, and the rectangle, the shapes of pure geometry, were the truer elements of architecture. He added that he observed that snowflakes and other crystals were not round, but angular.

"But crystals," Mrs. Wright replied, "are dead, not living things." She must have made her point, for within weeks he presented to her the plan for this very house-of-circles now built by the Pfeiffers. During his 74-year career, Wright designed some 1,000 buildings and 600 were built, including the Marin Civic Center and Hall of Justice.

FURNISHINGS IN the Arizona dream house are sparse and the atmosphere uncluttered in line with the Wrightian premise: "Let the ornament and pattern of our houses be an integral part of the architecture, rather than an applied afterthought. Let us eliminate from our homes all that is neither personally useful nor personally beautiful."

Given this credo, almost all the furnishings and equipment are built in. The custom cabinetwork throughout — including kitchen cabinets, drawers, closets, wardrobes, desks, shelves, and seats — is luan mahogany in a light tan finish, all built on the curve. Pfeiffer calls the $11,000 cost reasonable in view of retail furniture prices today. (Total cost of the house including furnishings and landscaping, but not the land, was $130,000.)

As to how his circular house lives, Pfeiffer says, "I wake up every morning and pinch myself to see if it's all real. It is so beautiful and gives me such joy! I don't see now how people can live in square rooms. Mr. Wright, as you know, was trying to avoid right-angle corners, both horizontally and vertically, and he manages it completely in these circular rooms."

Speaking generally of Wright's views on privacy, Pfeiffer said, "In his later houses he opened them to private gardens if in the city and to dramatic views otherwise. The entrance was always the screened side of the house, inviting but protecting occupants from view of those approaching. Often narrow, slot windows relieved the long blank walls facing the public side of the house. Sometimes clerestory windows above the eye of the passerby admitted light without sacrificing the privacy of the owner.

"CONVENTIONAL AMERICAN houses of the time when he was building put windows on all sides regardless of the lack of privacy afforded the inhabitants. Later came the large picture windows, facing the street, which further exposed the occupants. In Mr. Wright's houses there was always a sense of shelter provided by the broad roofs and by the very shape of the buildings themselves. He designed no glass boxes for his clients. Glass was used but it was protected."

ALL CURVATURE, this house designed by the late Frank Lloyd Wright was finally built last fall in Scottsdale, Ariz., at Taliesin West. It embodies the values of privacy, refuge and spiritual values that the architect strived to express.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES PATRICK BURKE

Burkes To Live In Miami, Fla.

Sondra Kay Archer became the bride of James Patrick Burke of Miami, Fla., in a Sept. 29 evening rite at St. John the Baptist Catholic Church in Napa.

Mrs. Ray Myhre of Phoenix, Ariz., was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were the bride's cousins, Barbara and Madeline Hoffman of El Paso, Tex., and Mrs. Bruce Crile of Tucson, Ariz.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Parker A. Archer of Napa, formerly of Marin, and she is a graduate of Marin Catholic High School and the University of Arizona. She taught school in Germany and in Sonoma.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Georgia Institute of Technology and is a pilot for Eastern Airlines.

He is the son of Mrs. James Burke of Atlanta, Ga., and the late Captain Burke.

The couple will live in Miami, Fla.

Pleats Are Back

Pleats are back on the fall scene. So are circular skirts, after several seasons of the straight and narrow.

GENERATION RAP

by Helen and Sue Bottel

How Does Broke, Jobless Girl, 16, Get Along As A Runaway?

RAP:

I'm a 16-year-old girl and I'm leaving home. I mean packing up and leaving, without my parents' knowledge. I won't try to explain my reasons but they're good ones. Besides, it would take up too much space.

Trouble is, I don't have any place to go or any money. Is there a way I can get enough money to keep me from starving, and do runaways have any chance of getting jobs?

I don't want to be a bum but I can't live here two more years. I'd rather be dead. — UNSIGNED

UNSIGNED:

Two more years in a miserable home might be better than two years on the road — if you live that long. Bad things can happen to a 16-year-old girl with no money and no place to go.

Instead, why not:

1. Look for a job so that you can be out of the house as much as possible.

2. Find an adult you can talk to and trust — the parent of a friend, perhaps. With even one person on your side, problems won't seem so black.

3. With the help of your friend or counselor, reason out the real trouble at home. If you can't change things, at least you'll learn to face them.

4. And always remember, two years is a very small part of your life. Take each day as a challenge, accomplish as much as you can, look toward the future and prepare yourself for it, and don't dwell on injustices. "The road" has its share of them too. — HELEN AND SUE

DEAR HELEN:

I'm 18. Was married at 17. We were real happy until a friend of mine moved in with us. I trusted him, but he fed my wife some lies about me having an affair.

So my wife started drinking more and more. One night she came home late and very drunk. I couldn't stand it so I slapped her to bring her out of it. (This had happened two or three times before.)

Now she's been gone for three weeks and she tells everybody I'm a wife-beater. I never hit a woman before in my life and I never will again!

Please tell me how I can get her back. I love and need her, but every time I try talking to her, her boyfriend is around. — SORRY

SORRY:

Why don't you ask her to dinner — for one last talk? Then let out all the stops. Send flowers with a loving note (but not too many apologies — she was in the wrong too), and make reservations at a favorite restaurant that brings back lots of memories for you both. If this doesn't work well, take it, Mom. . . SUE

DEAR SORRY:

Let's be realistic: Your wife: 1. Would rather believe a man "friend" than her husband; 2. Drinks too much. 3. Stays out too late and comes home sloshed. 4. Leaves you and gets another boyfriend almost immediately (or did she already have him?; and 5. Blames it all on you!

Try the dinner routine if you wish, but don't grovel! You deserve an apology too. — HELEN

DEAR HELEN AND SUE:

I'm seriously considering joining the Women's Air Corps, as I think I could learn from it and also see the world. Here's my problem: I've been going with a guy for eight months, but we both know we can't marry for a long, long time. Should I stay home and wait for him, or leave for four years and expect him to wait? If he doesn't (or I don't) we'll know it wasn't meant to be, and if it's real, it will last. Is this a good test, or am I dumb to leave? — CONFUSED

DEAR CON:

Do I read "escape" between the lines? Don't expect young love to outlast a four year separation — but then you don't really want it to, do you? — HELEN

CON:

So join the WAFS and see the world — and hope you don't get stuck in Texas! — SUE

Got a problem? Or a subject for discussion, two-generation style? Direct your questions to either Sue or Helen Bottel — or both, in care of the Independent-Journal, if you want a combination mother-daughter answer.

HERE'S A major and minor use of one handsome design in floor covering — the "Toscana" area rug by Egetaepper. Although designed for separate use, such as living room and hall, the large and small versions make great roommates.

INSIDE YOUR HOME

Don't Limit Use Of Rugs In Home

By CAROLYN S. MURRAY
Distributed by General Features Corp.

Many of today's area rugs are works of art. Unfortunately, we just don't tend to use them as such. But in today's room setting we find an original idea in rug use and seating arrangement.

The space is on the seventh floor of a city apartment building, so you know there is little that is unique about the floor plan or architectural detailing. You could find this room's twin in every city. The renters wanted to do some simple things to change this interior from the carbon copies on every floor in the building.

Step one was the installation of shiny vinyl flooring and the creation of a raised floor section against one wall. Step two included the design and building of vertical storage units from this raised section to the ceiling.

There are bonuses in starting at this level. For one thing, it eliminates bending down to books on lower shelves and provides a step-up spot for the higher shelves. For another, the shelves work as a backrest supporting the young couple's next idea of creating seating on the raised floor section.

Suddenly they realized that this raised area worked much like a hearth, so they shopped for and found a plug-in electric fireplace. To add a look of realism, they covered the wall in back of the fireplace with mock brick (sometimes referred to as studio brick because the movie studios used it in abundance).

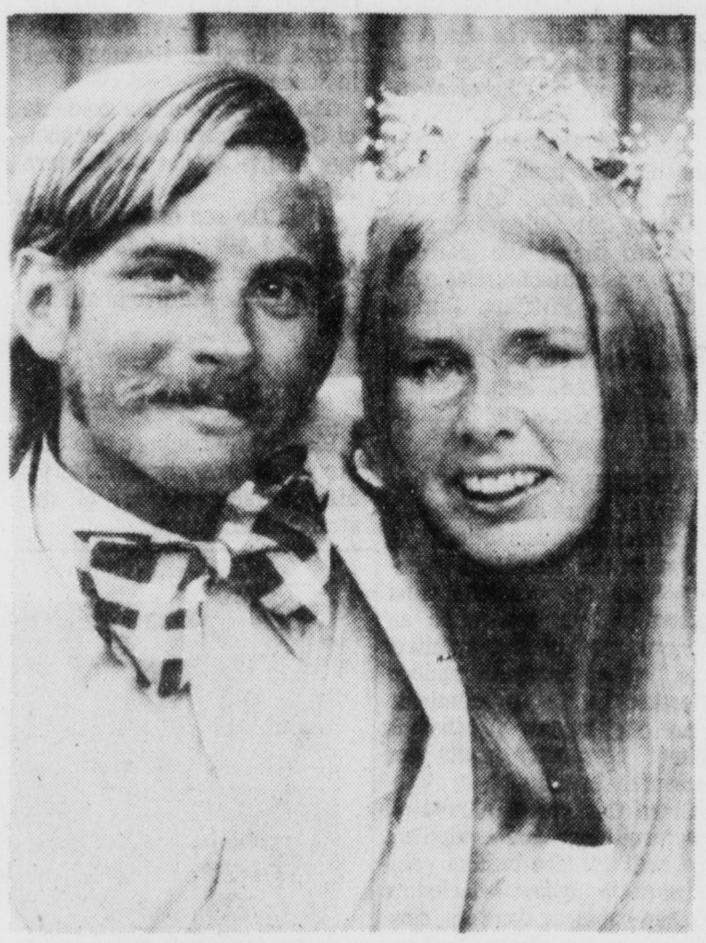
WHEN IT came time to purchase an area rug, the wife discovered a contemporary design by Egetaepper that came in several sizes. Called "Toscana," it is in warm orange and wine colorings that reflect the bright orange upholstery fabric they had chosen. The miniversion of the rug fits perfectly into the space on the "hearth" and adds a professional look to their amateur decorating project.

We have become limited in our use of rugs. The word itself comes from a word meaning coarse coverlet. The American Indian rugs were actually blankets that were also worn as clothing. The finest designs were conceived to look right when draped around a chief or elder.

So rugs do have a place in our lives other than on floors. They can be used as wall art, thrown across the back of a sofa, used as a table cover (if not too bulky in construction) or laid atop a solid colored bedcover as extra decoration.

IF YOU'RE into the handmaking of rugs such as rya braid or hooking, try to think of nonfloor uses for your work. Small pillow covers of hooking or rya make interesting accents. Bolero jackets can be embellished with fine yarns by using a hooking needle.

Carpet squares or broadloom carpeting can be used to cover a kick-surface of a breakfast bar in the family room, and the wall of a child's room can be surfaced in sound-deadening, scar-proof carpet. The material is there waiting for us. All we have to do is turn on the creativity.



VOWS SAID IN CORTE MADERA

Elizabeth Stai of Larkspur and James L. Bedilion of Fairfax exchanged marriage vows at Marin Lutheran Church in Corte Madera and took a wedding trip to British Columbia. They will live in Fairfax.

Construction Women Choose Pamela Wing

The Marin County Chapter of the National Association of Women in Construction will be led this year by Pamela W. Wing of Novato.

Mrs. Wing has been a member of the organization for three years and served previously as vice president.

The purpose of the club is to promote fellowship and education among women employed in the construction industry, said Mrs. Wing. Any woman employed by contractors, material suppliers, architects, designers and construction loan departments may join, she said.

The organization, working in conjunction with the Marin Industry and Education council, is trying to promote the construction industry as a career option to students, said Mrs. Wing. All fund raising, she added, is aimed toward the NAWIC National Education Foundation.

The wife of Paul S. Wing, Mrs. Wing is a native of Salem, Ore., and was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and Columbia College in Columbia, Mo. She has lived in Marin for 17 years.

PAMELA W. WING
Construction head

Other officers to serve with Mrs. Wing include Evalee Oliver, vice president; Alice Kearney, secretary; Mrs. Elton McCrillis, corresponding secretary, and Maggie Kreuzer, treasurer.

RUTH N. TRUETT
National treasurer

Ruth Truett Is National Treasurer

Ruth N. Truett of San Anselmo has been named national treasurer of the National Association of Women in Construction.

A two-year president of the Marin County chapter, Mrs. Truett has been a member of the organization for eight years. The club is open to any woman actively employed in the construction industry.

A native of Montrose, Colo., Mrs. Truett has lived in Marin for the past 30 years. She is the mother of Mrs. Bruce Payne of San Rafael, Mrs. John Miller of San Rafael and Sharron Truett of San Francisco.

She is also active in the Marin County Industry and Education Council.

HERE'S A major and minor use of one handsome design in floor covering — the "Toscana" area rug by Egetaepper. Although designed for separate use, such as living room and hall, the large and small versions make great roommates.

INSIDE YOUR HOME

Don't Limit Use Of Rugs In Home

By CAROLYN S. MURRAY
Distributed by General Features Corp.

Many of today's area rugs are works of art. Unfortunately, we just don't tend to use them as such. But in today's room setting we find an original idea in rug use and seating arrangement.

The space is on the seventh floor of a city apartment building, so you know there is little that is unique about the floor plan or architectural detailing. You could find this room's twin in every city. The renters wanted to do some simple things to change this interior from the carbon copies on every floor in the building.

Step one was the installation of shiny vinyl flooring and the creation of a raised floor section against one wall. Step two included the design and building of vertical storage units from this raised section to the ceiling.

There are bonuses in starting at this level. For one thing, it eliminates bending down to books on lower shelves and provides a step-up spot for the higher shelves. For another, the shelves work as a backrest supporting the young couple's next idea of creating seating on the raised floor section.

Suddenly they realized that this raised area worked much like a hearth, so they shopped for and found a plug-in electric fireplace. To add a look of realism, they covered the wall in back of the fireplace with mock brick (sometimes referred to as studio brick because the movie studios used it in abundance).

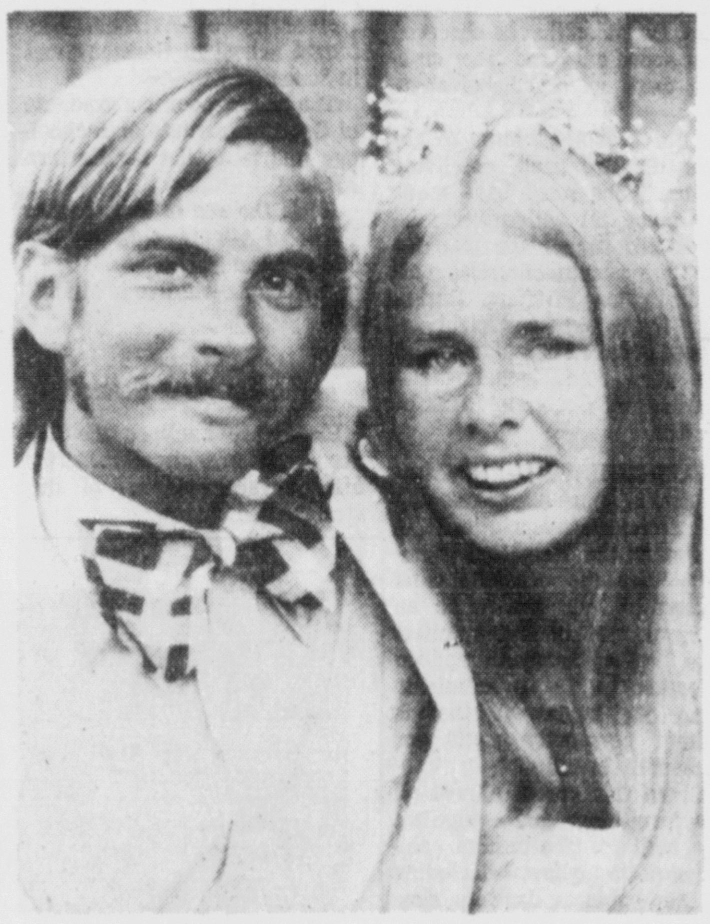
WHEN IT came time to purchase an area rug, the wife discovered a contemporary design by Egetaepper that came in several sizes. Called "Toscana," it is in warm orange and wine colorings that reflect the bright orange upholstery fabric they had chosen. The miniversion of the rug fits perfectly into the space on the "hearth" and adds a professional look to their amateur decorating project.

We have become limited in our use of rugs. The word itself comes from a word meaning coarse coverlet. The American Indian rugs were actually blankets that were also worn as clothing. The finest designs were conceived to look right when draped around a chief or elder.

So rugs do have a place in our lives other than on floors. They can be used as wall art, thrown across the back of a sofa, used as a table cover (if not too bulky in construction) or laid atop a solid colored bedcover as extra decoration.

IF YOU'RE into the handmaking of rugs such as rya braid or hooking, try to think of nonfloor uses for your work. Small pillow covers of hooking or rya make interesting accents. Bolero jackets can be embellished with fine yarns by using a hooking needle.

Carpet squares or broadloom carpeting can be used to cover a kick-surface of a breakfast bar in the family room, and the wall of a child's room can be surfaced in sound-deadening, scar-proof carpet. The material is there waiting for us. All we have to do is turn on the creativity.



VOWS SAID IN CORTE MADERA

Elizabeth Stai of Larkspur and James L. Bedilion of Fairfax exchanged marriage vows at Marin Lutheran Church in Corte Madera and took a wedding trip to British Columbia. They will live in Fairfax.

Construction Women Choose Pamela Wing

The Marin County Chapter of the National Association of Women in Construction will be led this year by Pamela W. Wing of Novato.

Mrs. Wing has been a member of the organization for three years and served previously as vice president.

The purpose of the club is to promote fellowship and education among women employed in the construction industry, said Mrs. Wing. Any woman employed by contractors, material suppliers, architects, designers and construction loan departments may join, she said.

The organization, working in conjunction with the Marin Industry and Education council, is trying to promote the construction industry as a career option to students, said Mrs. Wing. All fund raising, she added, is aimed toward the NAWIC National Education Foundation.

The wife of Paul S. Wing, Mrs. Wing is a native of Salem, Ore., and was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and Columbia College in Columbia, Mo. She has lived in Marin for 17 years.

PAMELA W. WING
Construction head

Other officers to serve with Mrs. Wing include Evalee Oliver, vice president; Alice Kearney, secretary; Mrs. Elton McCrillis, corresponding secretary, and Maggie Kreuzer, treasurer.

RUTH N. TRUETT

Ruth Truett Is National Treasurer

Ruth N. Truett of San Anselmo has been named national treasurer of the National Association of Women in Construction.

A two-year president of the Marin County chapter, Mrs. Truett has been a member of the organization for eight years. The club is open to any woman actively employed in the construction industry.

A native of Montrose, Colo., Mrs. Truett has lived in Marin for the past 30 years. She is the mother of Mrs. Bruce Payne of San Rafael, Mrs. John Miller of San Rafael and Sharron Truett of San Francisco.

She is also active in the Marin County Industry and Education Council.

STUDENTS RESPONSIBLE FOR OBSERVATORY

Stanford University seniors Nicholas B. Suntzeff of Corte Madera (on balcony) and Michael Kast of Greenbrae (on stairs) put finishing touches on a student-built observatory which will open today at the university. Kast and Suntzeff, both Redwood High School graduates, originated the project to house a 16-inch telescope because of the university's lack of astonomy courses or equipment. The funds and materials came from $50,000 in grants and donations.

Master Plan For Units Is Approved

The Novato Planning Commission last night approved the master plan and environmental impact report for the Mission Estates for Kaehler-Timmer Development Co.

The plan calls for 30 single-family homes on 10.5 acres on the west side of Eucalyptus Avenue 330 feet south of Center Road.

It rejected the master plan and environmental impact report for an industrial park to be known as Bel Marin Commerce Park on Bel Marin Keys Boulevard adjacent to the Los Robles Mobile Home Park for Ronald Antonioli.

The commission approved a use permit for a delicatessen at 7380 Redwood Highway for J. P. Granlee and R. D. Schilling.

Other items on the agenda were continued to 8 p.m., Oct. 29, at the Novato Community House.

Defendant Wins Right To A Trial

A defendant's right to a jury trial over the wishes of a municipal court judge has been upheld in a Marin Superior Court ruling.

Judge Charles Read Best ruled that Municipal Judge Robert A. Smallman erred in the case of Floyd Frederick Meyer, 45, of Cupertino, cited Jan. 21 by the California Highway Patrol for driving in the fast lane with a trailer and having an open container of alcohol in his car.

Smallman reduced the misdemeanor charges, which entitle a defendant to a jury trial, to infractions, which do not.

But Fred A. Hurvich, an American Civil Liberties Union attorney, filed suit to block Smallman's ruling, saying the judge may decide the offenses were infractions, but a conviction would affect his client's driving record and insurance rates just as a misdemeanor would.

Hurvich said the ruling will halt Smallman's practice of reducing misdemeanors in cases where the defendant's driving record and the nature of the alleged offense warrant it.

Year-Round School Study: Mill Valley

The Mill Valley School District will form committees at each of its schools as well as a districtwide committee to study whether to switch a school to a year-round program in the near future, the district board decided last night.

According to Supt. Peter Palches, the committees will include administrators, teachers, parents and known opponents of year-round schools.

Under a year-round program, students have several vacations scattered throughout the year instead of one long summer vacation.

The board discussed starting such a year-round school in 1974-75, but did not commit itself to that date, Palches said.

The committees will poll parents at each school to see what kind of school year they want and will contact the Sausalito School District and Tamalpais Union High School District to see how a year-round school program could be coordinated with programs in those districts.

Palches said the board refused his request that 75 per cent of the parents in a school should want the system before it could be set up in their school. He said that the board did not want to tie itself to a specific mathematical level and decided that all that was needed for the starting of a year-round program was the endorsement of a substantial majority of the parents at a given school.

The board said that if a school adopted a year-round program, there also would have to be a nearby school with a traditional program for students who did not wish to participate in a year-round one.

Last night, the board also heard an offer from Tamalpais High School to buy four district portable classrooms for $20,000. The board turned down that offer, Palches said, and asked for $25,000.

Just before the meeting, the board also held a closed session to discuss ongoing salary negotiations being held with teachers.

Wheezing Child May Not Be Ill

CHICAGO (UPI) — A young child's wheeze may not be caused by asthma.

Dr. Arthur H. Rosenblum, a pediatric allergist, says the breathing difficulty could well be caused by something stuck in an airway. Dr. Rosenblum cautions his colleagues to examine more closely the next time they see a wheezing child. If a foreign body in the child's airway is neglected, the physician says, it "may result in very serious pulmonary complications including lung abscess and pneumonia." The doctor's caution was in a paper presented to a recent joint meeting of the Chicago Societies of Allergy and Pediatrics.

Judge Orders A Trial On Assault Charge

A San Francisco man accused of picking up an 18-year-old woman, taking her to Fort Barry and raping her was bound over to Marin Superior Court today on two felony sex charges.

Judge Gary W. Thomas of municipal court ordered Steven Halberstadt, 32, to appear Monday after ruling there is enough evidence to justify a trial.

The victim testified during a preliminary hearing that she was raped and forced to commit an act of oral sex with Halberstadt, who gave her a ride at a Mill Valley bus stop July 12.

Instead of taking her to San Francisco, where she lives, the woman said he took her to a bunker area on the Marin headlands and assaulted her.

Tribunal To Study Old Military Law

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court agreed today to rule on the constitutionality of a provision in military law, dating back to colonial days, under which two men were prosecuted for protesting the Vietnam War.

The court will hear arguments in the case and hand down a written opinion. Two lower federal courts ruled the provision unconstitutional on grounds it was so vague an individual might not realize he was violating it.

The provision of the Uniform Code of Military Justice forbids "all disorders and neglects to the prejudice of the good order and discipline in the armed forces" (and) "all conduct of a nature to bring discredit upon the armed forces."

The "general article" was used in the prosecution of Capt. Howard B. Levy, a skin specialist who refused to train Army medics for Vietnam service, and Marine Pvt. Mark Avrech, court-martialed and convicted of trying to publish an antiwar statement on Vietnam.

In the first working day of its fall term, the Court also:

Refused to involve itself further in a federal judge's proposal to combine the predominantly black school system in Richmond, Va., with those of two white suburbs.

Rejected a number of requests to reconsider its ruling last June establishing a new definition of obscenity and giving local jurisdictions wide latitude in establishing their own rules on pornography. It also rejected a request by Virginia to clarify the "community standards" test.

Refused to allow the state of Georgia to sue President Nixon directly in the high court to contest his impoundment of appropriated funds for highways, education and pollution.

Refused to reconsider a ruling that a newspaper may be compelled to stop listing sex preferences in its help-wanted ads; and refused to hear an appeal of a ruling that a store is entitled to pay female sales personnel less than males in certain circumstances.

Agreed to rule on whether welfare assistance to strikers interferes with the freedom of collective bargaining.

Turned down an appeal by Richard P. McCoy Jr., a Vietnam veteran sentenced to 45 years in prison for hijacking a United Airlines plane in April 1972, and collecting $500,000 in ransom.

Agreed to decide whether state laws denying former felons the right to vote are unconstitutional. The justices will hear oral arguments and hand down a written opinion later this term on an appeal from a March 30, 1973, ruling by the California Supreme Court that struck down the state disenfranchisement laws.

Refused to review a claim by Huey P. Newton and a fellow black militant, Robert L. Bay, that they were subjected to an illegal search when Oakland police arrested them on gun carrying charges in April, 1972.

In the case of the military code provision, the court accepted the Avrech case for review but did not act, at least for the moment, on Levy's case.

In striking down Avrech's conviction, the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia called the article "a crazy quilt of offenses ... a catchall for varied types of unforeseen conduct not otherwise covered by the code."

Defendant Wins Right To A Trial

A defendant's right to a jury trial over the wishes of a municipal court judge has been upheld in a Marin Superior Court ruling.

Judge Charles Read Best ruled that Municipal Judge Robert A. Smallman erred in the case of Floyd Frederick Meyer, 45, of Cupertino, cited Jan. 21 by the California Highway Patrol for driving in the fast lane with a trailer and having an open container of alcohol in his car.

Smallman reduced the misdemeanor charges, which entitle a defendant to a jury trial, to infractions, which do not.

But Fred A. Hurvich, an American Civil Liberties Union attorney, filed suit to block Smallman's ruling, saying the judge may decide the offenses were infractions, but a conviction would affect his client's driving record and insurance rates just as a misdemeanor would.

Hurvich said the ruling will halt Smallman's practice of reducing misdemeanors in cases where the defendant's driving record and the nature of the alleged offense warrant it.

Year-Round School Study: Mill Valley

The Mill Valley School District will form committees at each of its schools as well as a districtwide committee to study whether to switch a school to a year-round program in the near future, the district board decided last night.

According to Supt. Peter Palches, the committees will include administrators, teachers, parents and known opponents of year-round schools.

Under a year-round program, students have several vacations scattered throughout the year instead of one long summer vacation.

The board discussed starting such a year-round school in 1974-75, but did not commit itself to that date, Palches said.

The committees will poll parents at each school to see what kind of school year they want and will contact the Sausalito School District and Tamalpais Union High School District to see how a year-round school program could be coordinated with programs in those districts.

Palches said the board refused his request that 75 per cent of the parents in a school should want the system before it could be set up in their school. He said that the board did not want to tie itself to a specific mathematical level and decided that all that was needed for the starting of a year-round program was the endorsement of a substantial majority of the parents at a given school.

The board said that if a school adopted a year-round program, there also would have to be a nearby school with a traditional program for students who did not wish to participate in a year-round one.

Last night, the board also heard an offer from Tamalpais High School to buy four district portable classrooms for $20,000. The board turned down that offer, Palches said, and asked for $25,000.

Just before the meeting, the board also held a closed session to discuss ongoing salary negotiations being held with teachers.

Wheezing Child May Not Be Ill

CHICAGO (UPI) — A young child's wheeze may not be caused by asthma.

Dr. Arthur H. Rosenblum, a pediatric allergist, says the breathing difficulty could well be caused by something stuck in an airway. Dr. Rosenblum cautions his colleagues to examine more closely the next time they see a wheezing child. If a foreign body in the child's airway is neglected, the physician says, it "may result in very serious pulmonary complications including lung abscess and pneumonia." The doctor's caution was in a paper presented to a recent joint meeting of the Chicago Societies of Allergy and Pediatrics.

Judge Orders A Trial On Assault Charge

A San Francisco man accused of picking up an 18-year-old woman, taking her to Fort Barry and raping her was bound over to Marin Superior Court today on two felony sex charges.

Judge Gary W. Thomas of municipal court ordered Steven Halberstadt, 32, to appear Monday after ruling there is enough evidence to justify a trial.

The victim testified during a preliminary hearing that she was raped and forced to commit an act of oral sex with Halberstadt, who gave her a ride at a Mill Valley bus stop July 12.

Instead of taking her to San Francisco, where she lives, the woman said he took her to a bunker area on the Marin headlands and assaulted her.

Tribunal To Study Old Military Law

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court agreed today to rule on the constitutionality of a provision in military law, dating back to colonial days, under which two men were prosecuted for protesting the Vietnam War.

The court will hear arguments in the case and hand down a written opinion. Two lower federal courts ruled the provision unconstitutional on grounds it was so vague an individual might not realize he was violating it.

The provision of the Uniform Code of Military Justice forbids "all disorders and neglects to the prejudice of the good order and discipline in the armed forces" (and) "all conduct of a nature to bring discredit upon the armed forces."

The "general article" was used in the prosecution of Capt. Howard B. Levy, a skin specialist who refused to train Army medics for Vietnam service, and Marine Pvt. Mark Avrech, court-martialed and convicted of trying to publish an antiwar statement on Vietnam.

In the first working day of its fall term, the Court also:

Refused to involve itself further in a federal judge's proposal to combine the predominantly black school system in Richmond, Va., with those of two white suburbs.

Rejected a number of requests to reconsider its ruling last June establishing a new definition of obscenity and giving local jurisdictions wide latitude in establishing their own rules on pornography. It also rejected a request by Virginia to clarify the "community standards" test.

Refused to allow the state of Georgia to sue President Nixon directly in the high court to contest his impoundment of appropriated funds for highways, education and pollution.

Refused to reconsider a ruling that a newspaper may be compelled to stop listing sex preferences in its help-wanted ads; and refused to hear an appeal of a ruling that a store is entitled to pay female sales personnel less than males in certain circumstances.

Agreed to rule on whether welfare assistance to strikers interferes with the freedom of collective bargaining.

Turned down an appeal by Richard P. McCoy Jr., a Vietnam veteran sentenced to 45 years in prison for hijacking a United Airlines plane in April 1972, and collecting $500,000 in ransom.

Agreed to decide whether state laws denying former felons the right to vote are unconstitutional. The justices will hear oral arguments and hand down a written opinion later this term on an appeal from a March 30, 1973, ruling by the California Supreme Court that struck down the state disenfranchisement laws.

Refused to review a claim by Huey P. Newton and a fellow black militant, Robert L. Bay, that they were subjected to an illegal search when Oakland police arrested them on gun carrying charges in April, 1972.

In the case of the military code provision, the court accepted the Avrech case for review but did not act, at least for the moment, on Levy's case.

In striking down Avrech's conviction, the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia called the article "a crazy quilt of offenses ... a catchall for varied types of unforeseen conduct not otherwise covered by the code."

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

It's No Mystery Who Runs San Francisco

The San Francisco Chronicle's columnist Herb Caen is not famous as a political analyst, but he hit it on the head with this item last week:

"Chief Don Scott, are you aware of the incredible wave of terrorism — slashed truck tires, sugared gas tanks, broken windows, fire bomb threats, at least one murder threat — that has marked the Teamsters' negotiations with liquor distributors? Stanton Sobel, having had 11 of his trucks sabotaged, reported this outrage to the Hall of Justice and said yesterday he hasn't even had the courtesy of a visit from an officer . . . Of course, with 'our' mayor depending almost exclusively on labor support for his political ambitions, we do know who's running the town."

IT DID NOT require any great political insight for the Chronicle columnist (himself a longtime union member, by the way) to call this shot. A very special relationship exists between Mayor Alioto and union leaders. Alioto has not been one to speak out against union violence and terrorism. In fact, on one occasion he appeared to defend it.

That was on Feb. 3, 1971, when Jack Goldberger of the Teamsters Union and Leon Olson and Donald Abrams of the International Typographical Union appeared at the Marin County Hall of Justice to begin serving 15-day jail terms imposed on them for contempt of court injunctions in the ITU's strike against this newspaper — which was accompanied by terrorism that included slashed truck tires, sugared gas tanks, broken windows, fire bombs (not merely threats), and a murder (not merely a threat).

Alioto appeared with the three union leaders and made a little speech, in which he said jailing of union leaders "ought to have gone out with high-button shoes."

The unions reciprocated the following month. The San Francisco Labor Council adopted a resolution (proposed by the ITU's Olson) backing Alioto in his $12.5 million libel suit against Look magazine over an article that linked the mayor to the Mafia. And a regional conference of Carpenters Union leaders called for a congressional investigation of the Seattle grand jury indictment of Alioto on charges of bribery, mail fraud and conspiracy in a fee-splitting suit. (Eventually, the Washington case was dropped, and the libel suit trail ended with a hung jury.)

MORE PUZZLING about Caen's item is that nothing about the violence in the Teamsters Union strike against liquor distributors has appeared in news columns of San Francisco papers. But, if Caen's report of Sobel's experience is correct, this may be simply because no police report is made on such things — when they are done in San Francisco by a union.

Yes, it's pretty plain "who's running the town" across the Golden Gate — and who would be running California in the unlikely event that Alioto were to be elected governor.

The Best Bug Killer

Some scientists believe the most efficient insect killer is the tiny Trichogramma minutum wasp. It is one-fiftieth of an inch long. That's about the diameter of a period in this editorial. These tiny wasps lay their eggs inside the eggs of various moths, so that what finally emerges is an adult Trichogramma wasp, instead of an eager, hungry caterpillar.

State Official Proposes Insuring The Insured

By EARL G. WATERS

Establishment of a life insurance guaranty fund has been called for by State Insurance Commissioner Gleeson L. Payne. His recommendation is a positive action to protect policy holders from insurance company failures.

This is the latest effort of the crusading commissioner, who, in his short tenure on the job, has shown a marked concern for the buyers of insurance. It is a refreshing contrast to the laissez faire stance held by most of the previous occupants of the office, who seemed more protective of the companies than of the public.

It is also irksome to some of the companies. For Payne was a successful insurance executive before taking the job. Because of this, his strong moves to "insure" the insured from sharp practices and inadvertent failures carries weight. He speaks with experience and knowledge. It is distressing to some in the business who had hoped to have another "rubber stamp" in charge of regulating them.

His actions to halt misleading "come-on" advertising shook some of the companies. His campaign now to force upon them a guaranty fund has stirred others even more.

PAYNE'S POSITION is that neither the buyer of life and disability insurance nor the broker selling it can determine the solvency of the company issuing the policy.

"They look to the regulator to keep financially unsound companies from selling insurance in California," he said. "But insolvencies will occur despite the best efforts of regulation, and when they do, they cause serious financial loss and personal hardships."

What Payne is advocating is creation of a trust fund by pre-assessments of all companies selling life and disability insurance. The fund would be used to pay claims against a company which became insolvent. Earnings from the fund would be used to pay back the contributions after the fund had reached a set goal.

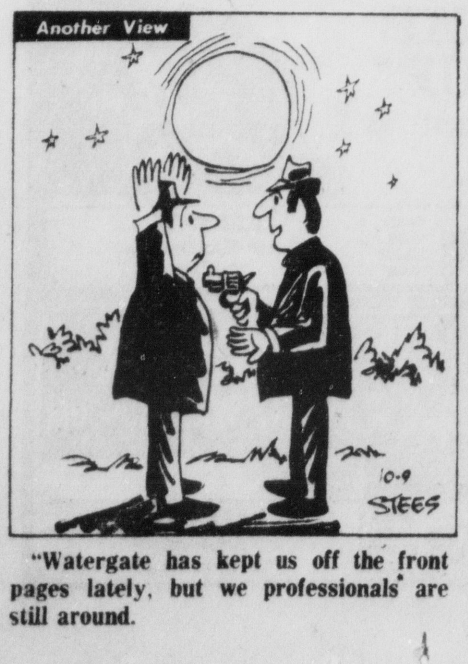
The proposal seems fair and reasonable. It also appears to be an essential for consumer protection. One may well wonder why it wasn't done long ago. As Payne says, insurance company failures do occur. At present two California companies are in conservatorship.

THERE IS NOTHING so novel about his proposal either. California has such a fund in connection with property and casualty insurance. New York has had a life guaranty fund for some years and 11 other states have enacted laws requiring it since 1970.

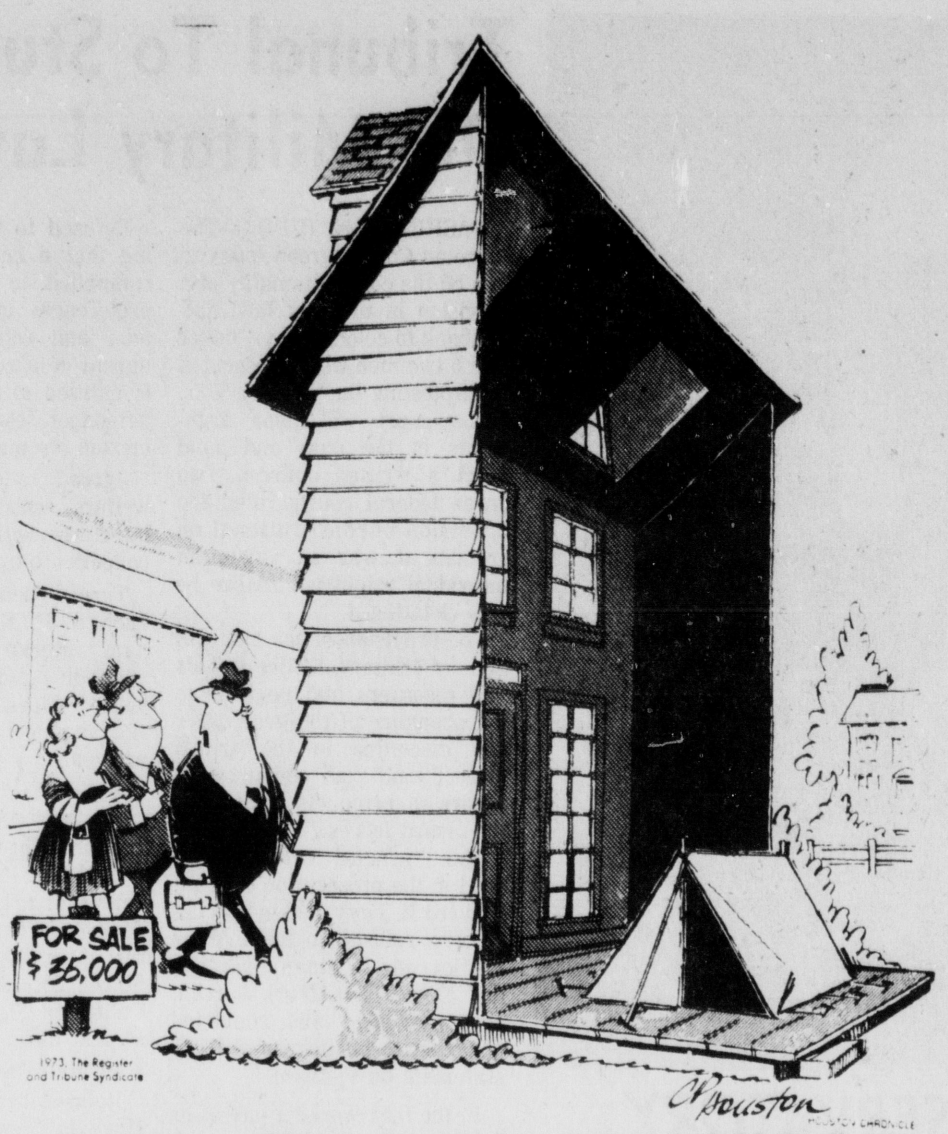
Efforts to enact similar legislation here have run into powerful opposition from certain insurance companies. A bill authored by Assemblyman Waddie Deddeh, D-Chula Vista, has cleared the Assembly but is bottled up in the Senate. Some companies are dead set against it while others are at odds over the methods of its operation.

Some feel there should be a tax-offset incentive. Others argue for a post-assessment. But post-assessment would make the successful companies pay the full freight of the failures. Pre-assessment would assure that those that failed had paid something toward the protection against such an event.

As Payne contends, the absence of such a fund means the innocent and least able to shoulder the misfortune are the ones who suffer. "The cost of protecting against this by maintaining a guaranty fund is infinitesimal while the cost to the individual having trusted in a worthless policy can be catastrophic," he says.



"Watergate has kept us off the front pages lately, but we professionals are still around.



"Of course, we did have to cut a few corners to hold the line on prices."

One of the six doctors offering this reward, Dr. Robert J.H. Mick of Laurel Springs, N.J., maintains that: "Fluoridation is one of the biggest international scandals that has ever been promoted in the name of a health scheme."

In an open letter to all Doctors and promoters of Fluoridation, Dr. Robert C. Olney, M.D., of Lincoln, Neb., writes: "Do you know the diseases caused by the 'cumulative effect' of fluorine (fluoride)? If not, why not? Don't you think you should know these facts before you advocate forcing more of this most powerful and indestructible poison on innocent people?" . . .

Tiburon Annexation 'Opposed By 90 Per Cent'

Recently the Independent-Journal printed a letter submitted by a Mr. Lester Ferris. It had to do with Tiburon's proposed scheme to force incorporation with about three hundred residents at the south end of Paradise Drive by creating an island.

It has been demonstrated on several occasions in the past by at least a 90 per cent majority vote that these people do not want this.

The article also stated that a move to disincorporate is being considered if this plan goes through. There certainly is a good nucleus here to force Tiburon to such an election. All that is needed is a little good leadership and it is thought that disincorporation can be brought about.

Recently Corte Madera and Berkeley managed to make the "pols" listen to the majority. People are getting fed up with "dirty tricks", and are beginning to snap out of their lethargy. . .

Husbands reveal a petty streak when they over-react every time their wives behave like women.

At such times a fellow doesn't know whether he's supposed to take a hint or take a joke.

Whenever my best duds are missing from the closet I merely assume that my wife has donated 'em to her club's rummage sale.

The Search For Vice President — Just In Case, Of Course

WASHINGTON — Although President Nixon denied it at his press conference, the White House does have contingency plans in case Vice President Spiro Agnew resigns.

The head of an executive employment agency in Washington told me he received a call from someone in the White House just last week.

THE AIDE SAID, "We're looking for a vice president of the United States. Do you have anyone on your rolls that we might interview?"

The agency boss said, "No, we don't have anyone listed who is looking for that kind of job. What does the vice president do?"

"He doesn't do anything."

"Oh, that makes it rather difficult," the agency head said. "Does he have to know shorthand and typing?"

"No, he gets a secretary with the job; also his own staff, a limousine and the use of an Air Force plane. It also pays quite well."

"LET ME GO THROUGH my files. I have someone here. He was the vice president of a large insurance company and ran the claims department. It says here he was indispensible to the company, and the president wouldn't make any important decisions without checking with the vice president."

The White House aide said: "I'm afraid he would be overqualified for the job. Look, don't you have someone who is very presentable, likes to play golf, can make fund-raising speeches, and won't bug anyone because he has nothing to do?"

"I'll check. Wait a minute. This may be the person you're looking for. He's 49 years old, very good-looking, is a fantastic speaker, a great athlete and is a nut about leisure time."

"That sounds pretty good. Where is he?"

"No," said the White House aide, "on second thought I don't think he's the person we have in mind."

"I HAVE A CARD on another executive here. He's now working for an oil company but wants to improve himself. He's a very attractive fellow, active in his church, involved with community affairs, has a lovely wife and is a lawyer by profession."

"He sounds good," the White House aide said.

"He also serves on the board of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People."

"Oops! Who else have you got?"

"I don't know. Most of the people registered with us are very talented. I'm not sure they would be interested in a job that didn't have any responsibility. Say, wait a minute, there was a woman who came in the other day and. . ."

"Forget it," the White House aid said.

"I tell you what I'll do," the agency head said. "I'll start scouting around to see if I can find anyone with the qualifications you have in mind. I'm sure we can find someone to fill the job. Is there any chance for advancement?"

"You can tell your clients that if the person keeps his nose clean and doesn't bug anyone in the White House, he could move up to President of the United States in 1976."

"Say, I might even be interested in the job myself," the agency man said.

"What's your name?" the White House aide asked.

The White House aide slammed down the phone.

Federal Housing Policy On 'Trickle-Down' Theory

By GEORGE J. MARDER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If President Nixon's housing proposals work the way he wants then to, the poor will get subsidies for older homes as more affluent citizens move into new housing projects —the "trickle down" theory applied to housing.

Here's how it would work.

Nixon has endorsed direct cash payments to the poor as the most promising substitute for the present system of subsidized housing for low-income families.

Under the present set-up, the subsidies go to the builders and the lenders. The only new housing now being built for the poor involves government subsidies and tax preferences to builder and lender, and private enterprise has totally dropped out of the market of building homes which low income families can afford.

THAT HAS BEEN TRUE for more than a generation and no one expects it to change. The economics are such that private enterprise probably will never again be able to build housing for low or even low-moderate income families without government help.

Nevertheless, a society cannot be called civilized unless it provides shelter for all its people.

Nixon says the system of government help to builder and lender is flawed because it assumes that the basic problem is lack of housing, rather than lack of income.

Housing Secretary James T. Lynn does not expect that private enterprise will suddenly find a new way to build housing for the poor under the proposed, new set-up, even with low-income families getting direct cash payments for housing.

The cash payments would have to be so large as to be totally unacceptable to Congress for the poor to be able to afford the private housing now coming onto the market.

UNDER THE NEW proposal, Lynn expects private enterprise will still be building new housing for those who can afford it without government help. As the more affluent move into the new housing, vacancies supposedly will develop which the poor could afford with the direct government payments.

This does not mean that the housing available would be substandard. In his housing message to Congress, Nixon assured that the cash payment would be enough to provide a low-income family with "safe and sanitary" housing.

Hand-me-down housing for the poor would also solve another problem which has been plaguing the nation. Moderate income families have resented seeing welfare families move into new housing projects which moderate income families cannot afford but subsidize for others.

Lynn also isn't troubled by another charge voiced against the proposed change in housing policy toward the poor: that instead of providing more housing for the poor, it would just lead to inflation, with private landlords merely upping the price of housing to match the new subsidy. He says the answer to that is the housing boom which he expects to last through the decade of the '70s. In specific tight housing markets, he says the government could take special steps to encourage building.

Weapons Builders Win Again, Assuring Spiral Will Continue

WASHINGTON — To most Americans suffering from high prices, high taxes and increasing shortages of necessities, it will be interesting news that the big weapons makers swept the board in the Senate. With the help of intensive lobbying by the Pentagon, specifically Adm. Elmo Zumwalt, chief of naval operations, and the White House, they beat back every attempt to check the speed-up in the development of new nuclear weapons.

They did this in spite of the carefully documented case presented by one of the 100, who as much as any individual in or out of government knows the weapons score, Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo.

Senator Symington, a member of both Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees, was initially a hawk after his term as the first secretary of the Air Force. In later years he came to understand the disastrous threat of the war-making powers inherent in the military-industrial complex and the accumulation of vast stores of nuclear weapons spread around the world.

IN A PRESENTATION to the appropriations subcommittee of Armed Services, later put in the record, Symington showed the folly of added billions to speed up weapons research and development. He did this in the most conspicuous example, documenting the way the Pentagon reversed itself from an orderly progress on the Trident submarine to a crash program highly dubious, quite apart from the vast sums involved.

The giant submarine, with a missile having a range from 4,500 to 5,000 miles and costing at least $1.2 billion each under Pentagon calculations of two years ago, was to be preceded by modernization of the Poseidon submarine fleet. That would be done by fitting into present subs the Trident I missile, extending the range by 1,500 miles. This would mean a significant increase in the area in which each U.S. sub could operate. What happened next, according to Symington, was:

"Last year for reasons we have never been able to fully understand, a lobbying effort, the most intense in my 28 years in government, was undertaken and thereupon normal, businesslike procedure went out the window . . . From the standpoint of good shop practice consider the fact that under this accelerated production program all 10 Trident submarines will be funded and under construction before the first one is completed."

This looks like a sure invitation to cost overruns, such as have occurred with the speed-up of other complex weapons systems. The tab for the giant submarine is almost certain to exceed the estimates put forward by the Pentagon.

A SUBCOMMITTEE of Armed Services on research and development conducted a thorough study of the Trident project — the only group to do so — and reached the conclusion that, following the earlier Pentagon proposal, it would be possible to save $885 million and bring in the new giant by 1980. The subcommittee made the case for more smaller submarines with fewer launchers rather than a few big submarines with many launchers. In other words, all the eggs should not be put in one basket.

The recommendation of the subcommittee was approved by Armed Services by a vote of 8 to 7. Later, however, Sen. Barry Goldwater was persuaded to change his vote and the full committee voted $1.527 billion for the speed-up.

THE EFFORT to delay construction of a new $1 billion super nuclear aircraft carrier met the same fate. The argument was that construction could be delayed until a replacement was needed for the force of 15 carriers into the 1980s and beyond.

Last year Congress approved $299 million for a start on the carrier and the economizers argued that since only about $10 million of this had been spent, the balance could be saved until the need for still another addition to the fleet of modern carriers was demonstrable. But the Senate approved the $657 million for the current fiscal year that was part of the $3.9 billion for shipbuilding requested by the Navy — a total $1 billion more than was appropriated last year.

The weaponeers and their principal proponents in the Senate, foremost among them Sen. Henry M. Jackson, push the scare of falling behind the Soviet Union in the weapons race. Jackson opposed the arms limitation agreement reached in SALT I. He was responsible for calling a rare closed session of the Senate at which Central Intelligence Agency specialists testified to a Russian push for newer and bigger weapons of annihilation.

So, the race goes on with a meager hope that SALT II may produce at least a pause.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

It's No Mystery Who Runs San Francisco

The San Francisco Chronicle's columnist Herb Caen is not famous as a political analyst, but he hit it on the head with this item last week:

"Chief Don Scott, are you aware of the incredible wave of terrorism — slashed truck tires, sugared gas tanks, broken windows, fire bomb threats, at least one murder threat — that has marked the Teamsters' negotiations with liquor distributors? Stanton Sobel, having had 11 of his trucks sabotaged, reported this outrage to the Hall of Justice and said yesterday he hasn't even had the courtesy of a visit from an officer . . . Of course, with 'our' mayor depending almost exclusively on labor support for his political ambitions, we do know who's running the town."

IT DID NOT require any great political insight for the Chronicle columnist (himself a longtime union member, by the way) to call this shot. A very special relationship exists between Mayor Alioto and union leaders. Alioto has not been one to speak out against union violence and terrorism. In fact, on one occasion he appeared to defend it.

That was on Feb. 3, 1971, when Jack Goldberger of the Teamsters Union and Leon Olson and Donald Abrams of the International Typographical Union appeared at the Marin County Hall of Justice to begin serving 15-day jail terms imposed on them for contempt of court injunctions in the ITU's strike against this newspaper — which was accompanied by terrorism that included slashed truck tires, sugared gas tanks, broken windows, fire bombs (not merely threats), and a murder (not merely a threat).

Alioto appeared with the three union leaders and made a little speech, in which he said jailing of union leaders "ought to have gone out with high-button shoes."

The unions reciprocated the following month. The San Francisco Labor Council adopted a resolution (proposed by the ITU's Olson) backing Alioto in his $12.5 million libel suit against Look magazine over an article that linked the mayor to the Mafia. And a regional conference of Carpenters Union leaders called for a congressional investigation of the Seattle grand jury indictment of Alioto on charges of bribery, mail fraud and conspiracy in a fee-splitting suit. (Eventually, the Washington case was dropped, and the libel suit trail ended with a hung jury.)

MORE PUZZLING about Caen's item is that nothing about the violence in the Teamsters Union strike against liquor distributors has appeared in news columns of San Francisco papers. But, if Caen's report of Sobel's experience is correct, this may be simply because no police report is made on such things — when they are done in San Francisco by a union.

Yes, it's pretty plain "who's running the town" across the Golden Gate — and who would be running California in the unlikely event that Alioto were to be elected governor.

The Best Bug Killer

Some scientists believe the most efficient insect killer is the tiny Trichogramma minutum wasp. It is one-fiftieth of an inch long. That's about the diameter of a period in this editorial. These tiny wasps lay their eggs inside the eggs of various moths, so that what finally emerges is an adult Trichogramma wasp, instead of an eager, hungry caterpillar.

State Official Proposes Insuring The Insured

By EARL G. WATERS

Establishment of a life insurance guaranty fund has been called for by State Insurance Commissioner Gleeson L. Payne. His recommendation is a positive action to protect policy holders from insurance company failures.

This is the latest effort of the crusading commissioner, who, in his short tenure on the job, has shown a marked concern for the buyers of insurance. It is a refreshing contrast to the laissez faire stance held by most of the previous occupants of the office, who seemed more protective of the companies than of the public.

It is also irksome to some of the companies. For Payne was a successful insurance executive before taking the job. Because of this, his strong moves to "insure" the insured from sharp practices and inadvertent failures carries weight. He speaks with experience and knowledge. It is distressing to some in the business who had hoped to have another "rubber stamp" in charge of regulating them.

His actions to halt misleading "come-on" advertising shook some of the companies. His campaign now to force upon them a guaranty fund has stirred others even more.

PAYNE'S POSITION is that neither the buyer of life and disability insurance nor the broker selling it can determine the solvency of the company issuing the policy.

"They look to the regulator to keep financially unsound companies from selling insurance in California," he said. "But insolvencies will occur despite the best efforts of regulation, and when they do, they cause serious financial loss and personal hardships."

What Payne is advocating is creation of a trust fund by pre-assessments of all companies selling life and disability insurance. The fund would be used to pay claims against a company which became insolvent. Earnings from the fund would be used to pay back the contributions after the fund had reached a set goal.

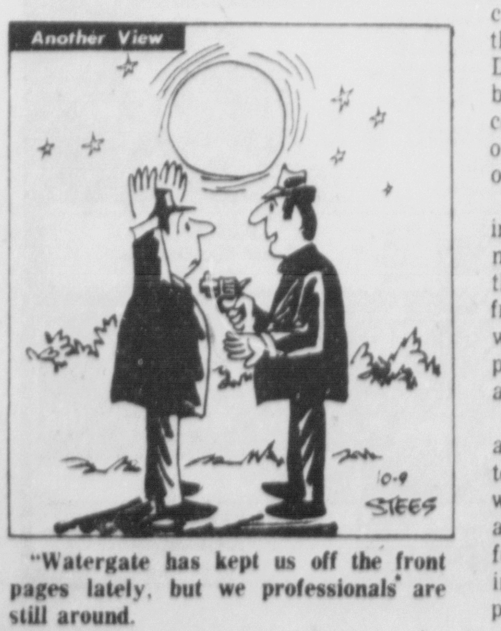
The proposal seems fair and reasonable. It also appears to be an essential for consumer protection. One may well wonder why it wasn't done long ago. As Payne says, insurance company failures do occur. At present two California companies are in conservatorship.

THERE IS NOTHING so novel about his proposal either. California has such a fund in connection with property and casualty insurance. New York has had a life guaranty fund for some years and 11 other states have enacted laws requiring it since 1970.

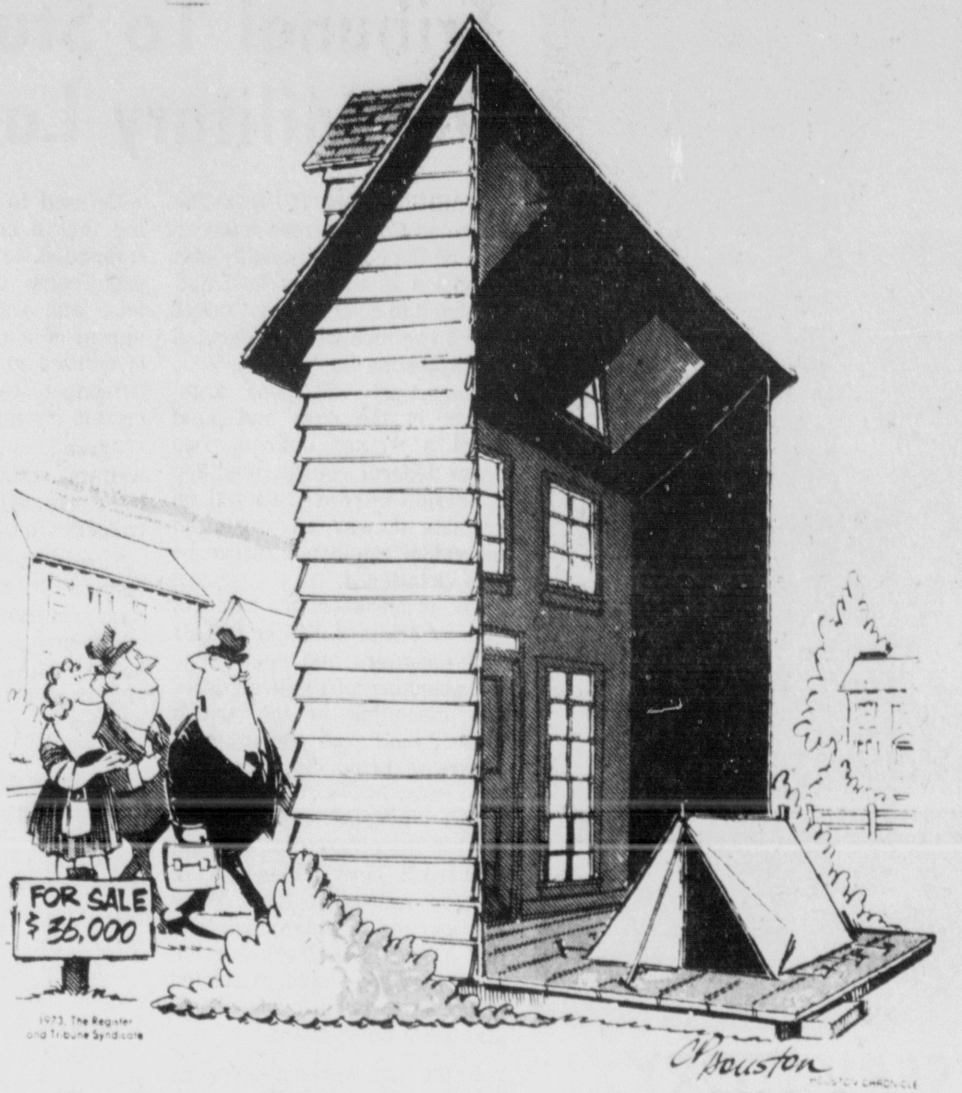
Efforts to enact similar legislation here have run into powerful opposition from certain insurance companies. A bill authored by Assemblyman Waddie Deddeh, D-Chula Vista, has cleared the Assembly but is bottled up in the Senate. Some companies are dead set against it while others are at odds over the methods of its operation.

Some feel there should be a tax-offset incentive. Others argue for a post-assessment. But post-assessment would make the successful companies pay the full freight of the failures. Pre-assessment would assure that those that failed had paid something toward the protection against such an event.

As Payne contends, the absence of such a fund means the innocent and least able to shoulder the misfortune are the ones who suffer. "The cost of protecting against this by maintaining a guaranty fund is infinitesimal while the cost to the individual having trusted in a worthless policy can be catastrophic," he says.



"Watergate has kept us off the front pages lately, but we professionals are still around.



"Of course, we did have to cut a few corners to hold the line on prices."

Foe Of Fluoridation Reports Reward Offer

$100,000 reward offered to the first individual who can provide one copy of any controlled experiments with the USPHS recommended fluorides and water, at the USPHS recommended parts per million, that shows that poisonous fluorides are safe, beneficial and will cause no future body harms!

One of the six doctors offering this reward, Dr. Robert J.H. Mick of Laurel Springs, N.J., maintains that: "Fluoridation is one of the biggest international scandals that has ever been promoted in the name of a health scheme."

In an open letter to all Doctors and promoters of Fluoridation, Dr. Robert C. Olney, M.D., of Lincoln, Neb., writes: "Do you know the diseases caused by the 'cumulative effect' of fluorine (fluoride)? If not, why not? Don't you think you should know these facts before you advocate forcing more of this most powerful and indestructible poison on innocent people?" . . .

Tiburon Annexation 'Opposed By 90 Per Cent'

Recently the Independent-Journal printed a letter submitted by a Mr. Lester Ferris. It had to do with Tiburon's proposed scheme to force incorporation with about three hundred residents at the south end of Paradise Drive by creating an island.

It has been demonstrated on several occasions in the past by at least a 90 per cent majority vote that these people do not want this.

The article also stated that a move to disincorporate is being considered if this plan goes through. There certainly is a good nucleus here to force Tiburon to such an election. All that is needed is a little good leadership and it is thought that disincorporation can be brought about.

Recently Corte Madera and Berkeley managed to make the "pols" listen to the majority. People are getting fed up with "dirty tricks", and are beginning to snap out of their lethargy. . .

The Search For Vice President — Just In Case, Of Course

WASHINGTON — Although President Nixon denied it at his press conference, the White House does have contingency plans in case Vice President Spiro Agnew resigns.

The head of an executive employment agency in Washington told me he received a call from someone in the White House just last week.

THE AIDE SAID, "We're looking for a vice president of the United States. Do you have anyone on your rolls that we might interview?"

The agency boss said, "No, we don't have anyone listed who is looking for that kind of job. What does the vice president do?"

"He doesn't do anything."

"Oh, that makes it rather difficult," the agency head said. "Does he have to know shorthand and typing?"

"No, he gets a secretary with the job; also his own staff, a limousine and the use of an Air Force plane. It also pays quite well."

"LET ME GO THROUGH my files. I have someone here. He was the vice president of a large insurance company and ran the claims department. It says here he was indispensible to the company, and the president wouldn't make any important decisions without checking with the vice president."

The White House aide said: "I'm afraid he would be overqualified for the job. Look, don't you have someone who is very presentable, likes to play golf, can make fund-raising speeches, and won't bug anyone because he has nothing to do?"

"I'll check. Wait a minute. This may be the person you're looking for. He's 49 years old, very good-looking, is a fantastic speaker, a great athlete and is a nut about leisure time."

"That sounds pretty good. Where is he?"

"No," said the White House aide, "on second thought I don't think he's the person we have in mind."

"I HAVE A CARD on another executive here. He's now working for an oil company but wants to improve himself. He's a very attractive fellow, active in his church, involved with community affairs, has a lovely wife and is a lawyer by profession."

"He sounds good," the White House aide said.

"He also serves on the board of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People."

"Oops! Who else have you got?"

"I don't know. Most of the people registered with us are very talented. I'm not sure they would be interested in a job that didn't have any responsibility. Say, wait a minute, there was a woman who came in the other day and. . ."

"Forget it," the White House aid said.

"I tell you what I'll do," the agency head said. "I'll start scouting around to see if I can find anyone with the qualifications you have in mind. I'm sure we can find someone to fill the job. Is there any chance for advancement?"

"You can tell your clients that if the person keeps his nose clean and doesn't bug anyone in the White House, he could move up to President of the United States in 1976."

"Say, I might even be interested in the job myself," the agency man said.

"What's your name?" the White House aide asked.

The White House aide slammed down the phone.

Federal Housing Policy On 'Trickle-Down' Theory

By GEORGE J. MARDER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If President Nixon's housing proposals work the way he wants then to, the poor will get subsidies for older homes as more affluent citizens move into new housing projects —the "trickle down" theory applied to housing.

Here's how it would work.

Nixon has endorsed direct cash payments to the poor as the most promising substitute for the present system of subsidized housing for low-income families.

Under the present set-up, the subsidies go to the builders and the lenders. The only new housing now being built for the poor involves government subsidies and tax preferences to builder and lender, and private enterprise has totally dropped out of the market of building homes which low income families can afford.

THAT HAS BEEN TRUE for more than a generation and no one expects it to change. The economics are such that private enterprise probably will never again be able to build housing for low or even low-moderate income families without government help.

Nevertheless, a society cannot be called civilized unless it provides shelter for all its people.

Nixon says the system of government help to builder and lender is flawed because it assumes that the basic problem is lack of housing, rather than lack of income.

Housing Secretary James T. Lynn does not expect that private enterprise will suddenly find a new way to build housing for the poor under the proposed, new set-up, even with low-income families getting direct cash payments for housing.

The cash payments would have to be so large as to be totally unacceptable to Congress for the poor to be able to afford the private housing now coming onto the market.

UNDER THE NEW proposal, Lynn expects private enterprise will still be building new housing for those who can afford it without government help. As the more affluent move into the new housing, vacancies supposedly will develop which the poor could afford with the direct government payments.

This does not mean that the housing available would be substandard. In his housing message to Congress, Nixon assured that the cash payment would be enough to provide a low-income family with "safe and sanitary" housing.

Hand-me-down housing for the poor would also solve another problem which has been plaguing the nation. Moderate income families have resented seeing welfare families move into new housing projects which moderate income families cannot afford but subsidize for others.

Lynn also isn't troubled by another charge voiced against the proposed change in housing policy toward the poor: that instead of providing more housing for the poor, it would just lead to inflation, with private landlords merely upping the price of housing to match the new subsidy. He says the answer to that is the housing boom which he expects to last through the decade of the '70s. In specific tight housing markets, he says the government could take special steps to encourage building.

Weapons Builders Win Again, Assuring Spiral Will Continue

WASHINGTON — To most Americans suffering from high prices, high taxes and increasing shortages of necessities, it will be interesting news that the big weapons makers swept the board in the Senate. With the help of intensive lobbying by the Pentagon, specifically Adm. Elmo Zumwalt, chief of naval operations, and the White House, they beat back every attempt to check the speed-up in the development of new nuclear weapons.

They did this in spite of the carefully documented case presented by one of the 100, who as much as any individual in or out of government knows the weapons score, Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo.

Senator Symington, a member of both Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees, was initially a hawk after his term as the first secretary of the Air Force. In later years he came to understand the disastrous threat of the war-making powers inherent in the military-industrial complex and the accumulation of vast stores of nuclear weapons spread around the world.

IN A PRESENTATION to the appropriations subcommittee of Armed Services, later put in the record, Symington showed the folly of added billions to speed up weapons research and development. He did this in the most conspicuous example, documenting the way the Pentagon reversed itself from an orderly progress on the Trident submarine to a crash program highly dubious, quite apart from the vast sums involved.

The giant submarine, with a missile having a range from 4,500 to 5,000 miles and costing at least $1.2 billion each under Pentagon calculations of two years ago, was to be preceded by modernization of the Poseidon submarine fleet. That would be done by fitting into present subs the Trident I missile, extending the range by 1,500 miles. This would mean a significant increase in the area in which each U.S. sub could operate. What happened next, according to Symington, was:

"Last year for reasons we have never been able to fully understand, a lobbying effort, the most intense in my 28 years in government, was undertaken and thereupon normal, businesslike procedure went out the window . . . From the standpoint of good shop practice consider the fact that under this accelerated production program all 10 Trident submarines will be funded and under construction before the first one is completed."

This looks like a sure invitation to cost overruns, such as have occurred with the speed-up of other complex weapons systems. The tab for the giant submarine is almost certain to exceed the estimates put forward by the Pentagon.

A SUBCOMMITTEE of Armed Services on research and development conducted a thorough study of the Trident project — the only group to do so — and reached the conclusion that, following the earlier Pentagon proposal, it would be possible to save $885 million and bring in the new giant by 1980. The subcommittee made the case for more smaller submarines with fewer launchers rather than a few big submarines with many launchers. In other words, all the eggs should not be put in one basket.

The recommendation of the subcommittee was approved by Armed Services by a vote of 8 to 7. Later, however, Sen. Barry Goldwater was persuaded to change his vote and the full committee voted $1.527 billion for the speed-up.

THE EFFORT to delay construction of a new $1 billion super nuclear aircraft carrier met the same fate. The argument was that construction could be delayed until a replacement was needed for the force of 15 carriers into the 1980s and beyond.

Last year Congress approved $299 million for a start on the carrier and the economizers argued that since only about $10 million of this had been spent, the balance could be saved until the need for still another addition to the fleet of modern carriers was demonstrable. But the Senate approved the $657 million for the current fiscal year that was part of the $3.9 billion for shipbuilding requested by the Navy — a total $1 billion more than was appropriated last year.

Paying Twice For The Grain— And For Hamilton Air Force Base

According to the Biblical story, a young Jewish man, sold into slavery in Egypt, worked his way up to becoming prime minister by interpreting the Pharaoh's dream of seven fat years and seven lean years.

As prime minister, he taxed the farmers, taking away a percentage of their grain during the seven fat years. During the seven lean years, he opened the granaries and sold the grain, which he had taken from them, back to the farmers.

In reality, they paid for it twice.

THERE IS A PARALLEL here now in Marin County. During the depression, jobs were few and hard to come by in Marin. So the people of the county bonded themselves to buy a piece of land which they gave to the federal government if it would put a military base on it.

The federal government accepted the land and it became Hamilton Field, later changed to Hamilton Air Force Base.

Now the federal government has declared 477 acres of the base as surplus.

Did the government tell the residents that now it can have some of the land back?

No, it has said that it would give the City of Novato and Marin County some of it, if it is used for educational or recreational purposes. But if the local governments want to use it for something that might help them in taxes, such as an industrial park, they must buy it back.

That is paying for it twice, so it would seem.

Residents of Novato have complained about the big buses, almost always empty or with very few passengers, tearing around the city's residential streets.

Plannsers and ecologists are trying to force people out of their cars and into buses. Americans think of their cars much the same as the pioneers did of their horses. They are the personal transportation for the individuals.

Residents of a certain street in Novato were tired of the buses, so the other night, they lined their street with private cars so that the bus could not discharge its passengers.

The residents stood on front lawns drinking cocktails and laughing at the bus driver who could not stop. He finally had to go to a nearby shopping center to unload his passengers.

NOVATO CITY Councilman George Quesada remarked to Richard Gimando of 2108 Vineyard Road, who had waited four and a half hours to speak on one item on the council agenda, that people usually get the kind of government they deserve.

Any citizen who waited that long to talk to the council on one item did not deserve such a slur.

Alioto Wanting Probe Of Geysers In Sonoma County

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Mayor Joseph L. Alioto of San Francisco has called for a state attorney general's investigation into Union Oil Co.'s refusal to share steam from Sonoma County "geysers" with cities who want to generate electricity.

Alioto, a Democratic candidate for governor, told a news conference yesterday that Atty. Gen. Evelle Younger should investigate whether the geothermal fields are "being developed competitively." He accused Union Oil Co. of "monopoly power" for its action.

"The state itself can break that monopoly," Alioto later told a $10-a-plate banquet of 800 supporters.

The mayor also told the news conference that the Legislature should make a "full investigation" of overall geothermal development in California.

In the face of the "energy crisis," he said, the Sonoma geysers, controlled mostly by Union Oil, should be turned loose to generate electrical power for customers other than Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

"Development of that field is being governed by the heavy, hand of monopoly power rather than wide-open competition," he said.

He said the "geysers" are capable of producing between 2,000 and 25,000 megawatts of electricity and that each 1,000 megawatts is the equivalent of a nuclear power plant or the burning of 10 million barrels of oil.

He said the "geysers" should be developed "pell mell" like a second "gold rush."

The mayor said nine small cities comprising the Northern California power agency had applied unsuccessfully for supply contracts from the "geysers." Each sell power.

"There ought to be litigation to compel Union Oil to sell to these nine cities," Alioto said, adding in response to a question that the cities had consulted his law office about such a lawsuit.

Cultural Arts Centers Eyed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Piers where soldiers once embarked for the Pacific, an old theater, a disused opera house and an armory may have more in common than meets the eye.

To some members of the city's Art Commission they are potential shelters for neighborhood arts.

Free Press On Trial

The 1735 libel trial of John Peter Zenger was a milestone in establishing the free press we are now celebrating during Newspaper Week. Zenger had been charged by the colonial governor of New York with publishing "scandalous, virulent, false, and seditious reflections." Coming to trial after nearly a year in jail, Zenger sought to prove the truth of what he had printed. In accordance with English law of the time, the judge refused to allow this as a defense. The jury disagreed, however, and found Zenger not guilty, thus setting a lasting precedent.

Charges Against Belvedere Youth May Be Dropped

Misdemeanor burglary and marijuana possession charges against an 18-year-old Belvedere youth may be dismissed if he completes probation on another charge.

Judge David R. Baty of Marin Municipal Court ruled William Edward Hoefer will not be prosecuted on the misdemeanor counts if he stays out of trouble after completing a 90-day jail sentence for taking a car without permission.

The burglary and marijuana charges, originally felonies, were filed after Belvedere police said they found Hoefer climbing out a window at his parents' house Aug. 6. Marijuana was found in his pocket, officers said.

Hoefer drew the 90-day term as one of three youths who took a car belonging to Dr. Charles Eberle May 30 and returned it the same day.

Psalms Kept Passengers Calm As Middle East War Exploded

FAMAGUSTA, Cyprus (UPI) —The 207 American clergymen and their parishoners sang psalms as the Middle East war exploded around them.

The group, passengers on a Greek cruise ship, returned here yesterday after 60 hours in the Syrian port of Tartus. Their ship had been seized in the Mediterranean by Syrian gunboats.

While warplanes flew overhead and gunboats zipped in and out of the port, passengers aboard the ship Romantica said they kept calm by singing psalms. They also said they were well treated by the Syrians and, although scared at times, never really felt their lives endangered.

"We enjoyed it at the beginning but later it became scary. We were treated kindly but are still glad the whole thing is over and we got away from there," said Ida Schwenn of Peoria, Ill.

"We were never in any real danger. We were well treated and they (the Syrians) protected us," said the Rev. Richard Bernthal, a Lutheran minister from Detroit.

The Romantica was about 18 miles off the Syrian coast en route to Famagusta when the Syrian gunboat intercepted it early Saturday morning, firing several warning shots, a senior officer on board the ship said. He said he understood the Syrians wanted them in Tartus to "prevent the Israelis from bombing the port."

Power Outage Is Blamed On Vandals

SAN JOSE (AP) — Electricity was restored to about 75,000 persons 45 minutes after the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. said vandals broke into a company sustation here.

A PG&E spokesman said someone climbed over a fence at its McKee substation last night and pulled four switches that cut off power to four 12,000-volt transmission lines. About 25,000 connections in east San Jose were affected by the blackout between 6:51 p.m. and 7:36 p.m.

No, it has said that it would give the City of Novato and Marin County some of it, if it is used for educational or recreational purposes. But if the local governments want to use it for something that might help them in taxes, such as an industrial park, they must buy it back.

That is paying for it twice, so it would seem.

Residents of Novato have complained about the big buses, almost always empty or with very few passengers, tearing around the city's residential streets.

Plannsers and ecologists are trying to force people out of their cars and into buses. Americans think of their cars much the same as the pioneers did of their horses. They are the personal transportation for the individuals.

Residents of a certain street in Novato were tired of the buses, so the other night, they lined their street with private cars so that the bus could not discharge its passengers.

The residents stood on front lawns drinking cocktails and laughing at the bus driver who could not stop. He finally had to go to a nearby shopping center to unload his passengers.

NOVATO CITY Councilman George Quesada remarked to Richard Gimando of 2108 Vineyard Road, who had waited four and a half hours to speak on one item on the council agenda, that people usually get the kind of government they deserve.

Any citizen who waited that long to talk to the council on one item did not deserve such a slur.

Charges Against Belvedere Youth May Be Dropped

Misdemeanor burglary and marijuana possession charges against an 18-year-old Belvedere youth may be dismissed if he completes probation on another charge.

Judge David R. Baty of Marin Municipal Court ruled William Edward Hoefer will not be prosecuted on the misdemeanor counts if he stays out of trouble after completing a 90-day jail sentence for taking a car without permission.

The burglary and marijuana charges, originally felonies, were filed after Belvedere police said they found Hoefer climbing out a window at his parents' house Aug. 6. Marijuana was found in his pocket, officers said.

Hoefer drew the 90-day term as one of three youths who took a car belonging to Dr. Charles Eberle May 30 and returned it the same day.

Psalms Kept Passengers Calm As Middle East War Exploded

FAMAGUSTA, Cyprus (UPI) —The 207 American clergymen and their parishoners sang psalms as the Middle East war exploded around them.

The group, passengers on a Greek cruise ship, returned here yesterday after 60 hours in the Syrian port of Tartus. Their ship had been seized in the Mediterranean by Syrian gunboats.

While warplanes flew overhead and gunboats zipped in and out of the port, passengers aboard the ship Romantica said they kept calm by singing psalms. They also said they were well treated by the Syrians and, although scared at times, never really felt their lives endangered.

"We enjoyed it at the beginning but later it became scary. We were treated kindly but are still glad the whole thing is over and we got away from there," said Ida Schwenn of Peoria, Ill.

"We were never in any real danger. We were well treated and they (the Syrians) protected us," said the Rev. Richard Bernthal, a Lutheran minister from Detroit.

The Romantica was about 18 miles off the Syrian coast en route to Famagusta when the Syrian gunboat intercepted it early Saturday morning, firing several warning shots, a senior officer on board the ship said. He said he understood the Syrians wanted them in Tartus to "prevent the Israelis from bombing the port."

Power Outage Is Blamed On Vandals

SAN JOSE (AP) — Electricity was restored to about 75,000 persons 45 minutes after the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. said vandals broke into a company sustation here.

A PG&E spokesman said someone climbed over a fence at its McKee substation last night and pulled four switches that cut off power to four 12,000-volt transmission lines. About 25,000 connections in east San Jose were affected by the blackout between 6:51 p.m. and 7:36 p.m.

Alioto Wanting Probe Of Geysers In Sonoma County

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Mayor Joseph L. Alioto of San Francisco has called for a state attorney general's investigation into Union Oil Co.'s refusal to share steam from Sonoma County "geysers" with cities who want to generate electricity.

Alioto, a Democratic candidate for governor, told a news conference yesterday that Atty. Gen. Evelle Younger should investigate whether the geothermal fields are "being developed competitively." He accused Union Oil Co. of "monopoly power" for its action.

"The state itself can break that monopoly," Alioto later told a $10-a-plate banquet of 800 supporters.

The mayor also told the news conference that the Legislature should make a "full investigation" of overall geothermal development in California.

In the face of the "energy crisis," he said, the Sonoma geysers, controlled mostly by Union Oil, should be turned loose to generate electrical power for customers other than Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

"Development of that field is being governed by the heavy, hand of monopoly power rather than wide-open competition," he said.

He said the "geysers" are capable of producing between 2,000 and 25,000 megawatts of electricity and that each 1,000 megawatts is the equivalent of a nuclear power plant or the burning of 10 million barrels of oil.

He said the "geysers" should be developed "pell mell" like a second "gold rush."

The mayor said nine small cities comprising the Northern California power agency had applied unsuccessfully for supply contracts from the "geysers." Each sell power.

"There ought to be litigation to compel Union Oil to sell to these nine cities," Alioto said, adding in response to a question that the cities had consulted his law office about such a lawsuit.

Cultural Arts Centers Eyed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Piers where soldiers once embarked for the Pacific, an old theater, a disused opera house and an armory may have more in common than meets the eye.

To some members of the city's Art Commission they are potential shelters for neighborhood arts.

Free Press On Trial

The 1735 libel trial of John Peter Zenger was a milestone in establishing the free press we are now celebrating during Newspaper Week. Zenger had been charged by the colonial governor of New York with publishing "scandalous, virulent, false, and seditious reflections." Coming to trial after nearly a year in jail, Zenger sought to prove the truth of what he had printed. In accordance with English law of the time, the judge refused to allow this as a defense. The jury disagreed, however, and found Zenger not guilty, thus setting a lasting precedent.

DO YOU KNOW — What part of the Constitution guarantees freedom of the press?

Home Burglary Suspect Nabbed

Being held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $2,500 bail and to appear in Marin Municipal Court today is Travis Dean Hayes, 2 Harbor Drive.

He was arrested near Redwood High School about 12:45 p.m. on a warrant charging him with taking jewelry, two tape recorders and $100 from the Paul Carroll home, 360 Wilson Way, on March 24.

Larkspur police said Paul Winkelmann, who is serving a six-month jail sentence for burglary, implicated Hayes in the burglary.

Quentin Inmate Dead In Stabbing

A San Quentin inmate who earlier this year asked to be placed in protective custody, saying he had enemies, was stabbed to death yesterday, just four days after his release from solitary confinement.

The dead man, Robert Langdon, 30, was found at about 2:15 p.m. on the fourth tier of the east cell block near his new cell. Prison officials said he had been stabbed 14 times, in his chest, right eye and arms. He was taken to the prison hospital where a doctor pronounced him dead at 2:25 p.m.

William D. Nyberg, prison information officer, said Langdon had asked on July 31 to be placed in solitary as protection against enemies in the prison. Then last Thursday he was returned to the general prison population at his request.

Nyberg said he did not know who Langdon's foes were and there was no suspect in the case. No weapon was found.

He said Langdon, a white man, did not belong to any prison groups and was "a loner."

Langdon was first sent to state prison in 1967 after a conviction in Los Angeles County for firing a .22-caliber rifle into a liquor store. He later was given an additional term for having a homemade knife at Tehachapi Prison. He had been at San Quentin just over a year.

Langdon was a native of Oklahoma and is survived by his parents in Oklahoma City.

Schools Said Not Doing Job

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) -A youngster's inability to read properly makes him more likely to land in jail, a Pennsylvania educator contends.

"Schools are not doing the job of teaching people, especially poor people," Kenneth Wooden of Bucks County told the National Conference on Juvenile Justice yesterday.

Wooden said the reading level of those in juvenile institutions is no higher on the average than the fourth grade.

To get along in society, a person should be able to read at least at the 10th grade level, he declared.

RAIN SOAKS PUBLIC LIBRARY

Plastic covers tables and shelves and buckets collect dripping water as rain poured into the San Rafael Public Library yesterday. The damage occurred after workmen doing structural repairs to the building partially removed the roof and rain came through the ceiling. Extensive damage to the plaster on walls and ceiling was reported.

Larkspur To View Land, Housing Elements Again

The Larkspur City Council last night postponed decisions of two key elements of its proposed general plan, but finished reviewing and changing some wording in the remainder of the 57-page document.

The housing and land use elements of the plan will be considered at a fourth special meeting of the council to be held Oct. 29 at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

Consideration of the land use element was postponed after city planning director John E. Roberto said that interested citizen groups wishing to comment on it had not expected the matter to be brought up and were not present. The items was on the agenda.

Consideration of the housing element awaits completion of a study by Roberto on what percentages of low and moderate income housing exist in the city based on the 1970 census.

Roberto's study, ordered by councilmen last week and scheduled for presentation "by the end of the month," is to be used in determining whether low and moderate-income housing provisions would be mandatory or based on "incentives."

Robert E. Roberts, cochairman of the citizens' committee on housing and an advocate of greater low and moderate-income housing, told the council housing costs could be cut "15 to 20 per cent per unit" by clustering new construction.

Quoting figures from several U.S. government sources, Roberts said high density construction would make for more efficient use of manpower and equipment during building and would save on water and sewage costs.

He added that developers could "cut back on the space in each dwelling while still providing adequate housing and still providing people a chance to live in Marin County." He said the average single-family residence constructed recently contained 1,440 square feet, compared to 1,340 a decade ago.

Following Roberts' comments, the council considered the proposed plan point-by-point, making changes in wording.

General Objective III of the open space element was altered to read "Ridgelands that provide community separation should be of prime consideration in acquisition of open space sites," allaying Councilman Joan Sestak's fear that the original insistence on "accessability and usability" as criteria would rule out acquisition of the remainder of the Northridge area.

Development of a park east of U.S. 101 and south of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard along the bay frontage was added as an open space goal.

The proposal to "adopt standards and programs to promote underground utility wiring," was deleted after Councilman William G. Fleckles said it was illegal because the state Public Utilities Commission has jurisdiction in such matters.

Nine persons attended the two-hour, 29-minute meeting.

Sewage Pipe In Tiburon Is Cleared

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A belated environmental impact report on a Tiburon Sanitary District project completed earlier this year has concluded it "will not have any significant detrimental environmental effect."

The report by the State Lands Commission staff will come before the commission on Oct. 25 in Los Angeles. The staff's conclusion presumably assures that the commission will not order removal of the work.

The district ran into the commission's jurisdiction when it built a four-inch steel pipe outfall 500 feet offshore from Paradise Cove. It failed, however, to seek commission approval.

(James Murray, president of the district board, told the Independent-Journal the district thought it had final approval with endorsement of the project by the Army Corps of Engineers, "it being about the 19th agency we spent 18 months wrestling with to get the project."

The pipe discharges 25,000 gallons of disinfected sewage wastewater a day to a point 3,000 feet south of Paradise Beach County Park, but the report said there was "little or no probability of concentration build up" of pollution.

It acknowledged an "unavoidable" deposition of "miniscule quantities of settleable solids," but said "the probability is remote that there will be a significant layer of these solids formed near the discharge line."

Board To Review Applications For Petaluma Housing Permits

Development applications for nearly 1,500 living units – three times more than the annual limit – will face the Petaluma Residential Allotment Board when it begins the selection process tomorrow.

The 17-member board has the task of reviewing the 17 development plans submitted by 15 developers and will recommend at the end of November which should be permitted under the building limitation of 500 units per year.

The policy of limiting growth has been challenged by the Construction Industry Association as unconstitutional and will be tested at a federal court trial on Nov. 13.

Building applications total 1,495 units and include 977 single-family units and 518 multiple units. As was the case last year, more building applications were received for the flat, easily developed land on Petaluma's east side. City policy calls for dividing the 500 units evenly between both sides of town.

Applications for the east side total 902 units, with 707 for single-family homes and 195 for apartments. West side applications total 493 units, with 270 for single homes and 223 for apartments. One application for 100 apartment units was submitted for the area considered central Petaluma.

East side applications include two from Wesley Bailey Land Co., with 30 homes requested for the third phase of Cambridge Square subdivision on South McDowell Boulevard and 100 homes for Village Green subdivision on Ely Boulevard South.

Petaluma Partners Inc. requested 77 homes and Luis, Williams and Minor Inc. asked for 89 single homes. Both are also on Ely Boulevard South.

Qantas Development Co. also submitted two applications, including 100 apartment units in the Greenbriar subdivision and 100 single houses on North McDowell Boulevard.

Two applications for mobile home parks will be reviewed and include David D. Young for 58 units and Caster Corp. for 100 units to expand Petaluma Estates Mobile Home Park. Both are on North McDowell Boulevard.

John Patrick McGuire submitted applications for 200 single-family homes and 100 apartment units on Sunnyslope Avenue extension. Winterhalder and Baker Inc. requested 32 homes built on Sunnyslope Avenue near I Street.

Debra Homes Inc. asked permission for 85 single homes and 100 apartment units on I Street extension.

The board is expected to meet each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at city hall until recommendations are made in late November.

Tiburon Sets Discussion Tonight On Agency Plans

What kinds of building projects in Tiburon's downtown area should be undertaken by a redevelopment agency?

The Tiburon City Council will discuss that question today at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer said he plans to ask the council, which also serves as the city's redevelopment agency, to set guidelines for him to use in preparing a plan for a redevelopment project area.

Mayor Branwell D. Fanning and Councilman Allan N. Littman are also expected to report on plans for that area by Sequoia Pacific, a development firm which is a general partner of the railroad.

Heart Monitor Device Shown

BERKELEY (UPI) —An electronic box designed to give an audible warning when a person's heart shows signs of an impending attack was demonstrated yesterday by a University of California professor.

Dr. John W. Gofman, who developed the pocket-sized box, said it would beep if a patient's heart is going too fast, too slow or exhibiting a twitching behavior called "premature ventricular contraction."

Severe heart seizures, called ventricular fibrillations, often are preceded for several hours by PVCs, Gofman said.

His hope is that the beeping box will send such patients to physicians for anesthetic injections that almost always prevent the attack from occurring.

$176,000 For A Hitler Auto

Thirty-three-year-old Robert Pass of St. Louis, who is Jewish, said he he plans to display the car across the country and donate the proceedings to Jewish charities. Three-inch metal swastikas adorn the front fenders.

He bought the car from Earl Clark, a Lancaster tourist executive, who bought it for $153,000 in Scottsdale, Ariz., last January.

Major Crimes Show Decrease

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) - The number of major crimes in San Francisco during September decreased by 2 per cent from September 1972, Police Chief Donald Scott said yesterday.

There were 3,870 major crimes in the city compared with 3,956 during the same month a year ago.

The totals, with 1973 figures first: Murders 14-3, rapes 44-46, robberies 305-393, aggravated assaults 225-205, burglaries 1,365-1,232, larcenies 1,096-1,025, auto thefts 821-1,052.

Did We Descend From Spacemen?

By KAREN PETERSON

According to one man's theory, we could be descendants of ancient astronauts, explorers who touched earth thousands of years ago and mated with the primitive inhabitants they found.

This is the speculation of Swiss-born author Erich von Daniken, a speculation that has been both damned and lauded by readers of his first of three books on extraterrestrial beings, "Chariots of the Gods?"

It is also possible, says von Daniken, that these men, so different in intelligence and appearance from early man, could have been labeled gods.

And using the scripture that says man was created in God's image, speculates von Daniken, "our development through the ages is a mirror to what has happened before, on a planet millions of light years away."

Von Daniken, who expressed his views yesterday at a press conference, was visiting Marin prior to tonight's public appearance at 8 o'clock in the gymnasium at College of Marin.

He has spent nearly 20 years researching his theory through such ancient materials as the writings of the Biblical prophets, the books of the Tibetan lamas, stone relics of the Mayas and Incas, the pyramids and hundreds of ancient temples to unnamed gods.

But von Daniken was also quick to add that his theory does not alter his belief in one omnipotent god.

"I have a deep belief in God, and if my theory is right, it has nothing to do with God," said the 38-year-old von Daniken.

"I didn't lose my God," he said, "before I had a little God. What I have now is a univeral God, much bigger than before. God is timeless, something we cannot distinguish."

His quest began in high school in Zoffingen, Switzerland. Raised in a strong Catholic home, the former hotelier said he "began to doubt, as all young people do, what I had learned about religion. I had serious doubts."

ERICK VON DANIKEN
Ancient astronaut theory

"I was told that the best way to understand (religion) is to read the Old Testament carefully," he said. From the Old Testament, von Daniken went to the ancient translations of the Sumerians, and found, he said, that many parts of the book of Moses did not belong. "They were older, much older texts," he said.

Von Daniken, who said he has been attacked worldwide for his speculations on the Bible, believes that many of his theories can be proven through Biblical writings.

The prophet Ezekiel's description of fiery chariots is actually an unsophisticated account of an advanced spaceship, said von Daniken, adding that NASA space engineer Josef F. Blumrich has scientifically examined and supported this theory.

With a modern view, he said, scientists can come to the same conclusion. "All scholars have looked to the Old Testament with yesterday's eyes. I am attacking parts of the Old Testament and giving new possible explanations for it," he said.

Von Daniken speculates that Earth was visited by these men for a period of about 20 years. They interbred for two reasons, he said, fear and a time element.

"I speculate that the command ship did not land but was in orbit," said von Daniken, "and the commander of the ship was possibly going on other missions."

"I speculate," he continued, "with a good basis, that ground stations were set up to collect data." Fearing that the command ship might not come back, and thinking that perhaps they would have to pass their life on this planet, the men started to impart to it their own intelligent life, he said.

"There was also the possibility that their own civilization didn't exist anymore," says von Daniken, so they visited a series of planets, passing on intelligence so they would always have a place in time to visit.

"I feel that these visitors from outer space wouldn't have left this planet without leaving evidence of their presence," he said. "Indications of these space travellers were left in the symbols of ancient Egypt and Sumeria."

The astronauts "put some identification in mankind's past," he said, "proof that could only be understood by generations that make space travel."

For the future, von Daniken sees no other alternative than to colonize outer space. "Man has always needed a bigger view to end his own little difficulties," he said.

"We have to understand that we all live on one ball. Peace will come with space travel."

"What is intelligence?" he asked. "Intelligence is to ask questions and find out why and for what reasons things happen."

What if our science has all the answers someday, he queried, "What next? We'll look to the sky. The intelligent go to the cosmos."

Eligibility Remains In Some Areas

Veterans, who were discharged between Jan. 31, 1955, and June 1, 1966, have two more years to take flight, farm or on-the-job training under the GI bill, according to James V. Burdick, Marin County veterans service officer.

But, he added, their eligibility for other kinds of schools and colleges expires May 31.

The law gives each veteran eight years to use his GI bill eligibility, and for most, this means until eight years after discharge, Burdick said.

The post Korean War group had no GI bill eligibility until 1966 when the current bill became effective and consequently have eight years from the date of the law - June 1, 1966.

In 1967, other forms of training were added such as flight training and eligibility for these benefits starts from the date of the amendment - Aug. 31, 1967.

Veterans with questions about their educational benefits may contact the veterans service office, Room 424, Civic Center.

Rail Switching Yard Crewmen Call In 'Sick'

OAKLAND (UPI) - A majority of 330 Southern Pacific Co. train crew members called in "sick" yesterday halting the railroad's local switching yard operations, the company reported.

Officials of the United Transportation Union said the work stoppage was unauthorized. They added the crewmen were protesting recent disciplinary actions, layovers away from home and the distribution of unscheduled work.

On Sunday U.S. District Judge Charles B. Renfrew issued a temporary restraining order against a stoppage. He said the contract required the grievances be submitted to arbitration.

SP said passenger and long-distance freight trains were kept on schedule by crews of supervisors and non-striking workers. But the company was unable to move train cars to or from industrial centers.

RAIN SOAKS PUBLIC LIBRARY

Plastic covers tables and shelves and buckets collect dripping water as rain poured into the San Rafael Public Library yesterday. The damage occurred after workmen doing structural repairs to the building partially removed the roof and rain came through the ceiling. Extensive damage to the plaster on walls and ceiling was reported.

Larkspur To View Land, Housing Elements Again

The Larkspur City Council last night postponed decisions of two key elements of its proposed general plan, but finished reviewing and changing some wording in the remainder of the 57-page document.

The housing and land use elements of the plan will be considered at a fourth special meeting of the council to be held Oct. 29 at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

Consideration of the land use element was postponed after city planning director John E. Roberto said that interested citizen groups wishing to comment on it had not expected the matter to be brought up and were not present. The items was on the agenda.

Consideration of the housing element awaits completion of a study by Roberto on what percentages of low and moderate income housing exist in the city based on the 1970 census.

Roberto's study, ordered by councilmen last week and scheduled for presentation "by the end of the month," is to be used in determining whether low and moderate-income housing provisions would be mandatory or based on "incentives."

Robert E. Roberts, cochairman of the citizens' committee on housing and an advocate of greater low and moderate-income housing, told the council housing costs could be cut "15 to 20 per cent per unit" by clustering new construction.

Quoting figures from several U.S. government sources, Roberts said high density construction would make for more efficient use of manpower and equipment during building and would save on water and sewage costs.

He added that developers could "cut back on the space in each dwelling while still providing adequate housing and still providing people a chance to live in Marin County." He said the average single-family residence constructed recently contained 1,440 square feet, compared to 1,340 a decade ago.

Following Roberts' comments, the council considered the proposed plan point-by-point, making changes in wording.

General Objective III of the open space element was altered to read "Ridgelands that provide community separation should be of prime consideration in acquisition of open space sites," allaying Councilman Joan Sestak's fear that the original insistence on "accessability and usability" as criteria would rule out acquisition of the remainder of the Northridge area.

Development of a park east of U.S. 101 and south of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard along the bay frontage was added as an open space goal.

The proposal to "adopt standards and programs to promote underground utility wiring," was deleted after Councilman William G. Fleckles said it was illegal because the state Public Utilities Commission has jurisdiction in such matters.

Nine persons attended the two-hour, 29-minute meeting.

Board To Review Applications For Petaluma Housing Permits

Development applications for nearly 1,500 living units – three times more than the annual limit – will face the Petaluma Residential Allotment Board when it begins the selection process tomorrow.

The 17-member board has the task of reviewing the 17 development plans submitted by 15 developers and will recommend at the end of November which should be permitted under the building limitation of 500 units per year.

The policy of limiting growth has been challenged by the Construction Industry Association as unconstitutional and will be tested at a federal court trial on Nov. 13.

Building applications total 1,495 units and include 977 single-family units and 518 multiple units. As was the case last year, more building applications were received for the flat, easily developed land on Petaluma's east side. City policy calls for dividing the 500 units evenly between both sides of town.

Applications for the east side total 902 units, with 707 for single-family homes and 195 for apartments. West side applications total 493 units, with 270 for single homes and 223 for apartments. One application for 100 apartment units was submitted for the area considered central Petaluma.

East side applications include two from Wesley Bailey Land Co., with 30 homes requested for the third phase of Cambridge Square subdivision on South McDowell Boulevard and 100 homes for Village Green subdivision on Ely Boulevard South.

Petaluma Partners Inc. requested 77 homes and Luis, Williams and Minor Inc. asked for 89 single homes. Both are also on Ely Boulevard South.

Qantas Development Co. also submitted two applications, including 100 apartment units in the Greenbriar subdivision and 100 single houses on North McDowell Boulevard.

Two applications for mobile home parks will be reviewed and include David D. Young for 58 units and Caster Corp. for 100 units to expand Petaluma Estates Mobile Home Park. Both are on North McDowell Boulevard.

John Patrick McGuire submitted applications for 200 single-family homes and 100 apartment units on Sunnyslope Avenue extension. Winterhalder and Baker Inc. requested 32 homes built on Sunnyslope Avenue near I Street.

Debra Homes Inc. asked permission for 85 single homes and 100 apartment units on I Street extension.

The board is expected to meet each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at city hall until recommendations are made in late November.

Tiburon Sets Discussion Tonight On Agency Plans

What kinds of building projects in Tiburon's downtown area should be undertaken by a redevelopment agency?

The Tiburon City Council will discuss that question today at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer said he plans to ask the council, which also serves as the city's redevelopment agency, to set guidelines for him to use in preparing a plan for a redevelopment project area.

Mayor Branwell D. Fanning and Councilman Allan N. Littman are also expected to report on plans for that area by Sequoia Pacific, a development firm which is a general partner of the railroad.

Sewage Pipe In Tiburon Is Cleared

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A belated environmental impact report on a Tiburon Sanitary District project completed earlier this year has concluded it "will not have any significant detrimental environmental effect."

The report by the State Lands Commission staff will come before the commission on Oct. 25 in Los Angeles. The staff's conclusion presumably assures that the commission will not order removal of the work.

The district ran into the commission's jurisdiction when it built a four-inch steel pipe outfall 500 feet offshore from Paradise Cove. It failed, however, to seek commission approval.

(James Murray, president of the district board, told the Independent-Journal the district thought it had final approval with endorsement of the project by the Army Corps of Engineers, "it being about the 19th agency we spent 18 months wrestling with to get the project."

The pipe discharges 25,000 gallons of disinfected sewage wastewater a day to a point 3,000 feet south of Paradise Beach County Park, but the report said there was "little or no probability of concentration build up" of pollution.

It acknowledged an "unavoidable" deposition of "miniscule quantities of settleable solids," but said "the probability is remote that there will be a significant layer of these solids formed near the discharge line."

Heart Monitor Device Shown

BERKELEY (UPI) —An electronic box designed to give an audible warning when a person's heart shows signs of an impending attack was demonstrated yesterday by a University of California professor.

Dr. John W. Gofman, who developed the pocket-sized box, said it would beep if a patient's heart is going too fast, too slow or exhibiting a twitching behavior called "premature ventricular contraction."

Severe heart seizures, called ventricular fibrillations, often are preceded for several hours by PVCs, Gofman said.

His hope is that the beeping box will send such patients to physicians for anesthetic injections that almost always prevent the attack from occurring.

$176,000 For A Hitler Auto

Thirty-three-year-old Robert Pass of St. Louis, who is Jewish, said he he plans to display the car across the country and donate the proceedings to Jewish charities. Three-inch metal swastikas adorn the front fenders.

He bought the car from Earl Clark, a Lancaster tourist executive, who bought it for $153,000 in Scottsdale, Ariz., last January.

ORDINANCE NO. 1122

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL REPEALING CHAPTER 3.18 OF TITLE 3 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL, AND REENACTING CHAPTER 3.18 OF TITLE 3, ENTITLED UNIFORM LOCAL SALES AND USE TAX.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

DIVISION 1. Chapter 3.18 of Title 3 of the Municipal Code of the City of San Rafael, entitled Uniform Local Sales and Use Tax, is hereby repealed.

DIVISION 2. Chapter 3.18 of Title 3 of the Municipal Code of the City of San Rafael, entitled Uniform Local Sales and Use Tax, is hereby reenacted and shall read as follows:

Chapter 3.18 Uniform Local Sales and Use Tax.

Sections:
3.18.010 Short Title.
3.18.020 Rate.
3.18.030 Operative Date.
3.18.040 Purpose.
3.18.050 Contract With State.
3.18.060 Sales Tax.
3.18.070 Place of Sale.
3.18.080 Use Tax.
3.18.090 Adoption of Provisions of State Law.
3.18.100 Limitations on Adoption of State Law.
3.18.110 Permit Not Required.
3.18.120 Exclusions and Exemptions.
3.18.130 Exclusions and Exemptions.
3.18.140 Application of Provisions Relating to Exclusions and Exemptions.
3.18.150 Amendments.
3.18.160 Enjoining Collection Forbidden.
3.18.170 Penalties.
3.18.180 Repeals.
3.18.190 Existing Sales and Use Tax Ordinances Suspended.

3.18.010 SHORT TITLE. This ordinance shall be known as the Uniform Local Sales and Use Tax Ordinance.

3.18.020 RATE. The rate of sales tax and use tax imposed by this ordinance shall be 1%.

3.18.030 OPERATIVE DATE. This ordinance shall be operative on January 1, 1974.

3.18.040 PURPOSE. The City Council hereby declares that this ordinance is adopted to achieve the following, among other, purposes, and directs that the provisions hereof be interpreted in order to accomplish those purposes:

A. To adopt a sales and use tax ordinance which complies with the requirements and limitations contained in Part 1.5 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code;

B. To adopt a sales and use tax ordinance which incorporates provisions identical to those of the Sales and Use Tax Law of the State of California insofar as those provisions are not inconsistent with the requirements and limitations contained in Part 1.5 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code;

C. To adopt a sales and use tax ordinance which imposes a tax and provides a measure therefore that can be administered and collected by the State Board of Equalization in a manner that adapts itself as fully as practicable to, and requires the least possible deviation from the existing statutory and administrative procedures followed by the State Board of Equalization in administering and collecting the California State Sales and Use Taxes;

D. To adopt a sales and use tax ordinance which can be administered in a manner that will, to the degree possible consistent with the provisions of Part 1.5 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, minimize the cost of collecting city sales and use taxes and at the same time minimize the burden of record keeping upon persons subject to taxation under the provisions of this ordinance.

3.18.050 CONTRACT WITH STATE. Prior to the operative date this city shall contract with the State Board of Equalization to perform all functions incident to the administration and operation of this sales and use tax ordinance; provided, that if this city shall not have contracted with the State Board of Equalization prior to the operative date, it shall nevertheless so contract and in such a case the operative date shall be the first day of the first calendar quarter following the execution of such a contract rather than the first day of the first calendar quarter following the adoption of this ordinance.

3.18.060 SALES TAX. For the privilege of selling tangible personal property at retail a tax is hereby imposed upon all retailers in the city at the rate stated in Section 3.18.020 hereof, of the gross receipts of the retailer from the sale of all tangible personal property sold at retail in this city on and after the operative date.

3.18.070 PLACE OF SALE. For the purposes of this ordinance, all retail sales are consummated at the place of business of the retailer unless the tangible personal property sold is delivered by the retailer or his agent to an out-of-State destination or to a common carrier for delivery to an out-of-State destination. The gross receipts from such sales shall include delivery charges, when such charges are subject to the State sales and use tax, regardless of the place to which delivery is made. In the event a retailer has no permanent place of business in the State or has more than one place of business, the place or places at which the retail sales are consummated shall be determined under rules and regulations to be prescribed and adopted by the State Board of Equalization.

3.18.080 USE TAX. An excise tax is hereby imposed on the storage, use or other consumption in this city of tangible personal property purchased from any retailer on and after the operative date for storage, use or other consumption in this city at the rate stated in Section 3.18.020 hereof of the sales price of the property. The sales price shall include delivery charges when such changes are subject to State sales or use tax regardless of the place to which delivery is made.

3.18.090 ADOPTION OF PROVISIONS OF STATE LAW. Except as otherwise provided in this ordinance and except insofar as they are inconsistent with the provisions of Part 1.5 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, all of the provisions of Part 1 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code are hereby adopted and made a part of this ordinance as though fully set forth herein.

3.18.100 LIMITATIONS ON ADOPTION OF STATE LAW. In adopting the provisions of Part 1 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, wherever the State of California is named or referred to as the taxing agency, the name of this City shall be substituted therefore. The substitution, however, shall not be made when the word "State" is used as part of the title of the State Controller, the State Treasurer, the State Board of Control, the State Board of Equalization, the State Treasury, or the Constitution of the State of California; the substitution shall not be made when the result of that substitution would require action to be taken by or against the City, or any agency thereof rather than by or against the State Board of Equalization, in performing the functions incident to the administration or operation of this ordinance; the substitution shall not be made in those sections, including, but not necessarily limited to, sections referring to the exterior boundaries of the State of California, where the result of the substitution would be to provide an exemption from this tax with respect to certain sales, storage, use or other consumption of tangible personal property which would not otherwise be exempt from this tax while such sales, storage, use or other consumption remain subject to tax by the State under the provisions of Part 1 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, or to impose this tax with respect to certain sales, storage, use or other consumption of tangible personal property which would not be subject to tax by the State under the said provisions of that Code; the substitution shall not be made in Sections 6701, 6702 (except in the last sentence thereof), 6711, 6715, 6737, 6797 or 6828 of the Revenue and Taxation Code; and the substitution shall not be made for the word "State" in the phrase "retailer engaged in business in this State" in Section 6203 or in the definition of that phrase in Section 6203.

3.18.110 PERMIT NOT REQUIRED. If a seller's permit has been issued to a retailer under Section 6067 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, an additional seller's permit shall not be required by this ordinance.

3.18.120 EXCLUSIONS AND EXEMPTIONS. There shall be excluded from the measure of tax:

A. The amount of any sales or use tax imposed by the State of California upon a retailer or consumer.

B. The storage, use or other consumption of tangible personal property, the gross receipts from the sale of which has been subject to sales tax under a sales and use tax ordinance enacted in accordance with Part 1.5 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code by any city and county, county, or city in this State.

C. The gross receipts from sales to, and the storage, use or other consumption of property purchased by, operators of common carriers and waterborne vessels to be used or consumed in the operation of such common carriers or waterborne vessels principally outside this city.

D. The storage or use of tangible personal property in the transportation or transmission of persons, property or communications, or in the generation, transmission or distribution of electricity or in the manufacture, transmission or distribution of gas in intrastate, interstate or foreign commerce by public utilities which are regulated by the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California.

3.18.130 EXCLUSIONS AND EXEMPTIONS.

A. The amount subject to tax shall not include any sales or use tax imposed by the State of California upon a retailer or consumer.

B. The storage, use, or other consumption of tangible personal property, the gross receipts from the sale of which have been subject to tax under a sales and use tax ordinance enacted in accordance with Part 1.5 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code by any city and county, county, or city in this State shall be exempt from the tax due under this ordinance.

C. There are exempted from the computation of the amount of the sales tax the gross receipts from the sale of tangible personal property to operators of waterborne vessels to be used or consumed principally outside the city in which the sale is made and directly and exclusively in the carriage of persons or property in such vessels for commercial purposes.

D. The storage, use, or other consumption of tangible personal property purchased by operators of waterborne vessels and used or consumed by such operators directly and exclusively in the carriage of persons or property of such vessels for commercial purposes is exempted from the use tax.

E. There are exempted from the computation of the amount of the sales tax the gross receipts from the sale of tangible personal property to operators of aircraft to be used or consumed principally outside the city in which the sale is made and directly and exclusively in the use of such aircraft as common carriers of persons or property under the authority of the laws of this State, the United States, or any foreign government.

F. In addition to the exemptions provided in Sections 6366 and 6366.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code the storage, use, or other consumption of tangible personal property purchased by operators of aircraft and used or consumed by such operators directly and exclusively in the use of such aircraft as common carriers of persons or property for hire or compensation under a certificate of public convenience and necessity issued pursuant to the laws of this State, the United States, or any foreign government is exempted from the use tax.

3.18.140 APPLICATION OF PROVISIONS RELATING TO EXCLUSIONS AND EXEMPTIONS.

A. Section 3.18.130 of this ordinance shall become operative on January 1st of the year following the year in which the State Board of Equalization adopts an assessment ratio for State-assessed property which is identical to the ratio which is required for local assessments by Section 401 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, at which time Section 3.18.120 of this ordinance shall become inoperative.

B. In the event that Section 3.18.130 of this ordinance becomes operative and the State Board of Equalization subsequently adopts an assessment ratio for the state-assessed property which is higher than the ratio which is required for local assessments by Section 401 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, Section 3.18.120 of this ordinance shall become operative on the first day of the month next following the month in which such higher ratio is adopted, at which time Section 3.18.130 of this ordinance shall be inoperative until the first day of the month following the month in which the Board again adopts an assessment ratio for State-assessed property which is identical to the ratio required for local assessments by Section 401 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, at which time Section 3.18.130 shall again become operative and Section 3.18.120 shall become inoperative.

3.18.150 AMENDMENTS. All subsequent amendments of the Revenue and Taxation Code which relate to the sales and use tax and which are not inconsistent with Part 1.5 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code shall automatically become a part of this ordinance.

3.18.160 ENJOINING COLLECTION FORBIDDEN. No injunction or writ of mandate or other legal or equitable process shall issue in any suit, action or proceeding in any court against the State or this City, or against any officer of the State or this City, to prevent or enjoin the collection under this ordinance, or Part 1.5 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, of any tax or any amount of tax required to be collected.

3.18.170 PENALTIES. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine of not more than $500.00 or by imprisonment for a period of not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

3.18.180 REPEALS. Ordinance No. 620, as amended by Ordinance No. 739, is hereby repealed; provided, however, that said ordinance, as amended, shall remain applicable for the purposes of the administration of said ordinance and the imposition of and the collection of tax with respect to the sales of and the storage, use, or other consumption of tangible personal property prior to January 1, 1974, the making of refunds, effecting credits, the disposition of monies collected, and for the commencement or continuance of any action or proceeding under said ordinance.

3.18.190 EXISTING SALES AND USE TAX ORDINANCES SUSPENDED. At the time this chapter goes into operation, the provisions of Chapters 3.16 and 3.17, San Rafael Municipal Code, shall be suspended and shall not again be of any force or effect until and unless for any reason the State Board of Equalization ceases to perform the functions incident to the administration and operation of the sales and use tax hereby imposed; provided, however, that if for any reason it is determined that the city of San Rafael is without power to adopt this chapter, or that the State Board of Equalization is without power to perform the functions incident to the administration and operation of the taxes imposed by this chapter, the provisions of Chapters 3.16 and 3.17, San Rafael Municipal Code shall not be deemed to have been suspended, but shall be deemed to have been in full force and effect continuously from and after April 1, 1957. Upon the ceasing of the State Board of Equalization to perform the functions incident to the administration and operation of the taxes imposed by this chapter, the provisions of Chapter 3.16 and 3.17, San Rafael Municipal Code shall again be in full force and effect. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as relieving any person of the obligation to pay to the city of San Rafael any sales or use tax accrued and owing by reason of the provisions of any ordinance or this code in force and effect prior to the operative date of this chapter.

DIVISION 3. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this Ordinance is for any reason held to be invalid, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Ordinance. The Council hereby declares that it would have adopted the Ordinance and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared invalid.

DIVISION 4. This Ordinance shall be published once in full before its final passage in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in the City of San Rafael, and shall be in full force and effect thirty (30) days after its final passage.

ORDINANCE NO. 1122
AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL REPEALING CHAPTER 3.18 OF TITLE 3 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL, AND REENACTING CHAPTER 3.18 OF TITLE 3, ENTITLED UNIFORM LOCAL SALES AND USE TAX.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

DIVISION 1. Chapter 3.18 of Title 3 of the Municipal Code of the City of San Rafael, entitled Uniform Local Sales and Use Tax, is hereby repealed.

DIVISION 2. Chapter 3.18 of Title 3 of the Municipal Code of the City of San Rafael, entitled Uniform Local Sales and Use Tax, is hereby reenacted and shall read as follows:

Chapter 3.18 Uniform Local Sales and Use Tax.

Sections:
3.18.010 Short Title.
3.18.020 Rate.
3.18.030 Operative Date.
3.18.040 Purpose.
3.18.050 Contract With State.
3.18.060 Sales Tax.
3.18.070 Place of Sale.
3.18.080 Use Tax.
3.18.090 Adoption of Provisions of State Law.
3.18.100 Limitations on Adoption of State Law.
3.18.110 Permit Not Required.
3.18.120 Exclusions and Exemptions.
3.18.130 Exclusions and Exemptions.
3.18.140 Application of Provisions Relating to Exclusions and Exemptions.
3.18.150 Amendments.
3.18.160 Enjoining Collection Forbidden.
3.18.170 Penalties.
3.18.180 Repeals.
3.18.190 Existing Sales and Use Tax Ordinances Suspended.

3.18.010 SHORT TITLE. This ordinance shall be known as the Uniform Local Sales and Use Tax Ordinance.

3.18.020 RATE. The rate of sales tax and use tax imposed by this ordinance shall be 1%.

3.18.030 OPERATIVE DATE. This ordinance shall be operative on January 1, 1974.

3.18.040 PURPOSE. The City Council hereby declares that this ordinance is adopted to achieve the following, among other, purposes, and directs that the provisions hereof be interpreted in order to accomplish those purposes:

A. To adopt a sales and use tax ordinance which complies with the requirements and limitations contained in Part 1.5 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code;

B. To adopt a sales and use tax ordinance which incorporates provisions identical to those of the Sales and Use Tax Law of the State of California insofar as those provisions are not inconsistent with the requirements and limitations contained in Part 1.5 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code;

C. To adopt a sales and use tax ordinance which imposes a tax and provides a measure therefore that can be administered and collected by the State Board of Equalization in a manner that adapts itself as fully as practicable to, and requires the least possible deviation from the existing statutory and administrative procedures followed by the State Board of Equalization in administering and collecting the California State Sales and Use Taxes;

D. To adopt a sales and use tax ordinance which can be administered in a manner that will, to the degree possible consistent with the provisions of Part 1.5 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, minimize the cost of collecting city sales and use taxes and at the same time minimize the burden of record keeping upon persons subject to taxation under the provisions of this ordinance.

3.18.050 CONTRACT WITH STATE. Prior to the operative date this city shall contract with the State Board of Equalization to perform all functions incident to the administration and operation of this sales and use tax ordinance; provided, that if this city shall not have contracted with the State Board of Equalization prior to the operative date, it shall nevertheless so contract and in such a case the operative date shall be the first day of the first calendar quarter following the execution of such a contract rather than the first day of the first calendar quarter following the adoption of this ordinance.

3.18.060 SALES TAX. For the privilege of selling tangible personal property at retail a tax is hereby imposed upon all retailers in the city at the rate stated in Section 3.18.020 hereof, of the gross receipts of the retailer from the sale of all tangible personal property sold at retail in this city on and after the operative date.

3.18.070 PLACE OF SALE. For the purposes of this ordinance, all retail sales are consummated at the place of business of the retailer unless the tangible personal property sold is delivered by the retailer or his agent to an out-of-State destination or to a common carrier for delivery to an out-of-State destination. The gross receipts from such sales shall include delivery charges, when such charges are subject to the State sales and use tax, regardless of the place to which delivery is made. In the event a retailer has no permanent place of business in the State or has more than one place of business, the place or places at which the retail sales are consummated shall be determined under rules and regulations to be prescribed and adopted by the State Board of Equalization.

3.18.080 USE TAX. An excise tax is hereby imposed on the storage, use or other consumption in this city of tangible personal property purchased from any retailer on and after the operative date for storage, use or other consumption in this city at the rate stated in Section 3.18.020 hereof of the sales price of the property. The sales price shall include delivery charges when such charges are subject to State sales or use tax regardless of the place to which delivery is made.

3.18.090 ADOPTION OF PROVISIONS OF STATE LAW. Except as otherwise provided in this ordinance and except insofar as they are inconsistent with the provisions of Part 1.5 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, all of the provisions of Part 1 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code are hereby adopted and made a part of this ordinance as though fully set forth herein.

3.18.100 LIMITATIONS ON ADOPTION OF STATE LAW. In adopting the provisions of Part 1 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, wherever the State of California is named or referred to as the taxing agency, the name of this City shall be substituted therefore. The substitution, however, shall not be made when the word "State" is used as part of the title of the State Controller, the State Treasurer, the State Board of Control, the State Board of Equalization, the State Treasury, or the Constitution of the State of California; the substitution shall not be made when the result of that substitution would require action to be taken by or against the City, or any agency thereof rather than by or against the State Board of Equalization, in performing the functions incident to the administration or operation of this ordinance; the substitution shall not be made in those sections, including, but not necessarily limited to, sections referring to the exterior boundaries of the State of California, where the result of the substitution would be to provide an exemption from this tax with respect to certain sales, storage, use or other consumption of tangible personal property which would not otherwise be exempt from this tax while such sales, storage, use or other consumption remain subject to tax by the State under the provisions of Part 1 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, or to impose this tax with respect to certain sales, storage, use or other consumption of tangible personal property which would not be subject to tax by the State under the said provisions of that Code; the substitution shall not be made in Sections 6701, 6702 (except in the last sentence thereof), 6711, 6715, 6737, 6797 or 6828 of the Revenue and Taxation Code; and the substitution shall not be made for the word "State" in the phrase "retailer engaged in business in this State" in Section 6203 or in the definition of that phrase in Section 6203.

3.18.110 PERMIT NOT REQUIRED. If a seller's permit has been issued to a retailer under Section 6067 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, an additional seller's permit shall not be required by this ordinance.

3.18.120 EXCLUSIONS AND EXEMPTIONS. There shall be excluded from the measure of tax:

A. The amount of any sales or use tax imposed by the State of California upon a retailer or consumer.

B. The storage, use or other consumption of tangible personal property, the gross receipts from the sale of which has been subject to sales tax under a sales and use tax ordinance enacted in accordance with Part 1.5 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code by any city and county, county, or city in this State.

C. The gross receipts from sales to, and the storage, use or other consumption of property purchased by, operators of common carriers and waterborne vessels to be used or consumed in the operation of such common carriers or waterborne vessels principally outside this city.

D. The storage or use of tangible personal property in the transportation or transmission of persons, property or communications, or in the generation, transmission or distribution of electricity or in the manufacture, transmission or distribution of gas in intrastate, interstate or foreign commerce by public utilities which are regulated by the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California.

3.18.130 EXCLUSIONS AND EXEMPTIONS.

A. The amount subject to tax shall not include any sales or use tax imposed by the State of California upon a retailer or consumer.

B. The storage, use, or other consumption of tangible personal property, the gross receipts from the sale of which have been subject to sales tax under a sales and use tax ordinance enacted in accordance with Part 1.5 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code by any city and county, county, or city in this State shall be exempt from the tax due under this ordinance.

C. There are exempted from the computation of the amount of the sales tax the gross receipts from the sale of tangible personal property to operators of waterborne vessels to be used or consumed principally outside the city in which the sale is made and directly and exclusively in the carriage of persons or property in such vessels for commercial purposes.

D. The storage, use, or other consumption of tangible personal property purchased by operators of waterborne vessels and used or consumed by such operators directly and exclusively in the carriage of persons or property of such vessels for commercial purposes is exempted from the use tax.

E. There are exempted from the computation of the amount of the sales tax the gross receipts from the sale of tangible personal property to operators of aircraft to be used or consumed principally outside the city in which the sale is made and directly and exclusively in the use of such aircraft as common carriers of persons or property under the authority of the laws of this State, the United States, or any foreign government.

F. In addition to the exemptions provided in Sections 6366 and 6366.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code the storage, use, or other consumption of tangible personal property purchased by operators of aircraft and used or consumed by such operators directly and exclusively in the use of such aircraft as common carriers of persons or property for hire or compensation under a certificate of public convenience and necessity issued pursuant to the laws of this State, the United States, or any foreign government is exempted from the use tax.

3.18.140 APPLICATION OF PROVISIONS RELATING TO EXCLUSIONS AND EXEMPTIONS.

A. Section 3.18.130 of this ordinance shall become operative on January 1st of the year following the year in which the State Board of Equalization adopts an assessment ratio for State-assessed property which is identical to the ratio which is required for local assessments by Section 401 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, at which time Section 3.18.120 of this ordinance shall become inoperative.

B. In the event that Section 3.18.130 of this ordinance becomes operative and the State Board of Equalization subsequently adopts an assessment ratio for the state-assessed property which is higher than the ratio which is required for local assessments by Section 401 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, Section 3.18.120 of this ordinance shall become operative on the first day of the month next following the month in which such higher ratio is adopted, at which time Section 3.18.130 of this ordinance shall be inoperative until the first day of the month following the month in which the Board again adopts an assessment ratio for State-assessed property which is identical to the ratio required for local assessments by Section 401 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, at which time Section 3.18.130 shall again become operative and Section 3.18.120 shall become inoperative.

3.18.150 AMENDMENTS. All subsequent amendments of the Revenue and Taxation Code which relate to the sales and use tax and which are not inconsistent with Part 1.5 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code shall automatically become a part of this ordinance.

3.18.160 ENJOINING COLLECTION FORBIDDEN. No injunction or writ of mandate or other legal or equitable process shall issue in any suit, action or proceeding in any court against the State or this City, or against any officer of the State or this City, to prevent or enjoin the collection under this ordinance, or Part 1.5 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, of any tax or any amount of tax required to be collected.

3.18.170 PENALTIES. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine of not more than $500.00 or by imprisonment for a period of not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

3.18.180 REPEALS. Ordinance No. 620, as amended by Ordinance No. 739, is hereby repealed; provided, however, that said ordinance, as amended, shall remain applicable for the purposes of the administration of said ordinance and the imposition of and the collection of tax with respect to the sales of and the storage, use, or other consumption of tangible personal property prior to January 1, 1974, the making of refunds, effecting credits, the disposition of monies collected, and for the commencement or continuance of any action or proceeding under said ordinance.

3.18.190 EXISTING SALES AND USE TAX ORDINANCES SUSPENDED. At the time this chapter goes into operation, the provisions of Chapters 3.16 and 3.17, San Rafael Municipal Code, shall be suspended and shall not again be of any force or effect until and unless for any reason the State Board of Equalization ceases to perform the functions incident to the administration and operation of the sales and use tax hereby imposed; provided, however, that if for any reason it is determined that the city of San Rafael is without power to adopt this chapter, or that the State Board of Equalization is without power to perform the functions incident to the administration and operation of the taxes imposed by this chapter, the provisions of Chapters 3.16 and 3.17, San Rafael Municipal Code shall not be deemed to have been suspended, but shall be deemed to have been in full force and effect continuously from and after April 1, 1957. Upon the ceasing of the State Board of Equalization to perform the functions incident to the administration and operation of the taxes imposed by this chapter, the provisions of Chapter 3.16 and 3.17, San Rafael Municipal Code shall again be in full force and effect. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as relieving any person of the obligation to pay to the city of San Rafael any sales or use tax accrued and owing by reason of the provisions of any ordinance or this code in force and effect prior to the operative date of this chapter.

DIVISION 3. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this Ordinance is for any reason held to be invalid, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Ordinance. The Council hereby declares that it would have adopted the Ordinance and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared invalid.

DIVISION 4. This Ordinance shall be published once in full before its final passage in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in the City of San Rafael, and shall be in full force and effect thirty (30) days after its final passage.

Girls Carry Weapons For Angola Militia

By FREDERIC HUNTER
The Christian Science Monitor News Service

But the Portuguese-made submachine gun she carries gives a different impression. And so do the three watchtowers and barbed-wire fencing that protect her home village of Dambi-Angola.

Albertina is head of the ten 17-to-19-year-old girls who form Dambi-Angola's Girls Militia, a wing of the village's larger self-defense force. Though she has never fired her submachine gun at guerrillas and seems laughingly alarmed at the idea, still she has been trained to use the weapon and can do so in emergencies. Guerrillas have attacked Dambi-Angola several times.

Albertina is 19. If she looks only 14 by American standards, the reason may be that she experienced a period of prolonged undernourishment as a child. Twelve years ago in Quitexe, a nearby town, anti-Portuguese guerrillas murdered settlers, triggering Portugal's first modern colonial rebellion in Africa.

The harsh Portuguese repression in response of the rebellion forced most of this area's people to live for a time in the dense forests that cloak the surrounding hills. Forest living is full of the kind of hardship that often leaves a mark. Even so, guerrillas (estimated at 1,500 to 2,500 men along with some civilians) still remain there.

For both Albertina and the Portuguese the journey to Dambi-Angola village has been a long one.

Independent observers here express surprise that Portuguese blandishments have won greater support from this region's peasants than has the guerrillas' political indoctrination. But after literally centuries of exploiting Africans, the Portuguese seem at last to be changing their ways. Or at least they have changed sufficiently to more than hold their own against the guerrillas.

In the 12 years since Quitexe, the Portuguese seem to have realized the value of countering guerrilla subversion by tangibly raising living standards.

The Portuguese have gathered into villages people who used to live scattered across the land. This has both complicated guerrilla access to them and given the Portuguese a chance to provide the villages with wells, schools, sanitary facilities, and dispensaries. Some villages now are supplied with electricity; Dambi-Angola has had it for two years.

Most men here farm coffee on small holdings of their own. Some earn as much as $1,000 a year, a high annual income by rural African standards, and have bank accounts in Luanda, the capital. Some villages have formed coffee producers' cooperatives.

The guerrillas cannot compete with these material benefits, especially guerrilla movements like the Popular Union for Angola (UPA), which operates in this area. The Union has been accused of "mountain-topism," of sitting around parceling out the ministries of Angola's future government rather than doing through political education work among the peasants.

Because of these factors, the Portuguese say, the guerrillas have trouble holding their supporters. Down the road at Cambeje, former UPA activits and supporters who have surrendered to the Portuguese are building a village for themselves.

Among them is Francisco Alexandre da Cunha. He denies ever fighting for the UPA but admits to having commanded units of crop-growing civilians. Before surrendering in February, he had spent almost 12 years in the forest.

He finally decided to leave the forest when he met Moniz, a former guerrilla who had come back looking for his family. As Francisco tells the story, he had thought the Portuguese would kill Moniz. When he saw him alive, he decided to surrender too. The fact that his wife had just had their first child may have influenced his decision.

The evidence of Dambi-Angola and Cambeje suggests that the Portuguese can give this region's peoples sufficient material benefits to hold the guerrillas at bay. But these very benefits may yet awaken new aspirations which cannot be so easily contained.

Eight Children Die In Mobile Home Fire

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (UPI) —Eight children were killed early today in an explosion and fire at a mobile home in nearby Jerry City, authorities said.

George Loomis, fire chief at Jerry City, a community of 500 located about 10 miles south of this northwestern Ohio city, said the victims were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Trevina.

The parents do maintenance work at Bowling Green State University and were not at home at the time, authorities said.

Fire officials at first said nine children died in the fire. They changed the total to eight, however, after the bodies were removed to a funeral home.

Mrs. Myrtle Trumbull, a neighbor, gave the first call on the fire at 5:30 a.m. (EDT), after she said she heard an explosion.

Mrs. Trumbull, wife of a Jerry City fireman, said she heard the children running through the mobile home as if they were attempting to get out.

There were two doors in the trailer. Firemen went to the one in the rear at first and found it jammed. By the time they got into the trailer all the children were dead.

The cause of the fire and the children's deaths were not immediately determined.

Evidence Lack Found In Arrest

The Marin District Attorney's office has decided it has insufficient evidence to prosecute two San Geronimo residents for a variety of offenses.

No complaint will be filed against Kathlyn Irene Stevens, 26, and Barnett Joseph Sumski, 37, both of 100 Creamery Road.

They were arrested Sept. 3 after a Marin City man complained they were lurking outside his house in the early morning hours.

Miss Stevens was held on suspicion of possessing heroin and prowling, while Sumski was booked on suspicion of prowling and possessing a concealed weapon without a license.

Warrant Issued For Oakland Man

A warrant for the arrest of an Oakland man accused of burglarizing a Sausalito home has been issued because the man failed to appear for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court.

Visitors Are 'Helped' Back On Their Ship

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Eight sailors from a Greek ship who "fell in love" with San Francisco during a three-day visit and wanted to stay were reunited with their shipmates with the help of police yesterday.

Police Capt. J. William Conroy said the sailors, six Greeks and two Turks, tried to jump ship shortly before the Vissilis Katskis departed with a shipload of American wheat for the Soviet Union.

Conroy said six of the sailors were persuaded to return to their ship after it was pointed out they would probably see the inside of a jail and courtroom instead of the city's sights. The other two sailors were "helped" aboard by police.

Woman Charged With Petty Theft

Only a petty theft charge has been filed against Barbara Jean Mechanick, 21, of Mill Valley, originally arrested on suspicion of possessing heroin as well.

Miss Mechanick is due to plead to the charge tomorrow. She was said to have been carrying heroin when she was searched after a clerk at a Mill Valley boutique arrested her Sept. 11 for allegedly shoplifting a sweater.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Arthritis Of Feet Is Common Among Those With Rheumatism

Arthritis of the feet is especially common among persons with rheumatism elsewhere. It is often neglected and missed because the pain is blamed on fallen arches or poorly fitted shoes. The joints of the foot are more difficult to examine, yet statistics show that many types of arthritis involve the feet as often as the hands. Ninety per cent of those with rheumatoid arthritis have some foot involvement.

Mistakes in diagnosis are understandable because the arches of the foot are made up of joints that are held together by fibrous tissues. The spaces between the joints are separated by smooth synovial membranes that enhance the action of these small hinges.

THEY ALSO add flexibility to the foot. All of these tissues are involved initially in rheumatoid arthritis and create considerable swelling. In time, the bones thicken and the joint itself becomes stiff. The ensuing deformities depend upon the forces of weight bearing, muscle action, and shoes that do not fit properly.

Rigidity of the foot is due to inflammatory scar tissue and adds to the distress. Once rigid flat foot develops, the bony prominences, especially of the metatarsal joints, become tender. This corresponds to the transverse arch just behind the toes. The skin (sole) over these bones becomes calloused and extremely tender. It is no fun to walk "on your arthritis." Treatment is aimed at taking the weight off the painful spots and is not unlike that used to relieve arch trouble.

SEVERAL YEARS ago we received a letter from a middle-aged man who had been treated for painful arches for more than 20 years. Special shoes fitted with felt pads lessened the pressure on his metatarsal bones. Once when the pain was more acute than usual, his physician injected cortisone into the most tender joint. Within an hour, the pain subsided and he was comfortable for weeks thereafter. Did he have arthritis or ordinary arch trouble? My guess is that it was arthritis.

The basic treatment for arthritic feet is similar to that of arthritis elsewhere. If you are too heavy, lose weight. Keep up your spirits, because mood is reflected in a person's walk. Special shoes with well-placed felt pads or molded intersoles may be necessary to shift the weight away from the tender joint. When conservative measures fail, surgery may be needed.

Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to Dr. Van Dellen, c/o the Independent-Journal, P.O. Box 330, San Rafael, Ca. 94902.

DEEP KNEE BENDS

C.F. writes: I thought deep knee bends were a good exercise. According to some reports, these maneuvers can damage the ligaments around the knees. Is this true?

REPLY

Yes. Deep knee bends place considerable stress on all structures of the joint. This stress is increased when deep squats are done while holding weights on the shoulder. Furthermore knee bends overstretch the collateral ligaments and lead to joint instability. In addition, cartilage can also be damaged when squatting and more so, when the toes are pointed outward.

VITAMIN E

B. R. writes: I heard that taking vitamin E could cause cancer. Is there any truth to this?

REPLY

Professor Says Elderly Can Learn

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dr. Carl Eisdorfer, a professor of psychiatry and head of the Duke University Center for the Study of Aging, says it's stupid to look at the elderly and say — "You can't teach an old dog new tricks."

That's wrong on two counts: One, the elderly bear little resemblance to dogs. Two, older persons can learn new things quite well if the material isn't presented too rapidly.

FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

11:05 a.m., Mill Valley — Report of explosion at 121 Cornelia Avenue, residence of A. W. Edmister, turned out to be smoldering electric wires inside house caused by line coming down nearby.

12:09 p.m., Strawberry — Leaking gas caused car fire at 1024 Redwood Highway in auto belonging to Gary Cargile of that address; unknown amount of damage to engine compartment.

4:45 p.m., San Rafael — False alarm at 88 Vivian Way called in to fire station.

8:19 p.m., Sausalito — Car fire at Highway 101 northbound south of tunnel in auto belonging to John Holbrook of Greenbrae; driving on blown-out tire led to ignition of tire because of friction; $100 damage.

TODAY:

Teacher Pay To Be Set In Novato

The Novato Unified School District board will set salaries for the current school year when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the lecture hall at Novato High School.

Last week the board offered the teachers an 11 per cent across-the-board increase. Friday afternoon the Novato Teachers' Association voted by a slim margin to accept the offer and the American Federation of Teachers rejected it, said Supt. James G. Bunker.

The board will not only set salaries for the teachers, but salaries for nonteaching personnel, management (including the superintendent) and assistant superintendnets.

The board will consider awarding a $52,568 contract to Scheller Construction Co. for the addition to the Novato High School industrial arts building.

Other items on the agenda include a report on the testing program and holding a closed meeting to consider firing a teacher.

RESOLUTION NO. RESOLUTION OF THE SAN ANSELMO SCHOOL DISTRICT RE INTENTION TO LEASE REAL PROPERTY AND CALLING FOR SEALED BIDS.

WHEREAS, the San Anselmo School District is the owner of certain real property hereinafter described, which property is not needed for school purposes by said District; and

WHEREAS, it appears to be in the best interest of said school district that said property be leased to the highest bidder, pursuant to Sections 16061, et seq., of the Education Code of the State of California;

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY FOUND, DETERMINED AND ORDERED;

1. The property hereinafter described, owned by the San Anselmo School District, is not needed for school purposes within the time limit hereinafter set forth.

2. It is the intention of this Board to lease said property to the highest bidder according to the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth.

3. The use of the leased premises shall be limited to office and related use by a non-profit organization established for the benefit of the community.

4. That said property is situated in the County of Marin, State of California, and is particularly described and depicted on EXHIBIT "A" attached hereto and incorporated herein.

5. The minimum acceptable bid shall be $.17 per square foot. Credit against the lease price may be granted for improvements made by the Lessee on approval of the Board of Trustees. The School District will not pay a real estate commission for the lease of said property.

6. No less than one (1) vacant classroom shall be leased to any Lessee.

7. The lease of said property shall be subject to the terms and conditions set forth in EXHIBIT "B" attached hereto and incorporated herein.

8. At 8:30 o'clock P.M., on October 25, 1973, at the regular meeting place of this Board, this Board shall hold a public meeting at which time sealed proposals to lease said property shall be received and considered. Bidders shall conform in all respects in their proposed use with the conditions set forth in EXHIBIT "B". This Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids and to withdraw its offer to lease the property. Before accepting any written proposal, the Board shall call for oral bids. If, upon the call for oral bids, any responsible person offers to lease the said property upon the terms and conditions specified herein and for a rental exceeding by at least 5% the highest written proposal which is hereby made by a responsible person, such highest oral bid shall be finally accepted. The Board reserves the right, however, to determine whether or not the use proposed by the high bidder is fully compatible with the use of the adjacent premises by the School District. Price shall not be the sole criteria if the Board determines that another use is in the better interest of the School District. The Clerk of this Board is hereby directed to post copies of this resolution, adopted by at least a majority of the members of this Board, in three public places in the County not less than 15 days before the date of said public meeting, and to publish a notice thereof not less than once a week for three successive weeks before the date of said meeting in the Independent Journal, a newspaper of general circulation published in the County.

PASSED AND ADOPTED by the Board of Trustees of the San Anselmo School District at a meeting held on the 27th day of September, 1973, by the following vote:

AYES: All
NOES: None
ABSENT: None
/s/ EUGENE E. JACKS
Chairman of the Board of Trustees of San Anselmo School District
/s/ JOHN F. HULPKE
Clerk

EXHIBIT "A"

3 Classroom spaces located at Isabel Cook School, 1000 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, California.

(2 classrooms of approximately 925 square feet and 1 classroom of approximately 1100 square feet)

EXHIBIT "B"
TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR LEASE OF SAN ANSELMO SCHOOL

1. This property shall be used by the Lessee only for office and resulted use by a non-profit organization established for the benefit of the community.

2. Lessee shall, together with its bid, submit a definite proposal indicating the specific uses to which the property will be put and the means whereby it proposes to meet with the requirement that the property be used for said purposes.

3. Lessee shall provide public liability insurance coverage indemnifying the school district against suits or losses resulting from activities conducted by the user while occupying this building. Amounts of coverage shall be: Bodily Injury Liability, $100,000 each person and $300,000 single limit. Lessor shall be named as additional insured. Lessee shall indemnify and hold Lessor harmless from any liability for personal injury or property damage arising out of Lessee's use of the premises. Lessor shall continue to carry fire and extended coverage insurance on the premises; however, Lessee shall pay any increased cost of premiums caused by Lessee's use.

4. Rent shall be payable monthly on the first of each month.

5. Lessee shall provide all custodial service, including supplies, for said property. Lessor shall pay all utilities except telephone.

6. Lessee shall pay all costs of normal upkeep on the interior of the building and, upon the termination of this Lease, shall return the building to the District in the same condition, normal wear and tear excepted.

The Lessor shall have no obligation to pay for interior repairs or upkeep on the premises, including but not limited to such items as plumbing.

7. Any remodeling, interior painting, new construction, or reconstruction of the premises shall be done at the sole expense of the Lessee and only after the plans and specifications therefor have been approved by the Lessor. Said improvements shall become property of Lessor at termination of lease.

8. The lease shall be for a period from November 1, 1973 to June 30, 1974.

9. This lease shall be terminable:

(a) By Lessee at any time.

(b) By the Lessor on thirty days written notice, in the event that Lessee ceases to employ the premises exclusively for the permitted purposes.

(c) By the Lessor if it shall hereafter determine its need to re-employ the premises for the purpose of classroom instruction, and to renovate or reconstruct the existing building for such purpose, in which event the lease shall terminate thirty days prior to the estimated date of commencement of such renovation or reconstruction, and after written notice of not less than sixty (60) days.

(d) By the Lessor at any time, after violation or non-performance by the Lessee of any of the terms and provisions hereof, incurred after sixty (60) days written notice.

(e) By Lessor, upon the giving of thirty (30) days written notice, should problems arise of such severity that the Lessor, in its discretion, determines the continued use of the premises by Lessee is not in the best interests of the community.

10. Lessee shall not assign or sublease all or any part of the premises without written approval from Lessor.

11. Lessor shall provide competent supervision for all activities conducted on the premises.

Girls Carry Weapons For Angola Militia

By FREDERIC HUNTER
The Christian Science Monitor
News Service

But the Portuguese-made submachine gun she carries gives a different impression. And so do the three watchtowers and barbed-wire fencing that protect her home village of Dambi-Angola.

Albertina is head of the ten 17-to-19-year-old girls who form Dambi-Angola's Girls Militia, a wing of the village's larger self-defense force. Though she has never fired her submachine gun at guerrillas and seems laughingly alarmed at the idea, still she has been trained to use the weapon and can do so in emergencies. Guerrillas have attacked Dambi-Angola several times.

Albertina is 19. If she looks only 14 by American standards, the reason may be that she experienced a period of prolonged undernourishment as a child. Twelve years ago in Quitexe, a nearby town, anti-Portuguese guerrillas murdered settlers, triggering Portugal's first modern colonial rebellion in Africa.

The harsh Portuguese repression in response of the rebellion forced most of this area's people to live for a time in the dense forests that cloak the surrounding hills. Forest living is full of the kind of hardship that often leaves a mark. Even so, guerrillas (estimated at 1,500 to 2,500 men along with some civilians) still remain there.

For both Albertina and the Portuguese the journey to Dambi-Angola village has been a long one.

Independent observers here express surprise that Portuguese blandishments have won greater support from this region's peasants than has the guerrillas' political indoctrination. But after literally centuries of exploiting Africans, the Portuguese seem at last to be changing their ways. Or at least they have changed sufficiently to more than hold their own against the guerrillas.

In the 12 years since Quitexe, the Portuguese seem to have realized the value of countering guerrilla subversion by tangibly raising living standards.

The Portuguese have gathered into villages people who used to live scattered across the land. This has both complicated guerrilla access to them and given the Portuguese a chance to provide the villages with wells, schools, sanitary facilities, and dispensaries. Some villages now are supplied with electricity; Dambi-Angola has had it for two years.

Most men here farm coffee on small holdings of their own. Some earn as much as $1,000 a year, a high annual income by rural African standards, and have bank accounts in Luanda, the capital. Some villages have formed coffee producers' cooperatives.

The guerrillas cannot compete with these material benefits, especially guerrilla movements like the Popular Union for Angola (UPA), which operates in this area. The Union has been accused of "mountain-topism," of sitting around parceling out the ministries of Angola's future government rather than doing through political education work among the peasants.

Because of these factors, the Portuguese say, the guerrillas have trouble holding their supporters. Down the road at Cambeje, former UPA activits and supporters who have surrendered to the Portuguese are building a village for themselves.

Among them is Francisco Alexandre da Cunha. He denies ever fighting for the UPA but admits to having commanded units of crop-growing civilians. Before surrendering in February, he had spent almost 12 years in the forest.

He finally decided to leave the forest when he met Moniz, a former guerrilla who had come back looking for his family. As Francisco tells the story, he had thought the Portuguese would kill Moniz. When he saw him alive, he decided to surrender too. The fact that his wife had just had their first child may have influenced his decision.

The evidence of Dambi-Angola and Cambeje suggests that the Portuguese can give this region's peoples sufficient material benefits to hold the guerrillas at bay. But these very benefits may yet awaken new aspirations which cannot be so easily contained.

Eight Children Die In Mobile Home Fire

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (UPI) —Eight children were killed early today in an explosion and fire at a mobile home in nearby Jerry City, authorities said.

George Loomis, fire chief at Jerry City, a community of 500 located about 10 miles south of this northwestern Ohio city, said the victims were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Trevina.

The parents do maintenance work at Bowling Green State University and were not at home at the time, authorities said.

Fire officials at first said nine children died in the fire. They changed the total to eight, however, after the bodies were removed to a funeral home.

Mrs. Myrtle Trumbull, a neighbor, gave the first call on the fire at 5:30 a.m. (EDT), after she said she heard an explosion.

Mrs. Trumbull, wife of a Jerry City fireman, said she heard the children running through the mobile home as if they were attempting to get out.

There were two doors in the trailer. Firemen went to the one in the rear at first and found it jammed. By the time they got into the trailer all the children were dead.

The cause of the fire and the children's deaths were not immediately determined.

Evidence Lack Found In Arrest

The Marin District Attorney's office has decided it has insufficient evidence to prosecute two San Geronimo residents for a variety of offenses.

No complaint will be filed against Kathlyn Irene Stevens, 26, and Barnett Joseph Sumski, 37, both of 100 Creamery Road.

They were arrested Sept. 3 after a Marin City man complained they were lurking outside his house in the early morning hours.

Miss Stevens was held on suspicion of possessing heroin and prowling, while Sumski was booked on suspicion of prowling and possessing a concealed weapon without a license.

Warrant Issued For Oakland Man

A warrant for the arrest of an Oakland man accused of burglarizing a Sausalito home has been issued because the man failed to appear for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court.

Visitors Are 'Helped' Back On Their Ship

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Eight sailors from a Greek ship who "fell in love" with San Francisco during a three-day visit and wanted to stay were reunited with their shipmates with the help of police yesterday.

Police Capt. J. William Conroy said the sailors, six Greeks and two Turks, tried to jump ship shortly before the Vissilis Katskis departed with a shipload of American wheat for the Soviet Union.

Conroy said six of the sailors were persuaded to return to their ship after it was pointed out they would probably see the inside of a jail and courtroom instead of the city's sights. The other two sailors were "helped" aboard by police.

Woman Charged With Petty Theft

Only a petty theft charge has been filed against Barbara Jean Mechanick, 21, of Mill Valley, originally arrested on suspicion of possessing heroin as well.

Miss Mechanick is due to plead to the charge tomorrow. She was said to have been carrying heroin when she was searched after a clerk at a Mill Valley boutique arrested her Sept. 11 for allegedly shoplifting a sweater.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Arthritis Of Feet Is Common Among Those With Rheumatism

Arthritis of the feet is especially common among persons with rheumatism elsewhere. It is often neglected and missed because the pain is blamed on fallen arches or poorly fitted shoes. The joints of the foot are more difficult to examine, yet statistics show that many types of arthritis involve the feet as often as the hands. Ninety per cent of those with rheumatoid arthritis have some foot involvement.

Mistakes in diagnosis are understandable because the arches of the foot are made up of joints that are held together by fibrous tissues. The spaces between the joints are separated by smooth synovial membranes that enhance the action of these small hinges.

THEY ALSO add flexibility to the foot. All of these tissues are involved initially in rheumatoid arthritis and create considerable swelling. In time, the bones thicken and the joint itself becomes stiff. The ensuing deformities depend upon the forces of weight bearing, muscle action, and shoes that do not fit properly.

Rigidity of the foot is due to inflammatory scar tissue and adds to the distress. Once rigid flat foot develops, the bony prominences, especially of the metatarsal joints, become tender. This corresponds to the transverse arch just behind the toes. The skin (sole) over these bones becomes calloused and extremely tender. It is no fun to walk "on your arthritis." Treatment is aimed at taking the weight off the painful spots and is not unlike that used to relieve arch trouble.

SEVERAL YEARS ago we received a letter from a middle-aged man who had been treated for painful arches for more than 20 years. Special shoes fitted with felt pads lessened the pressure on his metatarsal bones. Once when the pain was more acute than usual, his physician injected cortisone into the most tender joint. Within an hour, the pain subsided and he was comfortable for weeks thereafter. Did he have arthritis or ordinary arch trouble? My guess is that it was arthritis.

The basic treatment for arthritic feet is similar to that of arthritis elsewhere. If you are too heavy, lose weight. Keep up your spirits, because mood is reflected in a person's walk. Special shoes with well-placed felt pads or molded intersoles may be necessary to shift the weight away from the tender joint. When conservative measures fail, surgery may be needed.

Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to Dr. Van Dellen, c/o the Independent-Journal, P.O. Box 330, San Rafael, Ca. 94902.

DEEP KNEE BENDS

C.F. writes: I thought deep knee bends were a good exercise. According to some reports, these maneuvers can damage the ligaments around the knees. Is this true?

REPLY

Yes. Deep knee bends place considerable stress on all structures of the joint. This stress is increased when deep squats are done while holding weights on the shoulder. Furthermore knee bends overstretch the collateral ligaments and lead to joint instability. In addition, cartilage can also be damaged when squatting and more so, when the toes are pointed outward.

VITAMIN E

B. R. writes: I heard that taking vitamin E could cause cancer. Is there any truth to this?

REPLY

No.

Professor Says Elderly Can Learn

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dr. Carl Eisdorfer, a professor of psychiatry and head of the Duke University Center for the Study of Aging, says it's stupid to look at the elderly and say — "You can't teach an old dog new tricks."

That's wrong on two counts: One, the elderly bear little resemblance to dogs. Two, older persons can learn new things quite well if the material isn't presented too rapidly.

FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

11:05 a.m., Mill Valley — Report of explosion at 121 Cornelia Avenue, residence of A. W. Edmister, turned out to be smoldering electric wires inside house caused by line coming down nearby.

12:09 p.m., Strawberry — Leaking gas caused car fire at 1024 Redwood Highway in auto belonging to Gary Cargile of that address; unknown amount of damage to engine compartment.

4:45 p.m., San Rafael — False alarm at 88 Vivian Way called in to fire station.

8:19 p.m., Sausalito — Car fire at Highway 101 northbound south of tunnel in auto belonging to John Holbrook of Greenbrae; driving on blown-out tire led to ignition of tire because of friction; $100 damage.

TODAY:

Teacher Pay To Be Set In Novato

The Novato Unified School District board will set salaries for the current school year when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the lecture hall at Novato High School.

Last week the board offered the teachers an 11 per cent across-the-board increase. Friday afternoon the Novato Teachers' Association voted by a slim margin to accept the offer and the American Federation of Teachers rejected it, said Supt. James G. Bunker.

The board will not only set salaries for the teachers, but salaries for nonteaching personnel, management (including the superintendent) and assistant superintendnets.

The board will consider awarding a $52,568 contract to Scheller Construction Co. for the addition to the Novato High School industrial arts building.

Other items on the agenda include a report on the testing program and holding a closed meeting to consider firing a teacher.

RESOLUTION NO. RESOLUTION OF THE SAN ANSELMO SCHOOL DISTRICT RE INTENTION TO LEASE REAL PROPERTY AND CALLING FOR SEALED BIDS.

WHEREAS, the San Anselmo School District is the owner of certain real property hereinafter described, which property is not needed for school purposes by said District; and

WHEREAS, it appears to be in the best interest of said school district that said property be leased to the highest bidder, pursuant to Sections 16061, et seq., of the Education Code of the State of California;

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY FOUND, DETERMINED AND ORDERED;

1. The property hereinafter described, owned by the San Anselmo School District, is not needed for school purposes within the time limit hereinafter set forth.

2. It is the intention of this Board to lease said property to the highest bidder according to the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth.

3. The use of the leased premises shall be limited to office and related use by a non-profit organization established for the benefit of the community.

4. That said property is situated in the County of Marin, State of California, and is particularly described and depicted on EXHIBIT "A" attached hereto and incorporated herein.

5. The minimum acceptable bid shall be $.17 per square foot. Credit against the lease price may be granted for improvements made by the Lessee on approval of the Board of Trustees. The School District will not pay a real estate commission for the lease of said property.

6. No less than one (1) vacant classroom shall be leased to any Lessee.

7. The lease of said property shall be subject to the terms and conditions set forth in EXHIBIT "B" attached hereto and incorporated herein.

8. At 8:30 o'clock P.M., on October 25, 1973, at the regular meeting place of this Board, this Board shall hold a public meeting at which time sealed proposals to lease said property shall be received and considered. Bidders shall conform in all respects in their proposed use with the conditions set forth in EXHIBIT "B". This Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids and to withdraw its offer to lease the property. Before accepting any written proposal, the Board shall call for oral bids. If, upon the call for oral bids, any responsible person offers to lease the said property upon the terms and conditions specified herein and for a rental exceeding by at least 5% the highest written proposal which is hereby made by a responsible person, such highest oral bid shall be finally accepted. The Board reserves the right, however, to determine whether or not the use proposed by the high bidder is fully compatible with the use of the adjacent premises by the School District. Price shall not be the sole criteria if the Board determines that another use is in the better interest of the School District. The Clerk of this Board is hereby directed to post copies of this resolution, adopted by at least a majority of the members of this Board, in three public places in the County not less than 15 days before the date of said public meeting, and to publish a notice thereof not less than once a week for three successive weeks before the date of said meeting in the Independent Journal, a newspaper of general circulation published in the County.

PASSED AND ADOPTED by the Board of Trustees of the San Anselmo School District at a meeting held on the 27th day of September, 1973, by the following vote:

AYES: All
NOES: None
ABSENT: None
/s/ EUGENE E. JACKS
Chairman of the Board of Trustees of San Anselmo School District
/s/ JOHN F. HULPKE
Clerk

EXHIBIT "A"

3 Classroom spaces located at Isabel Cook School, 1000 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, California.

(2 classrooms of approximately 925 square feet and 1 classroom of approximately 1100 square feet)

EXHIBIT "B"
TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR LEASE OF SAN ANSELMO SCHOOL

1. This property shall be used by the Lessee only for office and resulted use by a non-profit organization established for the benefit of the community.

2. Lessee shall, together with its bid, submit a definite proposal indicating the specific uses to which the property will be put and the means whereby it proposes to meet with the requirement that the property be used for said purposes.

3. Lessee shall provide public liability insurance coverage indemnifying the school district against suits or losses resulting from activities conducted by the user while occupying this building. Amounts of coverage shall be: Bodily Injury Liability, $100,000 each person and $300,000 single limit. Lessor shall be named as additional insured. Lessee shall indemnify and hold Lessor harmless from any liability for personal injury or property damage arising out of Lessee's use of the premises. Lessor shall continue to carry fire and extended coverage insurance on the premises; however, Lessee shall pay any increased cost of premiums caused by Lessee's use.

4. Rent shall be payable monthly on the first of each month.

5. Lessee shall provide all custodial service, including supplies, for said property. Lessor shall pay all utilities except telephone.

6. Lessee shall pay all costs of normal upkeep on the interior of the building and, upon the termination of this Lease, shall return the building to the District in the same condition, normal wear and tear excepted.

The Lessor shall have no obligation to pay for interior repairs or upkeep on the premises, including but not limited to such items as plumbing.

7. Any remodeling, interior painting, new construction, or reconstruction of the premises shall be done at the sole expense of the Lessee and only after the plans and specifications therefor have been approved by the Lessor. Said improvements shall become property of Lessor at termination of lease.

8. The lease shall be for a period from November 1, 1973 to June 30, 1974.

9. This lease shall be terminable:

(a) By Lessee at any time.

(b) By the Lessor on thirty days written notice, in the event that Lessee ceases to employ the premises exclusively for the permitted purposes.

(c) By the Lessor if it shall hereafter determine its need to re-employ the premises for the purpose of classroom instruction, and to renovate or reconstruct the existing building for such purpose, in which event the lease shall terminate thirty days prior to the estimated date of commencement of such renovation or reconstruction, and after written notice of not less than sixty (60) days.

(d) By the Lessor at any time, after violation or non-performance by the Lessee of any of the terms and provisions hereof, incurred after sixty (60) days written notice.

(e) By Lessor, upon the giving of thirty (30) days written notice, should problems arise of such severity that the Lessor, in its discretion, determines the continued use of the premises by Lessee is not in the best interests of the community.

10. Lessee shall not assign or sublease all or any part of the premises without written approval from Lessor.

11. Lessor shall provide competent supervision for all activities conducted on the premises.

Four Rescued From Arson Fire

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) - Firemen erected a 78-foot ladder last night to rescue four persons from the seventh floor of a housing project during an arson-caused blaze.

Arson investigator Ray Johnson said the arsonist had poured five gallons of gasoline in front of the apartment and ignited it.

Those rescued included a 2-year-old boy and a woman who was seven months pregnant.

Burton Backs Opposers Of Widening Approach

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — Rep. Phillip Burton, D-Fifth District, has urged Secretary of the Interior Rogers C.B. Morton to oppose widening of the San Francisco approach to the Golden Gate Bridge.

The state Transportation Department plans to widen the present roadway, scene of numerous fatalities and accidents, from six to eight lanes and separate opposing lanes of traffic with a fixed concrete barrier.

(A department hearing on the plan will be held at 7 p.m. on Oct. 17 at Fireman's Fund Auditorium, 3333 California Street, San Francisco.)

Burton, evidently spurred by heavy criticism of the widening from San Francisco citizen groups, objected the plan "senselessly threatens to destroy 1,300 mature trees and subtract more than 15 acres of open space from the Presidio-Golden Gate Recreation Area."

He appealed to Morton to have the National Park Service conduct its own study and hearings on the state proposal "to encroach on the magnificent preserve."

Group Seeks A Review In Tiburon

A dozen Tiburon residents who want a review of the city's downtown plan adopted three years ago have formed an ad hoc committee to try to convince the city to make the review.

Gerald Coles, also president of the Tiburon Peninsula Advisory Committee, said that he and Brewster H. Morris, president of the Hill Property Owners Association, were cochairmen of the new group which will meet weekly to discuss its strategy.

He said the committee included members of the Tiburon Peninsula Advisory Committee and Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce.

According to Coles, the group was considering possible legal alternatives to force the city to review the downtown plan before considering a development proposal from Sequoia Pacific of Southern California for downtown acreage owned by the Southern Pacific Railroad.

Some Allergic To Anesthesia

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) -A Pennsylvania physician says one out of every 50,000 patients has a serious reaction to anesthesia.

Dr. George E. Strobel of the University of Pennsylvania told a meeting of the American Society of Anesthesiologists on Monday that some families are prone to such reactions.

"Families in which there has been a death during anesthesia should be aware of the possibility of this syndrome," he declared.

Strobel noted that not all anesthetics produce serious reactions and said that patients with a sensitivity can be given local anesthetics or spinal anesthesia without suffering reactions.

Senate Panel Working On Spending Reforms

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate Government Operations Committee has tentatively agreed on a plan to break Congress' old habit of spending more money by the end of the year than it promised it would at the start.

It is one proposed answer President Nixon's "impoundment," or refusal to spend, money appropriated by Congress when he feels it exceeds his overall budget. It is based on the theory that if Congress wants to avoid this, Congress must control its own spending.

The committee bill sets up a procedure under which Congress would approve an overall spending ceiling and target ceilings for each of the 13 major spending areas, then would pass appropriations bills and would finally cut the appropriations if their overall total exceeded the approved overall ceiling.

Until this final trimming, no appropriation could be spent.

To give Congress time to achieve systematic control over spending, the bill would push back the start of the fiscal year, probably until Oct. 1. The fiscal year now starts July 1 to give Congress six months to enact authorization bills, which establish program levels but are subject to later appropriation.

The process always takes more than six months, so many government agencies are forced to operate in the new fiscal year at the prior year's spending levels.

By June 30 of each year, all authorization bills must pass.

By Aug. 1, the overall ceiling and spending targets for each major program must pass.

Between then and Oct. 1, individual appropriations bills must pass. Normally there are 13 major such bills, each the handiwork of 13 separate House and Senate subcommittees, each a bailiwick of power.

By Oct. 1, a "ceiling enforcement bill," the final trimming, must pass and the trimmed-down appropriations would take effect, simultaneous with the start of the new fiscal year.

Problems Delay BART Trains

The Oakland-Concord line was stopped for an hour and 11 minutes when one train's speed control box failed and another train struck a dog and broke a derail box.

On the Richmond-Fremont line, the delay was 30 minutes when a train's speed became erratic.

Patient's Lone Kidney Works Again

BOSTON (UPI) —Robert J. Cafarelli, who had his only remaining kidney removed, operated on, and then replaced, went home yesterday.

A spokesman for the Boston University Medical Center said the 42-year-old North Andover man should be able to return to his job as teaching principal of the Armitage Elementary School in Saugus within a month.

The center said the operation, performed three weeks ago, was "believed to be the first application of so-called 'bench' surgery to a routine urological procedure involving a cassette chamber."

Two teams of surgeons, headed by Dr. Carl A. Olsson, took seven hours to remove tumorous masses which were determined to be noncancerous, but "locally destructive" to the organ. The team removed the kidney, placed it in a surgical 'casette' atop an apparatus that bathed the organ in a special fluid, and proceeded to repair it —all of this a distance away from the patient."

Some Gas Stations Asking Pay For Maps And Service

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Some service station owners, angered that the government will not let them raise gasoline prices as much as they say is reasonable, now are charging for maps and other services such as washing the windshield.

"Maybe they'll appreciate the maps if they pay for them," said Paul Allen, a Gulf dealer in Los Angeles. "Anyway, if we were allowed to make money on our products, we could keep the free services."

In another development, Richard Meser, president of the Greater Indianapolis Gasoline Dealers, Inc., said an assistant to Charles Owens, head of the Cost of Living Council's (CLC) Energy Division, asked him Friday to set up a seven-man panel of dealers which would advise the council.

The assistant, Robert Gossin, asked Meser to call back today with the list, Meser said.

"If we don't advise the CLC, they're likely to murder us the next time. The first time they set prices they had not talked to one dealer," Meser said.

The CLC Sept. 20 let gas stations raise prices by between one and 2 ½ cents per gallon. Dealers said that was not enough.

In the San Francisco area and in Utah some dealers have divided pumping areas into "full service" zones and "no service" zones. In the former, the motorist gets his windshield washed and oil checked, but pays a penny or two per gallon more than the one in the "no service" area.

Many dealers on the West Coast either have stopped carrying maps or are charging a dime and even a quarter for them. "Over the years, it's been a million-dollar giveaway," said Bill Fleeup, a Chevron owner in Los Angeles. "Some people look at them once, crumple them up like Kleenex and throw them away."

Some oil companies provide dealers with maps at no cost. Others charge dealers 9 cents per map and let them decide whether to sell the maps or give them away.

Robert Jacobs, an official of the Illinois and Indiana Gasline Dealers Association, said dealers in his area were not charging for the traditionally free services but, "There's been suggestions we charge everyone driveway fees or tax — we're against that sort of thinking. It's devious. Let's stick to the issue—the government is being unfair."

In Atlanta, John Owens, owner of a Shell station, said, "Unless the company charges me for the maps, they'll remain free. If things continue the way they are, however, I'm strongly considering charging for special services."

Items Reported Stolen From Boat

Fishing gear, a radio, a directional finder and other nautical equipment were stolen from his boat sometime before last Thursday, Lydon Merritt reported Sunday to Marin Sheriff's deputies.

The equipment, valued at $400, was taken while the boat was berthed at the Paradise Cay Yacht Harbor on the north side of the Tiburon Peninsula, Merritt said.

All you can eat for $1268.31.

And believe it or not for that price we'll throw in, free, an original lithograph by Picasso that would ordinarily go for $1,250.00. What a bargain. This offer is good at only two places. Senate Panel Working On Spending Reforms

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate Government Operations Committee has tentatively agreed on a plan to break Congress' old habit of spending more money by the end of the year than it promised it would at the start.

It is one proposed answer President Nixon's "impoundment," or refusal to spend, money appropriated by Congress when he feels it exceeds his overall budget. It is based on the theory that if Congress wants to avoid this, Congress must control its own spending.

The committee bill sets up a procedure under which Congress would approve an overall spending ceiling and target ceilings for each of the 13 major spending areas, then would pass appropriations bills and would finally cut the appropriations if their overall total exceeded the approved overall ceiling.

Until this final trimming, no appropriation could be spent.

To give Congress time to achieve systematic control over spending, the bill would push back the start of the fiscal year, probably until Oct. 1. The fiscal year now starts July 1 to give Congress six months to enact authorization bills, which establish program levels but are subject to later appropriation.

The process always takes more than six months, so many government agencies are forced to operate in the new fiscal year at the prior year's spending levels.

By June 30 of each year, all authorization bills must pass.

By Aug. 1, the overall ceiling and spending targets for each major program must pass.

Between then and Oct. 1, individual appropriations bills must pass. Normally there are 13 major such bills, each the handiwork of 13 separate House and Senate subcommittees, each a bailiwick of power.

By Oct. 1, a "ceiling enforcement bill," the final trimming, must pass and the trimmed-down appropriations would take effect, simultaneous with the start of the new fiscal year.

Problems Delay BART Trains

The Oakland-Concord line was stopped for an hour and 11 minutes when one train's speed control box failed and another train struck a dog and broke a derail box.

On the Richmond-Fremont line, the delay was 30 minutes when a train's speed became erratic.

Patient's Lone Kidney Works Again

BOSTON (UPI) —Robert J. Cafarelli, who had his only remaining kidney removed, operated on, and then replaced, went home yesterday.

A spokesman for the Boston University Medical Center said the 42-year-old North Andover man should be able to return to his job as teaching principal of the Armitage Elementary School in Saugus within a month.

The center said the operation, performed three weeks ago, was "believed to be the first application of so-called 'bench' surgery to a routine urological procedure involving a cassette chamber."

Two teams of surgeons, headed by Dr. Carl A. Olsson, took seven hours to remove tumorous masses which were determined to be noncancerous, but "locally destructive" to the organ. The team removed the kidney, placed it in a surgical 'casette' atop an apparatus that bathed the organ in a special fluid, and proceeded to repair it —all of this a distance away from the patient."

Some Gas Stations Asking Pay For Maps And Service

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Some service station owners, angered that the government will not let them raise gasoline prices as much as they say is reasonable, now are charging for maps and other services such as washing the windshield.

"Maybe they'll appreciate the maps if they pay for them," said Paul Allen, a Gulf dealer in Los Angeles. "Anyway, if we were allowed to make money on our products, we could keep the free services."

In another development, Richard Meser, president of the Greater Indianapolis Gasoline Dealers, Inc., said an assistant to Charles Owens, head of the Cost of Living Council's (CLC) Energy Division, asked him Friday to set up a seven-man panel of dealers which would advise the council.

The assistant, Robert Gossin, asked Meser to call back today with the list, Meser said.

"If we don't advise the CLC, they're likely to murder us the next time. The first time they set prices they had not talked to one dealer," Meser said.

The CLC Sept. 20 let gas stations raise prices by between one and 2 ½ cents per gallon. Dealers said that was not enough.

In the San Francisco area and in Utah some dealers have divided pumping areas into "full service" zones and "no service" zones. In the former, the motorist gets his windshield washed and oil checked, but pays a penny or two per gallon more than the one in the "no service" area.

Many dealers on the West Coast either have stopped carrying maps or are charging a dime and even a quarter for them. "Over the years, it's been a million-dollar giveaway," said Bill Fleeup, a Chevron owner in Los Angeles. "Some people look at them once, crumple them up like Kleenex and throw them away."

Some oil companies provide dealers with maps at no cost.' Others charge dealers 9 cents per map and let them decide whether to sell the maps or give them away.

A Resolution For Rick

While swimmer Rick DeMont is busy getting squared away as a freshman student at University of Washington, the California Senate is officially praising the San Rafael Olympian.

The senate passed a resolution, authored by State Sen. Peter H. Behr (R-Tiburon), recognizing the 17-year-old as "one of the foremost swimmers in the world."

Among the "whereases" in the official resolution, the senate gives tribute to his parents, Willard and Betty Jo, his brother and sisters, Ken, Diane and Jeanine, and his coach, Don Swartz (although it is incorrectly spelled Schwartz in the resolution).

It cited his 1972 world record in the 1,500-meter freestyle at the Olympic trials in Chicago in August of 1972 and then his Olympic triumph in the 400 meters, the winning of a gold medal and his later disqualification "due to an oversight of the Olympic officials in failing to examine his medical chart."

The resolution also made mention of Rick's victories at the Santa Clara Invitational, the Los Angeles Invitational, the National Amateur Athletic Union meet at Louisville, Ky., and his world record in the 400 meters at the International Swim Meet in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, all this year.

Said the resolution:

". . . be it resolved by the senate rules committee, that the members commend and congratulate Rick DeMont for his years of hard training, perseverance, many victories, and other contributions to the sport of swimming, which have brought great honor to him and his family, the City of San Rafael, the state, and his country, and extend to him best wishes for every success and happiness in the years ahead."

Now those are mighty strong words of praise for Rick, and he deserves every one of them.

THERE SHOULD BE quite a few old Dons to cheer for the University of San Francisco soccer team at Thursday night's match against UCLA on the San Rafael High School field. Some 1,500 invitations have been sent to the USF Alumni Club for the game and a no-host cocktail party at Dominic's restaurant prior to the 8 o'clock game. And block ticket requests have been coming in from other North Bay localities, according to game organizer Bob Braghetta of Ross, including one group of 40 from Santa Rosa and a block of 50 from Petaluma.

IT LOOKS LIKE the season is already over for Cincinnati Bengal running back Doug Dressler who played at College of Marin before transferring to Chico State. According to a wire report out of Cincinnati, "there has been some speculation the injured Dressler might return late in the season, but coach Paul Brown said it appeared he was 'done for the year.' "

MAT PALACIO JR. of San Rafael got back the other day from a fishing vacation near the Feather River in Plumas County, but he did manage to get in a little golf at the Feather River Park Resort run by Jack and Launie Cummings. Mat shot a 66 "and I had three bogeys, too," he exclaimed. The 57-year-old Palacio is shooting some terrific golf these days.

Retired Center May Rejoin Weak Oilers

HOUSTON (UPI) —Former San Diego Charger Sam Gruneisen today discussed coming out of retirement to fill the Houston Oilers' injury weakened center position.

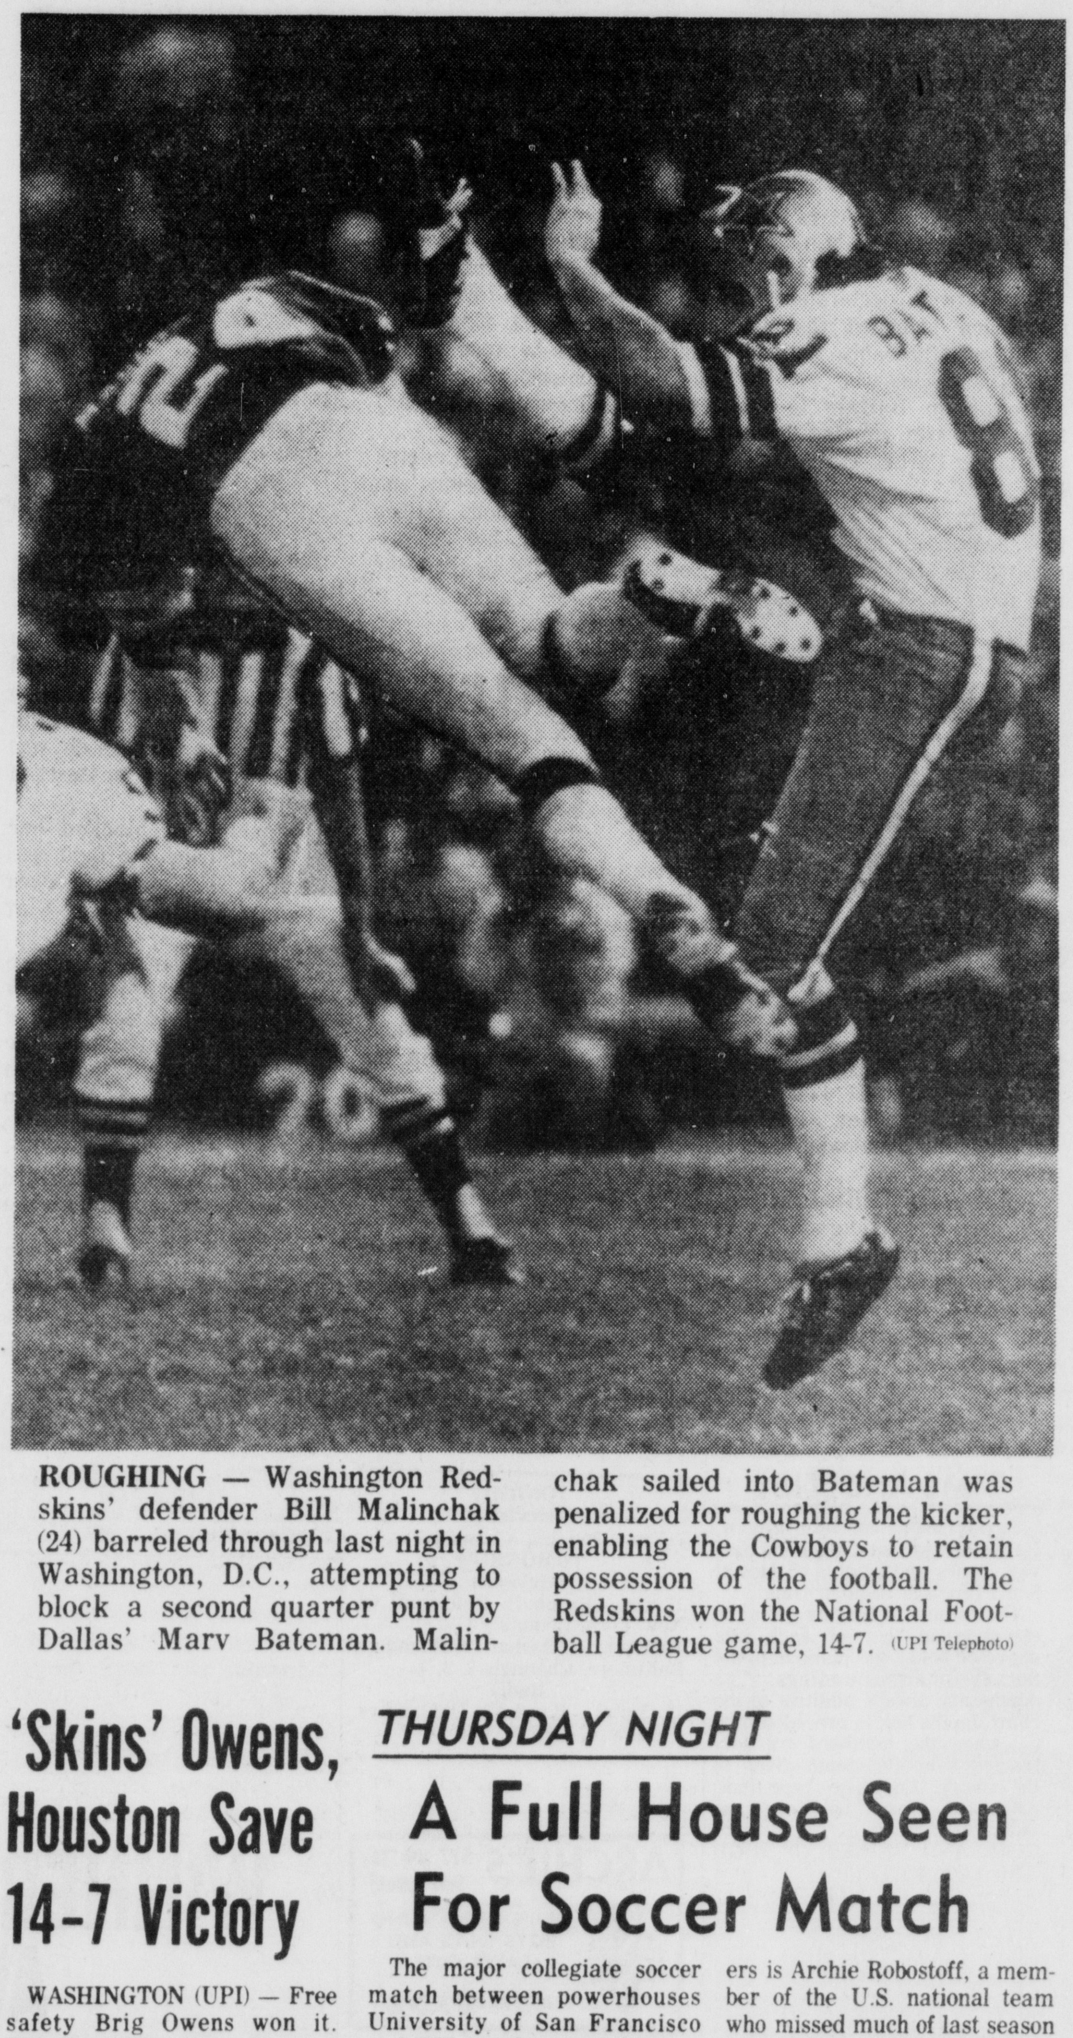
Oiler General Manager Sid Gillman has only rookie Ron Lou and guard Al Jenkins to backup Curry.

Gruneisen, 32, retired this year after 11 seasons and played under Gillman at San Diego.

"I'd sure like to have Sam, but he's got a good job with a chain of stores," Gillman said. "In fact, I was the one who advised him to accept the job and go ahead and get out of football."

The winless Oilers, host to Denver Sunday, also have lost safety John Charles for at least three weeks because of a broken facial bone.



ROUGHING — Washington Redskins' defender Bill Malinchak (24) barreled through last night in Washington, D.C., attempting to block a second quarter punt by Dallas' Marv Bateman. Malinchak sailed into Bateman was penalized for roughing the kicker, enabling the Cowboys to retain possession of the football. The Redskins won the National Football League game, 14-7. (UPI Telephoto)

'Skins' Owens, Houston Save 14-7 Victory

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Free safety Brig Owens won it. Strong safety Ken Houston saved it.

That was the nutshell of the Washington Redskins' 14-7 victory over the previously unbeaten Dallas Cowboys in their nationally televised struggle last night which left the two archrivals tied for the National Football Conference Eastern Division lead with 3-1 records.

With 2:33 left to play and the score tied at 7-7, Owens picked off a Craig Morton pass and raced 26 yards into the end zone for the winning margin. With 15 seconds remaining, Houston halted Walt Garrison after a pass reception from Morton on Washington's one to end a desperate bid by the Cowboys for a tie.

"As soon as he threw it, I said 'this is me,'" Owens said of his game-winning interception. "I saw it all the way."

He raced untouched into the end zone to break the tie and most of the Redskin bench raced down the sideline to join in a jubilant celebration. Owens' TD came shortly after the Skins had tied the score on Sonny Jurgensen's one-yard pass to Charley Taylor.

Dallas reached first and goal on the Redskin four and after three Morton passes were incomplete, he threw to Garrison over the middle to the two and

THURSDAY NIGHT

A Full House Seen For Soccer Match

The major collegiate soccer match between powerhouses University of San Francisco and UCLA will probably attract a full house at San Rafael High's Paul Miller Field Thursday night.

For the winner, it will be a huge step toward the western regional berth for the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) championships in Miami at season's end.

USF, ranked fifth nationally and first on the west coast, has won all seven of its games this year and the Bruins have won all five of theirs. Obviously, something is going to have to give.

Dons' coach Steve Negoesco is very optimistic about his team's chances to hand UCLA its first loss of the year. USF lost to UCLA last year, 2-1, when many of the Dons' players were freshmen. "These players are a little mad, and they aren't freshmen anymore. Now they are sophomores," said Negoesco. There is definitely revenge in their hearts.

USF is basically a very young team with only one senior and one junior on a squad made up mostly of sophomores and freshmen. Among the star players is Archie Robostoff, a member of the U.S. national team who missed much of last season due to injury. Other key players for the Dons are John Micklewright of England and Lorenzo Cumplido of Guadalajara, Mexico.

Cumplido, the lone senior on the club, said he realizes the game is the most crucial game of the regular season. "We are two equal teams," he said. "UCLA had the advantage and won last year when they played at home. But this year we're at home in San Rafael and the two teams will compete with very knowledgeable fans as spectators. I enjoy playing in San Rafael. The fans know a good brand of soccer when they see it."

Cumplido was referring to last year's game at San Rafael High which drew a full house, the Dons losing to University of St. Louis, 1-0, in a very defensive game.

"This game will have more offense," said Negoesco. "We were very inexperienced last year with quite a few freshmen starting and we played too cautiously. It's different this year." (Seven of the 11 starters last year were freshmen.)

Negoesco feels that depth is a strong point of the Dons' team this year. "If the NCAA would permit me, I could have two teams," he said.

"This has to be the biggest game of the year for us," said Negoesco about Thursday's 8 o'clock match. "This will give us a good measure to see just where we stand."

No Grudges Fostered By Rose, Harrelson

Playoff Combatants Not Angry

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) —Pete Rose is the closest thing around to Ty Cobb today and he'd be every bit as much disliked except for two reasons.

He kids around and smiles far more than Cobb ever did and he doesn't mind helping an enemy ballplayer now and then.

Cobb never did. That was his trademark.

UNCOMPLICATED

Pete Rose seems like a basically uncomplicated individual but he really isn't. He's complex. He's much more than simply that stocky little guy in the Cincinnati uniform who is forever collecting 200 hits every season, sliding on his belly and firing up his teammates because he has a way of generally accomplishing all those things he says he will beforehand.

Pete Rose says he'll get 3,000 hits before he's through, bank on it.

He says the Reds aren't finished in these National League playoffs with the Mets yet, believe him.

NO GRUDGE

He insists he bears no grudge against Buddy Harrelson, the skinny little New York Mets' shortstop whom he tangled with in the dirt at Shea Stadium during yesterday's 9-2 loss, and he's telling the truth.

"I believe that," says Harrelson. "Why, he's helped me since I came into the league. I remember once I was pressing terribly and he told me to relax. Another time he asked me why I didn't try a smaller glove. I did and it worked out much better. Actually, I consider him one of the best all-around ballplayers I've ever seen. I have a lot of respect for him."

FIFTH INNING

Harrelson's brow wasn't the only thing hurt. His feelings were, too. He called Rose a name, a bad name. That did it. Before you knew it, both were down on the ground, players from the two clubs poured onto the field and there was some ugliness from a few idiots in the 53,967 looking on.

Joe Morgan was the one who started it all. Unintentionally, of course. With Rose on first base and one out, Morgan hit a two-bouncer to first baseman John Milner, who threw to Harrelson coming across second. That's when it all happened.

When both Morgan and Rose finally returned to the Reds' dugout, Morgan said to Rose:

"I was running to first. I didn't see anything. What happened?"

"I didn't do anything wrong," Rose said. "I slid like I always do —hard. I tried to break up a double play. What am I supposed to do? They do the same thing to me. He jumped up and said I tried to hit him with my elbow. I told him I didn't. Then he called me a name and looked like he made a motion to go for me, so I just went after him and tried to stop him. Hell, I wasn't trying to hurt him. I know I'm much stronger than he is."

Pete Rose is telling the truth there.

'TWIGGY'

Buddy Harrelson never is going to win any Mr. America contests. His nickname used to be "Twiggy" until he filled out a little lately. Now they still call him "Twiggy," which gives you some idea of how much he has filled out.

Pete Rose may not have done so intentionally, and then again he may have, but he did give Buddy Harrelson an extra bump or two trying to break up that double play. You have to know Pete Rose, though. He isn't really dirty, that's how he

Oriole Wants A 2nd Crack

Davis, an outfielder for the Baltimore Orioles, was happy to see a rainout of yesterday's scheduled third game of the American League playoffs.

"The rainout won't hurt us as players," said the well-traveled Davis who has collected five hits off Oakland pitchers in two playoff games for a .500 average. "Oh, it may screw up our pitching rotation a little but the rest of the guys can use the day off.

"Remember, we played two straight games and then flew to the West Coast and had to be back on the field a few hours later. I just want to get another shot at my ole roomie."

Davis, a former Oakland Athletics player who was released shortly before the 1972 season and signed by the Chicago Cubs as a free agent, was referring to lefthander Vida Blue. Davis helped send Blue to the showers in the first inning of Saturday's victory by the Orioles with a run-scoring bloop double.

"That guy (Blue) has changed somewhat as a pitcher since that good year of his in 1971," said Davis. Then, he overpowered the batters with his fastball.

"But now he's smarter and it's hurting him. He knows where to pitch to most of the WASHINGTON (UPI) — Free safety Brig Owens won it. Strong safety Ken Houston saved it.

That was the nutshell of the Washington Redskins' 14-7 victory over the previously unbeaten Dallas Cowboys in their nationally televised struggle last night which left the two archrivals tied for the National Football Conference Eastern Division lead with 3-1 records.

With 2:33 left to play and the score tied at 7-7, Owens picked off a Craig Morton pass and raced 26 yards into the end zone for the winning margin. With 15 seconds remaining, Houston halted Walt Garrison after a pass reception from Morton on Washington's one to end a desperate bid by the Cowboys for a tie.

"As soon as he threw it, I said 'this is me,'" Owens said of his game-winning interception. "I saw it all the way."

He raced untouched into the end zone to break the tie and most of the Redskin bench raced down the sideline to join in a jubilant celebration. Owens' TD came shortly after the Skins had tied the score on Sonny Jurgensen's one-yard pass to Charley Taylor.

Dallas reached first and goal on the Redskin four and after three Morton passes were incomplete, he threw to Garrison over the middle to the two and

THURSDAY NIGHT

A Full House Seen For Soccer Match

The major collegiate soccer match between powerhouses University of San Francisco and UCLA will probably attract a full house at San Rafael High's Paul Miller Field Thursday night.

For the winner, it will be a huge step toward the western regional berth for the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) championships in Miami at season's end.

USF, ranked fifth nationally and first on the west coast, has won all seven of its games this year and the Bruins have won all five of theirs. Obviously, something is going to have to give.

Dons' coach Steve Negoesco is very optimistic about his team's chances to hand UCLA its first loss of the year. USF lost to UCLA last year, 2-1, when many of the Dons' players were freshmen. "These players are a little mad, and they aren't freshmen anymore. Now they are sophomores," said Negoesco. There is definitely revenge in their hearts.

USF is basically a very young team with only one senior and one junior on a squad made up mostly of sophomores and freshmen. Among the star players is Archie Robostoff, a member of the U.S. national team who missed much of last season due to injury. Other key players for the Dons are John Micklewright of England and Lorenzo Cumplido of Guadalajara, Mexico.

Cumplido, the lone senior on the club, said he realizes the game is the most crucial game of the regular season. "We are two equal teams," he said. "UCLA had the advantage and won last year when they played at home. But this year we're at home in San Rafael and the two teams will compete with very knowledgeable fans as spectators. I enjoy playing in San Rafael. The fans know a good brand of soccer when they see it."

Cumplido was referring to last year's game at San Rafael High which drew a full house, the Dons losing to University of St. Louis, 1-0, in a very defensive game.

"This game will have more offense," said Negoesco. "We were very inexperienced last year with quite a few freshmen starting and we played too cautiously. It's different this year." (Seven of the 11 starters last year were freshmen.)

Negoesco feels that depth is a strong point of the Dons' team this year. "If the NCAA would permit me, I could have two teams," he said.

"This has to be the biggest game of the year for us," said Negoesco about Thursday's 8 o'clock match. "This will give us a good measure to see just where we stand."

Marin Tars Second

SUISUN CITY — College of Marin finished second Saturday in the eight-team Solano College Water Polo Tournament. The Tars defeated Laney of Oakland, 23-2, and Contra Costa of San Pablo, 17-5, before losing to Chabot of Hayward, 9-6.

No Grudges Fostered By Rose, Harrelson

Playoff Combatants Not Angry

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) —Pete Rose is the closest thing around to Ty Cobb today and he'd be every bit as much disliked except for two reasons.

He kids around and smiles far more than Cobb ever did and he doesn't mind helping an enemy ballplayer now and then.

Cobb never did. That was his trademark.

UNCOMPLICATED

Pete Rose seems like a basically uncomplicated individual but he really isn't. He's complex. He's much more than simply that stocky little guy in the Cincinnati uniform who is forever collecting 200 hits every season, sliding on his belly and firing up his teammates because he has a way of generally accomplishing all those things he says he will beforehand.

Pete Rose says he'll get 3,000 hits before he's through, bank on it.

He says the Reds aren't finished in these National League playoffs with the Mets yet, believe him.

NO GRUDGE

He insists he bears no grudge against Buddy Harrelson, the skinny little New York Mets' shortstop whom he tangled with in the dirt at Shea Stadium during yesterday's 9-2 loss, and he's telling the truth.

"I believe that," says Harrelson. "Why, he's helped me since I came into the league. I remember once I was pressing terribly and he told me to relax. Another time he asked me why I didn't try a smaller glove. I did and it worked out much better. Actually, I consider him one of the best all-around ballplayers I've ever seen. I have a lot of respect for him."

FIFTH INNING

Harrelson's brow wasn't the only thing hurt. His feelings were, too. He called Rose a name, a bad name. That did it. Before you knew it, both were down on the ground, players from the two clubs poured onto the field and there was some ugliness from a few idiots in the 53,967 looking on.

Joe Morgan was the one who started it all. Unintentionally, of course. With Rose on first base and one out, Morgan hit a two-bouncer to first baseman John Milner, who threw to Harrelson coming across second. That's when it all happened.

When both Morgan and Rose finally returned to the Reds' dugout, Morgan said to Rose:

"I was running to first. I didn't see anything. What happened?"

"I didn't do anything wrong," Rose said. "I slid like I always do —hard. I tried to break up a double play. What am I supposed to do? They do the same thing to me. He jumped up and said I tried to hit him with my elbow. I told him I didn't. Then he called me a name and looked like he made a motion to go for me, so I just went after him and tried to stop him. Hell, I wasn't trying to hurt him. I know I'm much stronger than he is."

Pete Rose is telling the truth there.

'TWIGGY'

Buddy Harrelson never is going to win any Mr. America contests. His nickname used to be "Twiggy" until he filled out a little lately. Now they still call him "Twiggy," which gives you some idea of how much he has filled out.

Pete Rose may not have done so intentionally, and then again he may have, but he did give Buddy Harrelson an extra bump or two trying to break up that double play. You have to know Pete Rose, though. He isn't really dirty, that's how he

Davis, an outfielder for the Baltimore Orioles, was happy to see a rainout of yesterday's scheduled third game of the American League playoffs.

"The rainout won't hurt us as players," said the well-traveled Davis who has collected five hits off Oakland pitchers in two playoff games for a .500 average. "Oh, it may screw up our pitching rotation a little but the rest of the guys can use the day off.

"Remember, we played two straight games and then flew to the West Coast and had to be back on the field a few hours later. I just want to get another shot at my ole roomie."

Davis, a former Oakland Athletics player who was released shortly before the 1972 season and signed by the Chicago Cubs as a free agent, was referring to lefthander Vida Blue. Davis helped send Blue to the showers in the first inning of Saturday's victory by the Orioles with a run-scoring bloop double.

"That guy (Blue) has changed somewhat as a pitcher since that good year of his in 1971," said Davis. Then, he overpowered the batters with his fastball.

"But now he's smarter and it's hurting him. He knows where to pitch to most of the

Buck Action At A Standstill

TRUCKEE — We've hunted two weeks and no bucks except for Marty Medin's of the Woodacre Fire House Gang. I received a card from home; it mentioned that Chief Pedroli of the Woodacre Fire House almost didn't pay his $2 to Marty. Pedroli accused Marty of getting that buck in Marin County because of its small size.

Russ Ild, Jim Doherty and Paul Honatius, all of Mill Valley, were up for a couple of days. We did send them home with 13-pound to two-pound trout — but nary a buck did we see.

We are moving to Lassen County today, though reports there aren't good either.

HERE'S A NOTE from Department of Fish and Game Director Ray Arnett, regarding state deer management. It reads. . .

"When the conversation drags in any get-together of sportsmen, there is a sure-fire way of livening things up: just bring up the subject of deer management in California.

We of your Department of Fish and Game recognize that there is room for improvement in our deer management plan. We know we have alienated some former supporters with a program that is apparently doing little to improve deer herds in the state.

In an effort to win back your trust and confidence in this area, I have ordered my staff to develop a new plan — one that will be practical, possible to implement and, most of all, acceptable to you.

Eldridge (Red) Hunt, chief of our Wildlife Management Branch, has already got to work by holding a series of meetings with Fish and Game people throughout the state to get their ideas.

And Red is interested not only in the opinions of wildlife management people, but also in the ideas of wardens, fisheries specialists, environmental services experts and others.

In the series of 15 meetings people from every functional organization in the department are exchanging thoughts on antlerless hunts, control burns, shrinking habitat, declining herd numbers, tag and license sales, range management, access problems and public relations.

Red does not want to prejudice the discussions, so he does not force the sessions into a preconceived format. They remain open and the sky is the limit.

However, Red reminds people attending the meetings that, whatever the result, sportsmen — organized and unaffiliated — must be involved in the planning, and that whatever the plan it will require staffing and funding and possibly new legislation.

Among questions that are being asked at the meetings in an attempt to form a basis for discussion of possible plans are:

—How valid are the annual wildlife management unit reports on deer herds?

—Do they only repeat the same information from year to year or are they reporting data on actual conditions?

—Should depredation hunts be open to the public generally on a permit system, perhaps through a lottery?

—What about our experimental programs with the North Kings deer herd and in Grindstone Canyon? What have we learned? Is it applicable elsewhere?

—Is the unit management concept workable? Why not key management to individual herds and recommend specific regulations for each of the resident and migratory herds in the state?

—Is it possible that there is nothing really wrong with what we are doing but it is only a matter of our not adequately publicizing our efforts?

—How can we do a better job of public information?

—How can we reach the young particularly with the facts about professional wildlife management and the application of management to deer herds?"

No-Foul-Out Rule Is Passed In ABA

NEW YORK (UPI) —Wilt Chamberlain, who never fouled out of a National Basketball Association game, isn't going to foul out of an American Basketball Association game, either.

And neither is anyone else.

The trustees of the ABA passed the revolutionary and controversial rule for regular season games and playoffs in 1973-74 by a conference call vote.

The rule will be in effect when the ABA starts its regular season tomorrow night.

The vote wasn't disclosed but it took a majority of the 10 owners to pass the new rule.

The rule reads: "No player will be disqualified because of the number of personal fouls he may accumulate during a game and overtime periods. When a player commits his seventh or succeeding fouls, the offended team will retain possession of the ball after the offended player attempts any free throw or free throws which he is awarded."

The rule had been in effect on an experimental basis for exhibition games.

Jim Chones of the Carolina Cougars got 12 and 10 fouls on consecutive nights last week for the most fouls charged to a single player in the exhibition season.

No other player got more than seven fouls. About 50 players received six or more fouls in a game and were allowed to stay in. In the past, a player fouled when he was charged with his sixth foul.

Some skeptics said the rule would increase fouling in the game. But an ABA study of the exhibition games showed that fouls were up less than one per team over last year's preseason play.

Some of the details will be ironed out Tuesday. Among the highly technical details of the rule to be straightened out are:

Whether free throws should be allowed or not allowed along with possession when a team is in the bonus situation; or an offensive foul or a rebounding foul.

Mike Storen, the commissioner of the ABA, said, "I'm very happy that the trustees have seen fit to adopt this new rule. We feel that it is in keeping with past policies of the ABA which have been toward bettering the game of pro basketball."

"We are the league that introduced the red, white and blue ball and the three-point field goal, and both have gained wide acceptance from all basketball fans throughout the country," Storen said. "We hope that this latest rule will also become an important addition to the game.

"The designated hitter in baseball received a great deal of adverse publicity when it was first talked about and adopted. And now it has become a popular feature of the game in the American League."

plays. All his teammates know that.

"I played against Pete a long time when I was with Houston," says Joe Morgan. "I know how he plays. He plays hard. No matter whom he plays against, he plays the same way."

Rose confirmed that himself.

'PLAY SAME WAY'

"I have nothing against Harrelson," he said when it was all over, "and I'm not a grudge carrier. I'd have done the same thing if it had been (Teddy) Martinez out there, or Bill Russell or Don Kessinger. I play the same way if we play before 73,000 or 2,000."

When Rose tried to take his leftfield position in the bottom of the fifth, some imbecile up in the top deck flung a bottle at him.

Rose trotted in toward the dugout and said to Reds' Manager Sparky Anderson:

Anderson's blood boiled.

With Willie Mays leading the way, some of the other Mets, Tom Seaver, Rusty Staub, Cleon Jones and Yogi Berra walked toward leftfield to plead with the fans to calm down.

They did temporarily.

At the sight of Rose, they set up a tremendous roar, but a police escort hustled the fiery Reds' outfielder into the bus in a hurry.

"I can't wait to get out there tomorrow," he said.

He didn't mean because of the fans or because of Bud Harrelson. He only meant because there was to be another ball game.

You have to know Pete Rose.

Marin In Realigned Camino Norte

College of Marin will compete next school year in a realigned Camino Norte Conference which has dropped three schools and added two, athletic director Harry Pieper announced yesterday.

The athletics committee of the California Junior College Association, meeting Friday and Saturday in Los Angeles, made the changes on the recommendation of its releaguing subcommittee, which last month conducted hearings on the matter.

The realigned conference will contain Alameda, Canada of Redwood City, Contra Costa of San Pablo, Marin, Merritt of Oakland, Santa Rosa, Solano of Suisun City and Los Medanos, a new school in the Pittsburg-Antioch area.

Merrritt and Los Medanos will be new to the conference, and Alameda was added just this year.

Gone are De Anza of Cupertino, West Valley of Campbell and Foothill of Los Altos, which have been placed in the realigned Golden Gate Conference with Chabot of Hayward, Diablo Valley of Pleasant Hill, Laney of Oakland, City College of San Francisco, San Jose City College and San Mateo.

The chief good point, according to Pieper, is that "there will be more equal competition in many respects, since we're not involved with colleges the size of West Valley and De Anza any more." West Valley (with 12,500 students) and De Anza (with 7,500) consistently dominated Marin (with 4,500) in football and some other sports.

The difficulties center around scheduling. In football, for example, only six of the eight Camino Norte schools will have programs (Alameda and Canada do not), permitting only five conference games. For the remaining four or five non-conference games, Marin must schedule far-away opponents, since the nearby Golden Gate Conference schools will be playing an eight-game league schedule and will have few open dates.

Similar problems are expected to occur in swimming, where Alameda, Canada, Los Medanos and Merritt do not have programs, and in wrestling, where Alameda and Merritt do not.

After its Sept. 21 meeting at Chabot College in Hayward, in which the only concrete action was to deny Merritt entrance to the current Camino Norte Conference, the releaguing subcommittee sent out a memo recommending the realigment which was later adopted, and asking the schools and conferences to react by letter.

"We responded that we were happy with the Camino Norte as it was, and we didn't want to see that family broken up, but that we recognized some good points and some weaknesses in the new proposal," said Pieper.

"We said our emotions were mixed, and that further consideration was called for. It was a surprise to us the way it worked out."

DESPITE INJURIES

Not Considering Trade: Nolan

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— San Francisco 49er coach Dick Nolan says, "I'm not considering a trade at this time" despite serious injuries to two of his three top running backs.

Fullback Larry Schreiber went under the knife yesterday in a knee operation expected to sideline him for the season. Jim Thomas dislocated his shoulder in the 13-9 win over Atlanta, but will not need surgery.

Nolan said yesterday he expected Thomas to be able to practice "in 10 or 12 days" and thus hopefully only miss two games.

The no-trade declaration by the coach indicated that the coach will probably activate Randy Jackson, who was acquired from Buffalo in the trade that sent starting defensive tackle Earl Edwards to the Bills.

Veteran Ken Willard, who had demanded to be traded prior to the start of the season, will move in as starter Sunday when unbeaten Minnesota comes to call.

When Willard made his decision to stay with the 49ers, he promised to give his all in any situation in which he found himself.

"When I decided to come back," he said, "I committed myself completely. When you buy a farm, you have to be ready to hoe every row."

Vic Washington is still healthy at the other halfback slot and should have a busy Sunday.

Jackson is considered to have great potential at 214 pounds and with 4.6 speed but Coach Nolan says frankly "he played mostly behind O.J. Simpson at Buffalo, where he wasn't asked to do much blocking. We've been working with him and I think he'll do ok."

Defensive linemen Cedrick Hardman and Bob Hoskins and offensive lineman John Watson all have sprains, but are expected to be ready for the Vikings.

Stabler To Start As Raiders' QB

OAKLAND (UPI)—It appears that Kenny Stabler will be back at the helm for Oakland when the Raiders call on San Diego Sunday.

Stabler quarterbacked the Raider offense to its first two touchdowns of the year Sunday in a 17-10 win at St. Louis and Coach John Madden said that the southpaw signalcaller would start again.

But Madden insisted that he considers the Raiders a team with two quarterbacks and said that Daryle Lamonica, the man moved out by Stabler, would still play in particular situations.

Bubba Smith, who turned in his toughest game yet for Oakland, was bothered by the St. Louis heat and humidity but managed to make it through the game and should be in top shape in San Diego.

Smith's fine performance and the five passes caught for 58 yards by tight end Bob Moore were especially good news for the Raiders, who traded star tight end Raymond Chester to Baltimore for Smith in a controversial swap.

REDSKINS

Garrison, a rodeo star in the off-season, bulled toward the goal line. Houston hit him solidly and stopped him at the one and the Redskins had the game.

"It was the biggest tackle I ever made," Houston said. "Morton pumped once, I stepped toward Garrison as he caught it and I brought him down."

The plays by Owens and Houston provided a fitting ending to a game which featured tremendous defense by both teams throughout the tense struggle.

Roger Staubach had passed Dallas to a 7-0 lead in the second period when Otto Stowe made a diving catch of his 15-yard pass in the end zone.

But everything else was defense. These were the evidences of the fierceness of it.

—Staubach was sacked seven times for losses totalling 45 yards before giving way to Morton because of a slight charley horse. Jurgensen was dropped five times for losses of 37 yards.

— Last year's conference rushing champion, Larry Brown, was held to 36 yards rushing on 18 attempts. The Cowboy front four stopped him twice with no gain on their own 10 early in the fourth quarter to take over the ball. Before Jurgensen hit Taylor, Brown had two cracks from the two. He made only one.

Cal, UCLA Are Stats Leaders

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— California and UCLA dominate the offensive statistics and USC the defense after four weeks of play by Pacific Eight teams.

Figures released today show the Golden Bears are averaging 430.3 yards per game and UCLA 409.5. Nobody else has over 360.

The Bruins are rushing the ball at 324.3 yards per contest with runner-up Cal far back at 216.8. California tops the passing teams at 213.5 per game and UCLA is scoring at a 42.0 points per-game clip.

Defensively, USC has given up just five points per game, 268.3 yards per contest in total offense and 75.5 in passing. Winless Oregon has the stingiest rushing defense at 143.3.

Washington State

PULLMAN, Wash. — Sophomore Wally Bennett, Bellevue, Wash., will be the starting quarterback when Washington State opens its Pacific-8 conference season against Southern California at Los Angeles this Saturday.

"Wally has the experience of playing in reserve roles and we feel we must give him an opportunity to see what he can do in a starting situation," Head Coach Jim Sweeney said.

In drills yesterday, Sweeney ran his club through a light workout in sweat suits and pads, finished the session with 40 yard windsprints and a weightlifting session.

Oregon State

CORVALLIS, Ore. — "We had a great effort against Southern California but what we need now is a win," said Oregon State Coach Dee Andros as his Beavers prepared for Saturday's Pacific 8 clash with Washington in Seattle.

OSU went through a light workout yesterday and reviewed the USC game films.

Sophomore split end Matt Hammack, nursing a shoulder bruise, was OSU's only casualty against the Trojans and will be out of the lineup for Saturday's game. But tight end Dave Hirneise and defensive tackle Lee Neilsen are both expected to rejoin the lineup after recovering from injuries.

Washington

SEATTLE — Washington "Butch" Keenan, Washington's starting linebacker, underwent surgery on his right knee yesterday to repair damage suffered Saturday during the Huskies' 54-49 loss to California and will be lost for the season.

The two-year letterman from Fresno, Calif., was hurt on the third play of the second period. Going into the Cal game, he was Washington's No. 3 tackler with 15 solo efforts and 12 assists and one fumble recovery.

Buck Action At A Standstill

TRUCKEE — We've hunted two weeks and no bucks except for Marty Medin's of the Woodacre Fire House Gang. I received a card from home; it mentioned that Chief Pedroli of the Woodacre Fire House almost didn't pay his $2 to Marty. Pedroli accused Marty of getting that buck in Marin County because of its small size.

Russ Ild, Jim Doherty and Paul Honatius, all of Mill Valley, were up for a couple of days. We did send them home with 13-pound to two-pound trout — but nary a buck did we see.

We are moving to Lassen County today, though reports there aren't good either.

HERE'S A NOTE from Department of Fish and Game Director Ray Arnett, regarding state deer management. It reads. . .

"When the conversation drags in any get-together of sportsmen, there is a sure-fire way of livening things up: just bring up the subject of deer management in California.

We of your Department of Fish and Game recognize that there is room for improvement in our deer management plan. We know we have alienated some former supporters with a program that is apparently doing little to improve deer herds in the state.

In an effort to win back your trust and confidence in this area, I have ordered my staff to develop a new plan — one that will be practical, possible to implement and, most of all, acceptable to you.

Eldridge (Red) Hunt, chief of our Wildlife Management Branch, has already got to work by holding a series of meetings with Fish and Game people throughout the state to get their ideas.

And Red is interested not only in the opinions of wildlife management people, but also in the ideas of wardens, fisheries specialists, environmental services experts and others.

In the series of 15 meetings people from every functional organization in the department are exchanging thoughts on antlerless hunts, control burns, shrinking habitat, declining herd numbers, tag and license sales, range management, access problems and public relations.

Red does not want to prejudice the discussions, so he does not force the sessions into a preconceived format. They remain open and the sky is the limit.

However, Red reminds people attending the meetings that, whatever the result, sportsmen — organized and unaffiliated — must be involved in the planning, and that whatever the plan it will require staffing and funding and possibly new legislation.

Among questions that are being asked at the meetings in an attempt to form a basis for discussion of possible plans are:

—How valid are the annual wildlife management unit reports on deer herds?

—Do they only repeat the same information from year to year or are they reporting data on actual conditions?

—Should depredation hunts be open to the public generally on a permit system, perhaps through a lottery?

—What about our experimental programs with the North Kings deer herd and in Grindstone Canyon? What have we learned? Is it applicable elsewhere?

—Is the unit management concept workable? Why not key management to individual herds and recommend specific regulations for each of the resident and migratory herds in the state?

—Is it possible that there is nothing really wrong with what we are doing but it is only a matter of our not adequately publicizing our efforts?

—How can we do a better job of public information?

—How can we reach the young particularly with the facts about professional wildlife management and the application of management to deer herds?"

No-Foul-Out Rule Is Passed In ABA

NEW YORK (UPI) —Wilt Chamberlain, who never fouled out of a National Basketball Association game, isn't going to foul out of an American Basketball Association game, either.

And neither is anyone else.

The trustees of the ABA passed the revolutionary and controversial rule for regular season games and playoffs in 1973-74 by a conference call vote.

The rule will be in effect when the ABA starts its regular season tomorrow night.

The vote wasn't disclosed but it took a majority of the 10 owners to pass the new rule.

The rule reads: "No player will be disqualified because of the number of personal fouls he may accumulate during a game and overtime periods. When a player commits his seventh or succeeding fouls, the offended team will retain possession of the ball after the offended player attempts any free throw or free throws which he is awarded."

The rule had been in effect on an experimental basis for exhibition games.

Jim Chones of the Carolina Cougars got 12 and 10 fouls on consecutive nights last week for the most fouls charged to a single player in the exhibition season.

No other player got more than seven fouls. About 50 players received six or more fouls in a game and were allowed to stay in. In the past, a player fouled when he was charged with his sixth foul.

Some skeptics said the rule would increase fouling in the game. But an ABA study of the exhibition games showed that fouls were up less than one per team over last year's preseason play.

Some of the details will be ironed out Tuesday. Among the highly technical details of the rule to be straightened out are:

Whether free throws should be allowed or not allowed along with possession when a team is in the bonus situation; or an offensive foul or a rebounding foul.

Mike Storen, the commissioner of the ABA, said, "I'm very happy that the trustees have seen fit to adopt this new rule. We feel that it is in keeping with past policies of the ABA which have been toward bettering the game of pro basketball."

"We are the league that introduced the red, white and blue ball and the three-point field goal, and both have gained wide acceptance from all basketball fans throughout the country," Storen said. "We hope that this latest rule will also become an important addition to the game.

"The designated hitter in baseball received a great deal of adverse publicity when it was first talked about and adopted. And now it has become a popular feature of the game in the American League."

METS

plays. All his teammates know that.

"I played against Pete a long time when I was with Houston," says Joe Morgan. "I know how he plays. He plays hard. No matter whom he plays against, he plays the same way."

Rose confirmed that himself.

'PLAY SAME WAY'

"I have nothing against Harrelson," he said when it was all over, "and I'm not a grudge carrier. I'd have done the same thing if it had been (Teddy) Martinez out there, or Bill Russell or Don Kessinger. I play the same way if we play before 73,000 or 2,000."

When Rose tried to take his leftfield position in the bottom of the fifth, some imbecile up in the top deck flung a bottle at him.

Rose trotted in toward the dugout and said to Reds' Manager Sparky Anderson:

With Willie Mays leading the way, some of the other Mets, Tom Seaver, Rusty Staub, Cleon Jones and Yogi Berra walked toward leftfield to plead with the fans to calm down.

They did temporarily.

At the sight of Rose, they set up a tremendous roar, but a police escort hustled the fiery Reds' outfielder into the bus in a hurry.

"I can't wait to get out there tomorrow," he said.

He didn't mean because of the fans or because of Bud Harrelson. He only meant because there was to be another ball game.

You have to know Pete Rose.

Marin In Realigned Camino Norte

College of Marin will compete next school year in a realigned Camino Norte Conference which has dropped three schools and added two, athletic director Harry Pieper announced yesterday.

The athletics committee of the California Junior College Association, meeting Friday and Saturday in Los Angeles, made the changes on the recommendation of its releaguing subcommittee, which last month conducted hearings on the matter.

The realigned conference will contain Alameda, Canada of Redwood City, Contra Costa of San Pablo, Marin, Merritt of Oakland, Santa Rosa, Solano of Suisun City and Los Medanos, a new school in the Pittsburg-Antioch area.

Merrritt and Los Medanos will be new to the conference, and Alameda was added just this year.

Gone are De Anza of Cupertino, West Valley of Campbell and Foothill of Los Altos, which have been placed in the realigned Golden Gate Conference with Chabot of Hayward, Diablo Valley of Pleasant Hill, Laney of Oakland, City College of San Francisco, San Jose City College and San Mateo.

"The new alignment has some good points and some weaknesses," said Pieper. "Our emotions are mixed."

The chief good point, according to Pieper, is that "there will be more equal competition in many respects, since we're not involved with colleges the size of West Valley and De Anza any more." West Valley (with 12,500 students) and De Anza (with 7,500) consistently dominated Marin (with 4,500) in football and some other sports.

The difficulties center around scheduling. In football, for example, only six of the eight Camino Norte schools will have programs (Alameda and Canada do not), permitting only five conference games. For the remaining four or five non-conference games, Marin must schedule far-away opponents, since the nearby Golden Gate Conference schools will be playing an eight-game league schedule and will have few open dates.

Similar problems are expected to occur in swimming, where Alameda, Canada, Los Medanos and Merritt do not have programs, and in wrestling, where Alameda and Merritt do not.

After its Sept. 21 meeting at Chabot College in Hayward, in which the only concrete action was to deny Merritt entrance to the current Camino Norte Conference, the releaguing subcommittee sent out a memo recommending the realigment which was later adopted, and asking the schools and conferences to react by letter.

"We responded that we were happy with the Camino Norte as it was, and we didn't want to see that family broken up, but that we recognized some good points and some weaknesses in the new proposal," said Pieper.

"We said our emotions were mixed, and that further consideration was called for. It was a surprise to us the way it worked out."

DESPITE INJURIES

Not Considering Trade: Nolan

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—San Francisco 49er coach Dick Nolan says, "I'm not considering a trade at this time" despite serious injuries to two of his three top running backs.

Fullback Larry Schreiber went under the knife yesterday in a knee operation expected to sideline him for the season. Jim Thomas dislocated his shoulder in the 13-9 win over Atlanta, but will not need surgery.

Nolan said yesterday he expected Thomas to be able to practice "in 10 or 12 days" and thus hopefully only miss two games.

The no-trade declaration by the coach indicated that the coach will probably activate Randy Jackson, who was acquired from Buffalo in the trade that sent starting defensive tackle Earl Edwards to the Bills.

Veteran Ken Willard, who had demanded to be traded prior to the start of the season, will move in as starter Sunday when unbeaten Minnesota comes to call.

When Willard made his decision to stay with the 49ers, he promised to give his all in any situation in which he found himself.

"When I decided to come back," he said, "I committed myself completely. When you buy a farm, you have to be ready to hoe every row."

Vic Washington is still healthy at the other halfback slot and should have a busy Sunday.

Jackson is considered to have great potential at 214 pounds and with 4.6 speed but Coach Nolan says frankly "he played mostly behind O.J. Simpson at Buffalo, where he wasn't asked to do much blocking. We've been working with him and I think he'll do ok."

Defensive linemen Cedrick Hardman and Bob Hoskins and offensive lineman John Watson all have sprains, but are expected to be ready for the Vikings.

Stabler To Start As Raiders' QB

OAKLAND (UPI)—It appears that Kenny Stabler will be back at the helm for Oakland when the Raiders call on San Diego Sunday.

Stabler quarterbacked the Raider offense to its first two touchdowns of the year Sunday in a 17-10 win at St. Louis and Coach John Madden said that the southpaw signalcaller would start again.

But Madden insisted that he considers the Raiders a team with two quarterbacks and said that Daryle Lamonica, the man moved out by Stabler, would still play in particular situations.

Bubba Smith, who turned in his toughest game yet for Oakland, was bothered by the St. Louis heat and humidity but managed to make it through the game and should be in top shape in San Diego.

Smith's fine performance and the five passes caught for 58 yards by tight end Bob Moore were especially good news for the Raiders, who traded star tight end Raymond Chester to Baltimore for Smith in a controversial swap.

Garrison, a rodeo star in the off-season, bulled toward the goal line. Houston hit him solidly and stopped him at the one and the Redskins had the game.

"It was the biggest tackle I ever made," Houston said. "Morton pumped once, I stepped toward Garrison as he caught it and I brought him down."

The plays by Owens and Houston provided a fitting ending to a game which featured tremendous defense by both teams throughout the tense struggle.

Roger Staubach had passed Dallas to a 7-0 lead in the second period when Otto Stowe made a diving catch of his 15-yard pass in the end zone.

But everything else was defense. These were the evidences of the fierceness of it.

—Staubach was sacked seven times for losses totalling 45 yards before giving way to Morton because of a slight charley horse. Jurgensen was dropped five times for losses of 37 yards.

—Washington blocked one Dallas punt and two field goal attempts. The Cowboys blocked two field goal efforts by Curt Knight.

— Last year's conference rushing champion, Larry Brown, was held to 36 yards rushing on 18 attempts. The Cowboy front four stopped him twice with no gain on their own 10 early in the fourth quarter to take over the ball. Before Jurgensen hit Taylor, Brown had two cracks from the two. He made only one.

Cal, UCLA Are Stats Leaders

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California and UCLA dominate the offensive statistics and USC the defense after four weeks of play by Pacific Eight teams.

Figures released today show the Golden Bears are averaging 430.3 yards per game and UCLA 409.5. Nobody else has over 360.

The Bruins are rushing the ball at 324.3 yards per contest with runner-up Cal far back at 216.8. California tops the passing teams at 213.5 per game and UCLA is scoring at a 42.0 points per-game clip.

Defensively, USC has given up just five points per game, 268.3 yards per contest in total offense and 75.5 in passing. Winless Oregon has the stingiest rushing defense at 143.3.

Washington State

PULLMAN, Wash. — Sophomore Wally Bennett, Bellevue, Wash., will be the starting quarterback when Washington State opens its Pacific-8 conference season against Southern California at Los Angeles this Saturday.

"Wally has the experience of playing in reserve roles and we feel we must give him an opportunity to see what he can do in a starting situation," Head Coach Jim Sweeney said.

Bennett, a 6-foot-6, 200 pounder, completed 7-of-11 against Ohio State last week after being sent in late in the game.

In drills yesterday, Sweeney ran his club through a light workout in sweat suits and pads, finished the session with 40 yard windsprints and a weightlifting session.

Oregon State

CORVALLIS, Ore. — "We had a great effort against Southern California but what we need now is a win," said Oregon State Coach Dee Andros as his Beavers prepared for Saturday's Pacific 8 clash with Washington in Seattle.

OSU went through a light workout yesterday and reviewed the USC game films.

Sophomore split end Matt Hammack, nursing a shoulder bruise, was OSU's only casualty against the Trojans and will be out of the lineup for Saturday's game. But tight end Dave Hirneise and defensive tackle Lee Neilsen are both expected to rejoin the lineup after recovering from injuries.

Washington

SEATTLE — Washington "Butch" Keenan, Washington's starting linebacker, underwent surgery on his right knee yesterday to repair damage suffered Saturday during the Huskies' 54-49 loss to California and will be lost for the season.

The two-year letterman from Fresno, Calif., was hurt on the third play of the second period. Going into the Cal game, he was Washington's No. 3 tackler with 15 solo efforts and 12 assists and one fumble recovery.

Drake's Ingraham Stars Despite Many Injuries

By LEW CODDINGTON

Marvin (Corky) Ingraham of Drake High School has suffered a dislocated shoulder, 10 broken fingers, two broken toes, a concussion, partial paralysis, an eye injury and strained knee ligaments in his athletic career.

Instead of being in a hospital bed, however, Ingraham is most often found in the end zone, clutching tightly to the football and racking up six points for the resurgent Pirates.

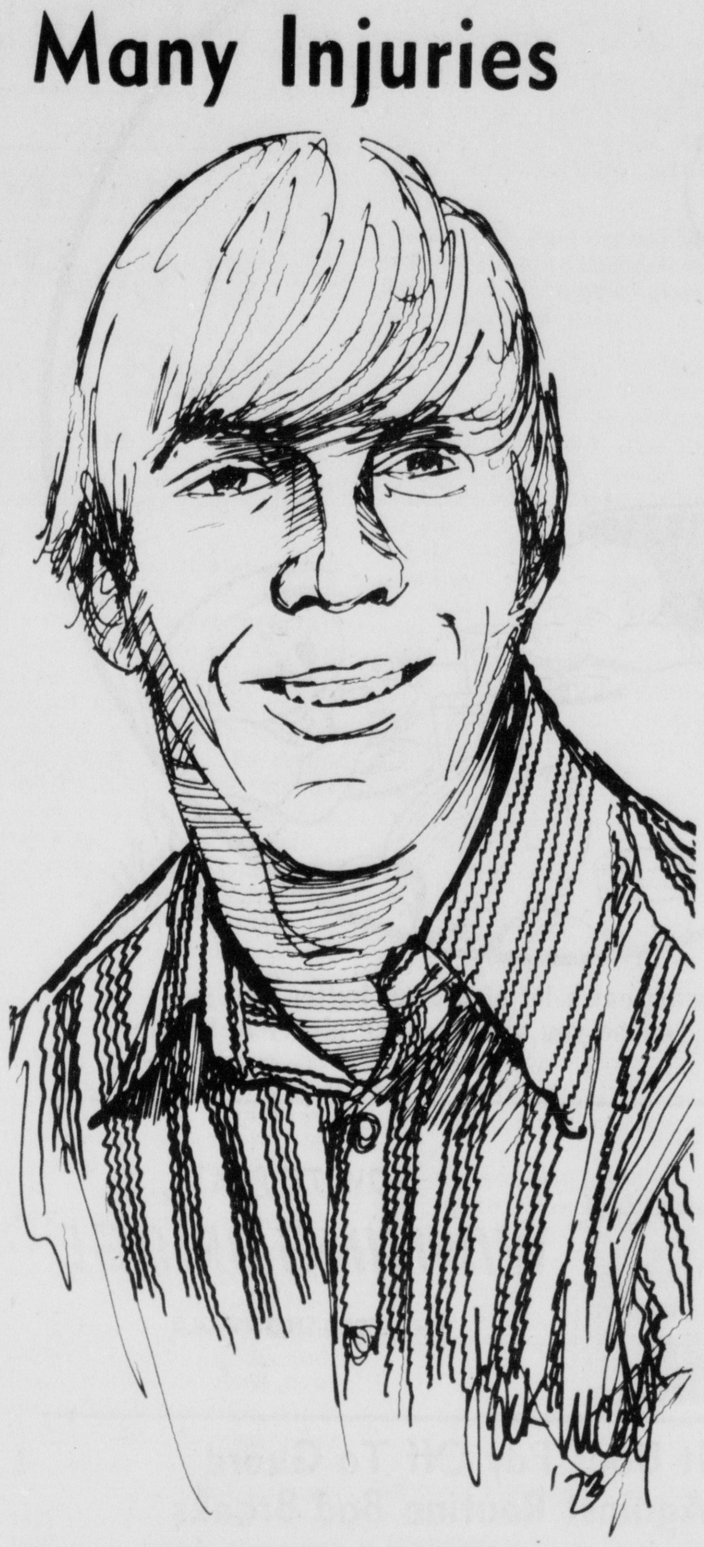
His performance Saturday, for which he was named Independent-Journal Prep of the Week, was an example. He caught five passes for 91 yards from quarterback Terry Fahey, including touchdowns of 16, 26 and 10 yards. He set up a fourth score by drawing a pass interference penalty, and had another T.D. reception called back. On defense, as a linebacker, he intercepted a pass and recovered a fumble. Small wonder Drake beat Tamalpais, 30-14.

"I love it," he said matter-of-factly, when asked why he keeps playing in spite of the injuries.

He has loved it for seven years, since he began his Pop Warner career as a guard. Converted to tight end his sophomore year while on the Drake junior varsity, the 190-pounder made all-Marin County Athletic League last year at the position.

"I'm happy with the switch," he says. "I still get the action on the line, plus a little glory, too."

In addition to the all-league honor, the glory included selection for the KTIM radio outstanding athlete banquet last spring. He was the first junior so honored.



MARVIN (CORKY) INGRAHAM

(Sketch by Jack Lucey)

Ingraham is also an outstanding wrestler, having finished fifth in the state in a tournament last spring, and a track star who runs the 440 and throws the shot and discus. He also was a seventh and eighth-grade basketball all-star in San Anselmo, but decided "I like wrestling better."

Ingraham has been contacted by several colleges, including the University of Oregon, and intends to continue football in college. An "average" student at Drake, he would major in criminology.

"A couple of years ago, my sister (Bernie, 16) was hit by a car, and I got to know the Fairfax police. I ended up riding around in their cars for a couple of months — all my friends thought I had been arrested."

Bernie and another sister, Kim, 14, are both competitive gymnasts. His father, Marvin Sr., 38, was a football player in his high school days —ironically for Tam.

The victory over Tam has the Pirates, who tied for last place in 1972 at 1-5, thinking of bigger things. "We will be contenders," says Ingraham. "If we beat Novato (Saturday), we'll go all the way."

Bavasi Believes Padres Will Likely Remain In San Diego

Combined AP & UPI

SAN DIEGO — San Diego Padres' president Buzzie Bavasi said yesterday he expects the National League baseball team to remain in San Diego — turning down a $12 million offer to move to Washington, D.C.

Bavasi, without commenting on reports that unnamed businessmen are planning to purchase 49 per cent of the club for $5 million, said the Padres' money problems will be nonexistent in the future.

"Now we're going to have the money to run a club the way it should be run," he said. "Baseball is going to be fun for me again.

"In the past couple of years we were offered Glenn Beckert by the Cubs, Felix Millan by the Braves, Dal Maxvill by the A's and brothers Felipe and Matty Alou. We had to turn them down because of their high salaries."

Bavasi is scheduled to meet today with San Diego officials to work on a new stadium arrangement. He is also concerned with changing the team's name, because the name Padres "always meant minor league" in San Diego.

Orioles Manager Earl Weaver and Davis admitted yesterday's rainout will provide the A's with a stronger Jim Hunter in the fifth game.

"This (rainout) isn't any break for us," said Weaver. "All it guarantees is that Hunter can pitch against us in the fifth game with three days rest. That's a plus for them."

Commented Davis: "Heck, Hunter's a strong boy. He could come back with only two days rest and probably do the job."

Weaver also revealed he will use righthander Doyle Alexander as a starter against the A's instead of coming back with lefty Dave McNally, who was bombed for seven hits and five runs on Sunday.

Alexander was 1-0 against the A's during the season. He worked 13 1-3 innings against the defending world champions and struck out five while walking three.

Second baseman Bobby Grich of the Orioles, hitless in seven at-bats in the playoffs, also welcomed the washout.

"I was bushed," he said. "It's been a long season and a long flight out here from Baltimore. With a day's rest, I should be a new man."

ATLANTA — Sandra Haynie, winner of Sunday's Lincoln-Mercury open at Alamo, and the $4,500 top prize, has risen from seventh to fifth on the Ladies Professional Golf Association 1973 money list, the LPGA said yesterday.

Miss Haynie has now won $47,353, moving her past Mary Mills, $46,441; and Carol Mann, $44,504.

PHOENIX, Ariz. — The National Basketball Association Phoenix Suns yesterday obtained Bob Christian from Atlanta in exchange for two future draft choices.

Secretariat Is Up To His Old Tricks

The 3-year-old Meadow Stable wonder horse, a cinch for Horse of the Year honors after winning Thoroughbred racing's triple crown this year, added the Belmont Park mile and a half record to his already lengthy list yesterday when he captured the $113,600 added Man O' War Stakes in 2:24 4-5.

Secretariat, who earlier this year became the first horse since Citation in 1948 to win the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes, made his debut on grass a sparkling one as he outdistanced turf specialist Tentam by five lengths. Big Spruce was third in the field of seven, another 2 ½ lengths back.

Secretariat, upset in his last start when he finished second to Prove Out in the Woodward Stakes, moved out to an early lead, settled into a groove and then pulled away in the last quarter mile under a hand ride from regular jockey Ron Turcotte. He carried 121 pounds, five less than Tentam, and returned $3.00, $2.40 and $2.20.

"He was just beautifully relaxed today," Turcotte said. "I let him go on his own in the front stretch after the break and he went to the lead. When Tentam came to him on the backstretch, I just chirped on him and he pulled out. It was the same at the head of the stretch. When Tentam came up. Secretariat took off."

His winning time was nearly a full second better than the previous Belmont Park record of 2:25 2-5 set by Drumtop in 1971.

Secretariat's next start and possibly his last before retiring to stud could be the Jockey Club Gold Cup at Aqueduct on Oct. 27. There is a possibility he may run in the D.C. International at Laurel, Md., in November to end his racing career.

Stablemate Riva Ridge, also entered in the Man O' War, was scratched by trainer Lucien Laurin. Laurin said Riva Ridge will run on the dirt next Monday at Aqueduct.

The victory was the eighth in 11 outings this year for Secretariat and brought his earnings this year to $767,649. Overall, he has won $1,224,053.

Warriors, Cavs In NBA Opener Tonight

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The Golden State Warriors, who made it all the way to the National Basketball Association Western Division final playoffs last year, open their new season tonight against the Cleveland Cavaliers.

The Warriors, only unbeaten team in this year's NBA exhibition play, head for Detroit tomorrow and then come home Saturday night to open their Coliseum Arena campaign against Milwaukee, the team the Warriors upset in first round playoff action last April.

Golfer Nicklaus A Straight Shooter

KINGS MILLS, Ohio (UPI)—Jack Nicklaus is widely known as a golfer. Yesterday, he showed himself to be a pretty straight shooter too.

Nicklaus, who turned the first annual Ohio-Kings Island Golf Tournament into a laugher, winning by six shots, refused to accept the $25,000 first prize.

He said he didn't think it would be right for him to "profit" from the tournament, which was held on the Jack Nicklaus Golf Center course and which he had been so instrumental in promoting.

Nicklaus turned the check back over to Charles Mechem, with $5,000 of it to go to the Boy Scouts of America and the other $20,000 to be used to start a scholarship fund at Ohio State University in the name of his father who died in 1970.

"I felt the whole motivation for me was to bring golf to the people of southwestern Ohio and for me to profit from the tournament would violate that motivation," said the Golden Bear, who owns half of the course and also helped in designing it.

The victory, Nicklaus' sixth of the year and 50th in a pro career which began in 1962, gave him the money winning lead for the year over Bruce Crampton, who did not compete.

Although the tournament ended yesterday, Nicklaus had all tucked neatly away at the end of Sunday's third round of the rain-delayed event, a round in which he shot a nine-under-par 62. It gave him a nine-stroke margin to carry into the final round.

Although he shot a one over par 72 in Monday's final round, he never led by less than five shots and birdied the final hole for a final six stroke margin over runnerup Lee Trevino.

Nicklaus, who had a 75 washed out Thursday when the round was postponed by rain, finished at 13 under par 271. Trevino, who was paired with Nicklaus and Tom Weiskopf in the final round, had a 68 Monday and a total of 277, while Weiskopf tied with young Andy North for third with 281.

Trevino, who said he felt "like a winner" after taking the battle for second place, picked up $14,250 for his effort, pushing him past the $200,000 mark in earnings for the third straight year.

Trevino said he wanted to win enough money in the Kings Island event to go over the $200,000 mark because it will be his final tournament in the U.S. this year.

Nicklaus made the turn yesterday in one under par 35 and was 15 under par for the tournament going to the 14th hole. But he bogeyed the next three.

Ski Group Meeting Slated Dec. 27

BRIDGESTONE
RD 170V STEEL RADIAL
RATED "BEST BUY" BY A CONSUMER PRODUCTS MAGAZINE

Cains has been telling people for 3 years that Bridgestone Steel Radial Tires are a super value. They wear about the same as Michelin or Pirelli, but cost less, therefore on a cost per mile basis, they are a better value. But if Pirelli or Michelin can be bought at close to the price of Bridgestone then they are a superior buy. (thats the other half of the coin)

THE BAD NEWS - Rides rougher, doesn't react to turning and braking as positively as Pirelli or Michelin.

MICHELIN - PIRELLI - DUNLOP - CONTINENTAL - SEMPERIT (DAYTON - FIRESTONE)
Michelin, Continental, Semperit and now Bridgestone have all gotten a number one rating from one magazine test or another. Doesn't that make you think that maybe Cains knows what they're doing, before the rest of the world know what their doing.
Buy at Cains we give you a choice + a bargain on the finest tires in the world - decided best by tests.

BRIDGESTONE

Cains has been telling people for 3 years that Bridgestone Steel Radial Tires are a super value. They wear about the same as Michelin or Pirelli, but cost less, therefore on a cost per mile basis, they are a better value. But if Pirelli or Michelin can be bought at close to the price of Bridgestone then they are a superior buy. (thats the other half of the coin)
THE GOOD NEWS - Very tough break resisting tire, good wear, great load carrying capacity.
THE BAD NEWS - Rides rougher, doesn't react to turning and braking as positively as Pirelli or Michelin.
Every car and driving habit can call for a different type tire. Thats why Cain sells such a variety of lines.
MICHELIN - PIRELLI - DUNLOP - CONTINENTAL - SEMPERIT (DAYTON - FIRESTONE)
Michelin, Continental, Semperit and now Bridgestone have all gotten a number one rating from one magazine test or another. Doesn't that make you think that maybe Cains knows what they're doing, before the rest of the world know what their doing.
Buy at Cains we give you a choice + a bargain on the finest tires in the world - decided best by tests.

ALMANAC

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Today is Tuesday, Oct. 9, the 282nd day of 1972 with 83 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning stars are Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus and Jupiter.

American evangelist Aimee McPherson was born Oct. 9, 1890.

On this day in history:

In 1701, Yale College—now Yale University—was founded.

In 1910, forest fires in northern Minnesota destroyed six towns with a loss of 400 lives and damage estimated at $100 million.

In 1958, Pope Pius the 12th died. He was the 261st pontiff of the Roman Catholic church.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

It Does Pay Off To Guard Against Routine Bad Breaks

"Does it really pay to play safe?" asks a correspondent. "In the typical case you're expected to make sure of your contract by giving up a trick that you could normally win. Don't all these extra tricks cost you thousands of points during the course of a year?"

TYPICAL CASE

Let's look at one of these typical cases to see how much more it would cost to neglect the safety play.

West leads the queen of clubs, and East wins with the ace. East very cleverly returns a heart, and West's king forces out dummy's ace. This removes the side entry to the long diamonds.

FOR EXTRA TRICK

If you want to play for the extra trick, you lead out the top diamonds. If the diamonds break well, you will take 11 tricks for a score of 660 points. When the diamonds break badly, however, you will probably go down, scoring minus 100 points.

If you want to play safe, after taking dummy's ace of hearts you return a low diamond from the dummy. This guarantees the contract. You will surely wind up with a score of 630 points.

QUESTION OF ODDS

The odds are 3-to-1 that the diamonds will break favorably. If you play the hand all-out four times, you figure to score 660 points on three occasions and to lose 100 points on the fourth hand. Your total score for all four hands is 1,880 points.

SCORING POINTS

Now let's suppose you take the same four hands and play them all safe. You score a sure 630 points each time. Your total score for all four hands is 2,520 points.

This should answer the question. It may not pay to ensure yourself against some fantastically unlikely bad break, but it does pay to guard yourself against routine bad breaks.

DAILY QUESTION

♠- K Q 10 6
♥- K 8 4
♦- 5
♣- Q J 9 8 6.
What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You have 11 points in high cards and may count two points for distribution, but you still don't have an opening bid. Beware of opening a borderline hand when you have no aces and when you are counting points for a suit headed by Q-J or worse.

Graphics Show

Burglary Count Plea Scheduled

Thomas Wade Ayers, 21, has been ordered to appear Thursday in Marin Municipal Court to plead to a charge of burglarizing a Woodacre residence Aug. 22.

Ayers, of 1318 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, was arraigned on the felony charge Thursday before Judge David R. Baty of Marin Municipal Court.

He is accused of taking a television set and tape recorder from the Kenneth D. Peterson home at 53 Conifer Way. A woman said to have helped him, Judy Soga, 20, of San Rafael, is awaiting trial in Marin Superior Court on a burglary charge.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Resource Fund Is An Inflation Beater

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. About two years ago I invested $3,000 in T. Rowe Price New Era Fund. Should I keep this investment as is? I now have $3,000 available and wonder if I should buy Alabama Power Pfd. — L.A.

A. Alabama Power, which is controlled by Southern Co. (NYSE), has two preferred issues outstanding, an $8.28 (NYSE) and a 4.20 per cent (ASE). Unless you are in need of additional income I would select some other type of investment vehicle. In fact, the New Era fund, with its policy of holding shares in companies with valuable natural resource assets or unique scientific and technological capabilities, etc., is a good choice in these inflationary times. The fund has an above-average performance record.

Q. We hold shares in Scudder Common Stock Fund. How is the return on this investment? Would it be wiser to have this money earning 5¾ per cent in a term account at the local bank? — M.D.

A. This particular no-load fund's objective is long-term growth of capital, primarily through common stocks. As of June 30, 1973, the portfolio consisted 94.5 per cent of common stocks with the balance in short-term notes. The current return from income distributions is a modest 2 per cent, although 18 cents a share in capital gains was paid earlier this year. Performance has been adequate, averaging +4.3 per cent annually over the decade ended last December. While the decline in net asset value over the first eight months of this year was more extensive than in the popular market averages, a good recovery has been achieved since that time.

The question of whether a term savings account would be wise depends entirely on your financial position. Obviously a fixed-return investment offers no protection against inflation. While common stocks do suffer setbacks, over a period of ten or more years a well-chosen portfolio will usually more than compensate for the decline in the value of the dollar. If you are in need of greater current income you should investigate exchanging your shares for Scudder's Balanced Fund.

Metric Costs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Conversion of the United States economy to the metric system would cost the steel industry about $2.1 billion and produce little benefit, according to the American Iron & Steel Institute.

The Market Is Mixed In Morning

NEW YORK (UPI) —The stock market, seeking direction after a series of big gains, was mixed today in fairly active trading.

Some profit taking has been expected by analysts. But they were particularly encouraged by yesterday's rally after the Dow had been off around 10 points in early trading. This showed the strength of the present market, they said.

International Harvester was the most active issue, up ½ at 35 ⅝ on 119,600 shares.

Prices were slightly higher in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Buttes Gas was the most active issue, off 1 at 27 on 53,600 shares.

Some Big Board oils eased. Exxon dropped 3 ⅛ and Halliburton 1 ½. But Superior Oil, which added 15 ½ yesterday, rose another 6.

Chemicals were mixed. Dupont, a component in the Dow, was off 3 ¼, Eastman Kodak 1 ⅜.

Among the glamors, Corning Glass gained 3 ½, Merck 2 ¼, and Bausch & Lomb 2. Schlumberger slipped 1 ¾, Polaroid 1 ¼, Upjohn 1.

Airlines were irregular. Flying Tiger advanced 1.

McCarthy Co. Plans Two New Marin Housing Developments

The McCarthy Co.'s Northern California Division announced it will build two more housing projects in North Marin, both of them single-family homes.

At Bel Marin Keys, McCarthy Co. plans 125 single-family homes in a development called Laguna Bel Marin. Three or four bedroom models, either one or two-story, will be priced from $49,000 to $60,000.

The other McCarthy development, called Vista Bahia, is an extension of the Bahia homes off Atherton Avenue in Novato. McCarthy will put up 40 new homes on a ridge with a view of Petaluma River to the northeast and Burdell Mountains to the southwest. Each Vista Bahia home will be a custom-designed, tri-level structure. Three-, four- and five-bedroom models will sell from $62,000 to $75,000.

Natural wood will be used extensively in both developments.

Angelina Montani

ANGELINA MONTANI of San Rafael retired this month after 31 years of service with J. C. Penney Company in San Rafael.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Resource Fund Is An Inflation Beater

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. About two years ago I invested $3,000 in T. Rowe Price New Era Fund. Should I keep this investment as is? I now have $3,000 available and wonder if I should buy Alabama Power Pfd. — L.A.

A. Alabama Power, which is controlled by Southern Co. (NYSE), has two preferred issues outstanding, an $8.28 (NYSE) and a 4.20 per cent (ASE). Unless you are in need of additional income I would select some other type of investment vehicle. In fact, the New Era fund, with its policy of holding shares in companies with valuable natural resource assets or unique scientific and technological capabilities, etc., is a good choice in these inflationary times. The fund has an above-average performance record.

Q. We hold shares in Scudder Common Stock Fund. How is the return on this investment? Would it be wiser to have this money earning 5¾ per cent in a term account at the local bank? — M.D.

A. This particular no-load fund's objective is long-term growth of capital, primarily through common stocks. As of June 30, 1973, the portfolio consisted 94.5 per cent of common stocks with the balance in short-term notes. The current return from income distributions is a modest 2 per cent, although 18 cents a share in capital gains was paid earlier this year. Performance has been adequate, averaging +4.3 per cent annually over the decade ended last December. While the decline in net asset value over the first eight months of this year was more extensive than in the popular market averages, a good recovery has been achieved since that time.

The question of whether a term savings account would be wise depends entirely on your financial position. Obviously a fixed-return investment offers no protection against inflation. While common stocks do suffer setbacks, over a period of ten or more years a well-chosen portfolio will usually more than compensate for the decline in the value of the dollar. If you are in need of greater current income you should investigate exchanging your shares for Scudder's Balanced Fund.

Metric Costs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Conversion of the United States economy to the metric system would cost the steel industry about $2.1 billion and produce little benefit, according to the American Iron & Steel Institute.

The Market Is Mixed In Morning

NEW YORK (UPI) —The stock market, seeking direction after a series of big gains, was mixed today in fairly active trading.

Some profit taking has been expected by analysts. But they were particularly encouraged by yesterday's rally after the Dow had been off around 10 points in early trading. This showed the strength of the present market, they said.

International Harvester was the most active issue, up ½ at 35 ⅝ on 119,600 shares.

Prices were slightly higher in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Buttes Gas was the most active issue, off 1 at 27 on 53,600 shares.

Some Big Board oils eased. Exxon dropped 3 ⅛ and Halliburton 1 ½. But Superior Oil, which added 15 ½ yesterday, rose another 6.

Chemicals were mixed. Dupont, a component in the Dow, was off 3 ¼, Eastman Kodak 1 ⅜.

Among the glamors, Corning Glass gained 3 ½, Merck 2 ¼, and Bausch & Lomb 2. Schlumberger slipped 1 ¾, Polaroid 1 ¼, Upjohn 1.

Electronics and computers were mixed. General Electric added 1. Burroughs gave up ¼.

Airlines were irregular. Flying Tiger advanced 1.

Acquisition

SANTA MONICA (BW) — Computer Machinery Corp. has completed the acquisition of Cipher Data Products Inc., San Diego, as previously announced April 26.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By WAT TAKESHITA

McCarthy Co. Plans Two New Marin Housing Developments

The McCarthy Co.'s Northern California Division announced it will build two more housing projects in North Marin, both of them single-family homes.

At Bel Marin Keys, McCarthy Co. plans 125 single-family homes in a development called Laguna Bel Marin. Three or four bedroom models, either one or two-story, will be priced from $49,000 to $60,000.

The other McCarthy development, called Vista Bahia, is an extension of the Bahia homes off Atherton Avenue in Novato. McCarthy will put up 40 new homes on a ridge with a view of Petaluma River to the northeast and Burdell Mountains to the southwest. Each Vista Bahia home will be a custom-designed, tri-level structure. Three-, four- and five-bedroom models will sell from $62,000 to $75,000.

Natural wood will be used extensively in both developments.

Angelina Montani

ANGELINA MONTANI of San Rafael retired this month after 31 years of service with J. C. Penney Company in San Rafael.

She started working in the yardage department at the San Rafael store on Oct. 26, 1942, and worked with five managers: John Bernards, Francis T. Fogarty, Charles W. Try, Daniel C. Knott and Ronald J. LeBlanc.

Campaign Started To Cut Down On Consumption Of Heating Oil

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House made public today a joint government-consumer energy saving campaign urging Americans to cut down on fuel consumption, particularly home heating oil which may be in short winter supply.

The campaign recommended turning down thermostats and installing weather stripping and insulation in homes.

President Nixon met with his energy adviser, John A. Love, along with Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton, Commerce Secretary Frederick Dent and other government specialists to coordinate a educational campaign.

"The outlook for this winter's fuel situation is tight," Love said in a statement submitted to the House Small Business Committee. "But that will be true not only of this winter, but over the next few years.

"We face the prospect of cyclical shortages of gasoline and heating fuels, and we must act now to prevent the situation from deteriorating further."

The effort, through various booklets and pamphlets, urges Americans to lower their home thermostats by four degrees this winter, a tactic which the White House said would save over 400,000 barrels of oil per day — enough to heat 2 million homes.

The White House said some progress already had been made by the government since Nixon requested that the federal government reduce its energy demand by 7 per cent and that consumers cut theirs by 5 per cent.

CULVER CITY, Calif. (UPI) -A baby that was the cause of a paternity suit against actor Chad Everett of the television series "Medical Center" was left at the entrance to MGM studios, reportedly with a note telling him to take care of it, police said yesterday.

Actress Sheila Scott, who has also appeared on "Medical Center," filed a paternity suit against Everett, alleging he fathered her son, Dale, born May 25. After five days of testimony last month, the judge dismissed the jury and ruled that Everett was not the father.

Ivory Coast Leader Welcomed By Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) —With the Middle East hostilities uppermost on his mind, President Nixon greeted Ivory Coast President Felix Houphouet-Boigny today and lauded the African leader for providing stability and peace in Africa.

Nixon, in welcoming remarks, said that the current Middle East crisis would be uppermost in the talks between the two leaders but added he did not expect the consultations to find any instant solutions to all the problems.

Houphouet-Boigny is the head of an African Moslem nation which retains diplomatic and extensive trade relations with Israel. Since the outbreak of the Middle East fighting over the weekend, the Ivory Coast has been under considerable pressure to break those relations.

"I come to you simply as a friend," the African leader told Nixon in French. "Long live the United States of America and long live our two peoples."

He said he looked forward to the discussions with Nixon and to carrying on a dialogue which he hoped would foster peace.

"Your leadership has meant stability and peace" in Africa, Nixon told Houphouet-Boigny.

Nixon also has planned an unofficial meeting with another African leader, Zaire President Mobuto Sese Seko, at the White House tomorrow.

The French speaking Ivory Coast president also will renew his friendship with Mrs. Nixon during his official visit. Houphouet-Boigny was host to Mrs. Nixon when she toured the Ivory Coast, Liberia and Ghana in January 1972.

State Department officials regard the Ivory Coast as an example that Moslem nations can have successful diplomatic relations with Israel.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger planned a luncheon in honor of Houphouet-Boigny today, to be followed by a black-tie dinner at the White House.

Sizes to Fit Most American Cars. Cold weather is hard on batteries. With a High Voltage battery from Sears, you get the power you need for quick, reliable starts.

GUARANTEE:
Free replacement within 90 days of purchase if battery proves defective. After 90 days, we will replace it with a new battery, if defective, charging only for the period of ownership. Your monthly charges for ownership will be computed by dividing the current selling price less trade-in at the time of return, by the number of months of guarantee.
